Without exception, so far as I am able to learn, the states that have engaged in the business have operated without profit, or at a loss, for a number of years after the institution of the respective plants. Experience also shows that it requires a very large sum to maintain the business, the state of Minnesota having invested last year about 1800,000, one of the items entering into this sum being personal notes aggregating loss carried 94 majority. swo,000, one of the items entering into this sum being personal notes aggregating 3667,000 received for the sale of twine. Our state is now receiving from the sale of convict labor more money than it could reasonably expect to make from a twine plant, at least for a number of years. The condition of the state finances, the large amount of money required for the operation of which the initial appropriation is only a beginning, the unsettled question as to whether hard fiber or soft fiber is the preferable material for twine manuas to whether hard fiber or soft fiber is the preferable material for twine manu-facture under present day conditions and the uncertainty of results are reasons which impel me to the belief that this is not an opportune time for the state to engage it such an enterprise and which causes me to withhold my approval.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP PRINCIPAL ISSUE

Defent of the Republican Candidate Due to Many Causes, Among Which is Personal Revenge.

CHICAGO, April 4 .- A political tornado oday overwhelmed one of the most ruggedly unique leaders in the country. Inidentally the republican party met defeat n a memorable effort to capture the mayoralty of Chleago. As a direct result the city is officially committed to the policy of the quickest possible ressation of private franchises for public utilities. Municipal ownership is especially threatening street car lines valued high in the mil-

After winning successfully four remarkable biennial fights of independents against the regular republican party organization, John Maynard Harlan, son of Associate Justice Harian of the supreme court of the United States, was today a loser as a re- defeated, publican candidate for mayor. The defeat is attributed to an extraordinary whirl of causes, starting with political revenge and taking in a wide sweep, embracing the most up-to-date socialism as a factor. The victor is Judge Edward F. Dunne, demo-

Appeals to fear of domination by con porate wealth appeared to sway many voters and perhaps more than any other affuence was incorrectly gauged by the republicans. Harlan had been savagety narassed during the campaign as the reputed representative of Wall street interests intent on fastening burdensome franchise grants upon the city. The republicans, however, had figured that the voters susceptible to appeals of this kind would support the socialist candidate, Collins, and that losses, if any, to the republicans would be more than made up by Engstrom and D. W. Hilsabeck, members | Harlan's old-time admirers among independent voters. Estimates, however, of ing $17,000 bonds for a new high school 50,000 votes as the total for Collins (socialist) fell woefully short.

Every pledge that I made during the campaign will be kept. Chicago wants municipal ownership and during my tenure of office it will be my aim to bring about such a condition as rapidly as possible. I will appoint a corps of engineers to make a survey of all the street railways in the city, so that we will know just how the city, when it secures control of the lines, will be able to handle the proposition. I believe that before many months we will see the city of Chicago owning and operating at least one street railway line. The traction question depends in a great measure on the action of the courts, but in cases where legal proceedings are pending I will endeavor to bring about an immediate settlement. It will be years before the city will come into possession of all the street railway franchises in Chicago the council to call a special election for voting ate settlement. It will be years before city will come into possession of all street railway franchises in Chicago, we will gradually assume control of different lines, and I believe the day come when the people will control all the street railway systems of the city.

GENERAL SAKAROFF TALKS

Former Adjutant General Says There Was No Conspiracy Against Kouropatkin.

PRIVATE SOLDIERS EQUAL JAPANESE

In Discussion of Affairs Officer Leads to Conclusion that Failure

Must Be Attributed to Lenders.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 4.-War Minister Sakaroff, in an interview today, declares that the reports of Russia countermanding orders for war material abroad are baseless and grow out of the declination of the foreign offers with which the war office and the admiralty have been swamped. He insists that there has been no relaxation in the preparations to con tinue the war, but says there will be no new mobilization at present, explaining, as stated in these dispatches, that 140,000 troops of the last mobilization have already started for the front and that instead of mobilizing new troops these will be followed by a portion of this year's con scripts.

General Sakaroff denied emphatically that he ever intrigued against General Kouropatkin, affirming that he gave the latter the most loyal support. At the same time, in discussing the battle of Mukden, Sakaroff declared the men and material of the Russian army were equal to those of the Japanese, forcing the reluctant conclusion that the Japanese generalship was superior to the Russians.

In denying the popular impression that a large proportion of army reserve men were sent to the front, Sakaroff made the important admission that reserve men were only sent in the early stages of the war, "before we had assurances from Europe," which is interpreted as a confession that an arrangement was made with Germany for covering the frontier of Poland.

War to Continue. The announcement that President Roose

trip is accepted here as evidence that the efforts to draw Russia and Japan into peace negotiations have come to grief for the moment. No definite explanation of exactly what happened is forthcoming, but the general impression is that Japan either declined to treat upon the Russian basis or demanded a direct avowal that there was a pacific disposition. At any rate the advocates of a continuation of the war eems secure of their position and everything indicates that the hope of an immediate change of fortune is staked on Vice Admiral Rojestvensky whose squadron, according to the best information, is now actually on its way to meet the Japanese. The admiralty is greatly encouraged by the prospects that Rojestvensky will be able to defeat Admiral Toga owing to the splendid reports which have just arrived here from Rojestvensky dated from the island of Madagascar recounting in detail the condition of the ships and personnel and the results of the target practice of the squadron and of the maneuvers in which the warships have been drilling for three months.

makes you wish to dedicate statues like this of Jefferson, like the great statue of Chy inside the court house. It is a fine thing to keep to a sense of historic continuity with the past, and there is one statue that I wish the member in the national congress from Kentucky to see is put up by the national government, and that is the national statue of Andrew Jackson and the victors of the battle of New Orleans. The fight at New Orleans was one in which the whole nation has a care, as far as the glory and the profit went, and the whole nation, and not any one state should join in putting that statue up. clock NEW ALBANY, Ind., April 4.-The pres ident's train crossed the Ohio river into Indiana at New Albany, four miles below Louisville. ### difficulties, we are fundamentally one (applianse). For in the question of foreign and internal politics, the points on which there can be no proper division on party lines, infinitely exceed in number those on which there can be such division, and, Governor Beckham, I shall do all that in me lies to justify the hope to which you have given expression and to try to show myself the president of all the people of the United States. (Prolonged applause.) And, naturally, I feel particularly gratified at seeing here today joined in this procession the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray. (Laughter and applause.) In the dark days—now, just keep as quiet as you can; you won't be able to do anything more than to see me—anyhow. (Laughter and applause.) Laughter and applause.) In the dark days, each of you fought for the right as it was given him to see the right, (a voice "that's right"), and each of you has left us the right to feel pride not only in your valor; but in your devotion to what you conscientiously believed your duty.
