

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Unusually Large Amount of Building in Progress at Present Time.

PROSPECTS FOR MORE IN THE FUTURE

Work on the New Elevator is Progressing Favorable and Concrete for the Foundation Now Being Put In.

Building in South Omaha is going on at a rapid rate just now. Permits are being issued every day and a big increase over April of last year is looked for by the building inspector.

Every day the business in the building inspector's office grows and the inspector is kept moving about all the time looking after construction work in all parts of the city.

A great deal of repair work is being done without securing permits. This is confined mostly to shingling buildings and the repairs to roofs.

Few carpenters and brick masons are idle these days and the demand for good carpenters and handlayers of the trowel is increasing.

HUSSIE'S HOUSE RANSACKED

Daylight Burglars Thoroughly Overhaul the Hardware Man's House.

LITTLE GIRL'S BANK AFFORDS LOOT

Many Valuables Overlooked, but a Carefully Hoarded Stock of Pennies is Taken by the Burglarious Marauders.

Burglars of unusual daring robbed the house of Maurice D. Hussie, 342 Lafayette avenue, Thursday. In order to enter the house, which stands in a well populated neighborhood, they broke the lock on the cellar door in broad daylight, went in through the basement and took out a panel in the door at the head of the stairs to the kitchen. They got away with $125 worth of jewelry.

Among the spoils was a toy bank containing $3.25 in pennies, which belonged to little Helen Hussie, 6 years old. For months she had been saving the money by getting pennies from her father whenever he happened to have any in his pocket. He had told her that when she had saved $4 he would take all the pennies and give her a $5 bill. With the bill she expected to buy an Easter lily for her mother and use the remainder to purchase a large flag for decorating the front porch on the Fourth of July. She is almost heartbroken over her loss.

The thieves secured one watch, two chains, a stickpin and several rings. They overlooked a watch, a diamond stickpin and $5 in money. A lot of silver plate, which Mrs. Hussie had just purchased, but which had not yet been engraved with her name, they examined, but did not carry away. The fact that they left so many valuables leads to the belief that they were amateurs.

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon the family went away and when they returned the house had been robbed. Mrs. Hussie was inclined to the belief that the thieves were boys, some who knew the members of the family and had seen them all leave. A neighbor, however, said she saw two men prowling in the rear of the house, one of them a white man and the other a negro. One carried a gunny sack. The police are looking into the matter.

GORDON GOES AFTER ELLER

Perpetual Police Judge Now Seeks to Collect from Attorney Money Gained from City.

Samuel I. Gordon is suing in the district court to recover from J. W. Eller the sum of $4,775.15 and in the same petition asks that Mr. Eller be required to show cause why he should not be disbursed from the practice of the law.

This suit is an aftermath of the case of the State of Nebraska ex rel S. I. Gordon, relator, against Frank E. Moore, mayor of the city of Omaha, Mr. Gordon recovered a judgment against the city for $2,500, of which he collected all but $1,900. He alleges that he had employed Mr. Eller as attorney and had paid many good fees, also that he had served notice on Eller that he need not consider himself retained as such an attorney after a certain date. It is also set forth that Eller was warned not to try to collect the $1,900 from the city, but that he did so nevertheless.

Plaintiff alleges that for the purpose of securing a debt due he had transferred the sum of $1,900 to the account of J. W. A. Gordon and that due notice of this fact was served on Eller. Notwithstanding he was paid all that was coming to him from S. I. Gordon, as alleged, Eller did secure payment of the warrant from the city treasurer by representing himself as Gordon's attorney and by signing Gordon's name to the warrant as such alleged attorney. Unlawful conversion and use of the sum named is therefore alleged, and the courts are asked to make Mr. Eller show cause as stated.

The motion to show cause is set for hearing before Judge Sears on Saturday, April 15.

DATE FOR OMAHA HORSE SHOW

Officers of Exhibition Decide on Time and Other Details for Display.

The Auditorium will be turned into a tan bark arena, decked with red and white, on Monday, October 9, and the show will continue the entire week. The association has every reason to believe that the show this year will be as much better and as much more successful than the one of last year as a second year should always advance from a first attempt. The show will be under the control and direction of the same people who made it a success last year, and the officers of the association believe they will have some very handsome and numerous entries.
