SNOWSTORM STOPS THE GAME

Omaha-Milwaukee Contest Comes to Sudden Close.

PROMISED TO BE A WORTHY EXHIBITION

Visitors Had Scored Twice When the North Wind Turned to a Bligsard and Put an End to Proceedings.

A game of base ball that had all the earmarks of developing into an excellent exhibition of national sport was called at Vinton street park yesterday afternoon in the second half of the fourth inning on account of a furious but short-lived flurry of snow. The Milwaukee American association team was playing an exhibition game with the Omaha champions and the senre stood 2 to 0 for the visitors when Managers Rourke and Cantillon got together, looked at the falling snow and then made motions to Umpire Sanders, who dismissed the meeting. Then Manager Rourke gave out snow checks.

Both teams started the game at a lively clip, the first two innings yielding two hits and no runs for each team. In the third Hemphill scored one for the Brewers by getting to third, when Thomas let Schipke's throw pass him and then ran in on a passed. ball by Gonding.

A two-base hit by O'Brien, a single by Wolfe and McKay's fielders' choice in the fourth netted the visitors one run, made by O'Brien. With two outs and two on bases in the fourth Gonding came to bat, but did not have his time out, the wintry blast having developed into a young blizzard. The same teams will play at Vinton street this afternoon, the game being called at 3:39. Attendance, 300. The score: OMAHA.

New York Wins Again.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—New York won the second game of the series from Washington today, 4 to 0. Very cold weather took all the vim out of both teams and they gave an almost mechanical exhibition of base ball. Washington was unable to hit Orth. In an endeavor to knock down a liner Orth injured his right hand. Powell finished the inning, when the game was called on account of darkness. Attendance, 4,002. Score:

A friend persuaded me to take AEG-AN-IURN and I found it so pleasant to take and it helped me so much that I am still taking it, and feel a thousand times better. HE principle upon which Toriscus Lenses are made is not a new one, but the method of grinding them heretofore employed has made their price prohibitive to the average wearer of glasses.

About Toriscus Lenses

TORISCUS LENS

Established in

Omaha Denver Kansas City Salt Lake City

We have recently perfected automatic machinery for grinding Toriscus Lenses and are thus enabled to reduce the price to figures within the reach of all. Toriscus Lenses are ground upon steel tools of a deep curvature, which is identical with the arc described by the movements of the eyeball rotating within its socket; thus one's view through the lens is always at right angles to the lens surface. This feature, by reducing spherical aberration, contributes clearness of definition, acuteness of perception and increased eye comfort. Toriscus Lenses, owing to their deep concavo-convex shape, admit of being set closer to the eves of the wearer than the old form without touching the eye lashes. This fact, besides giving a wider view-angle, or enlarged field of vision, always does away with "seeing the edges," which is so annoying to many persons. The same optical effect is produced by the outer edges of the Toriscus Lens as is obtained from its center, as each portion of the lens is more equidistnat from the eye and meets the line of vision at right angles to its surface. Among its best features is the absence of reflection of light into the eyes of the wearer. Toriscus Lenses are especially enjoyed by those engaged in any of the sports, such as golf, billiards, bowling, tennis, riding, driving, etc. You can secure additional eye comfort by wearing them. Any combination of lenses can be ground in Toriscus shape and made in our own factory.
