A HAIR INVIGORATOR Just what its name implies. It supplies nourishment, the elements of growth, which, when absorbed by the hnir, strengthens and beautifies it in the same way that sap giorifies the foliage of a true. Even when the follicles are scemirgly dead, if the scalp is massaged daily with Mnie. Yale's Hair Tonic a vigotous growth will be produced. It has houestly carned its title of "the great hair grower." It stimulates the most stunted growth and makes the hair uny inficently healthy and beautiful.

MME. YALE'S HAIR TONIC

is prized equally by men and women, particularly when the hair begins to weaken or fade. Cures baldness, gray-ness, splitting of the hnir, dandruff and all diseases of the hair, scalp and beard, One application stops hair falling. - A nursery requisite; no mother should neglect to use it for her boys and gitts; when the hair is made strong in chudhood it remains proof against disease and retains its vigor and youthfulness throughout life.

Fencing of Yards and Laying New Tracks to Increase Capacity Will Require Employment of Many Men.

Since the fencing of the railroad tracks in the yards has commenced there is a great deal of speculation regarding the improvements the Union Pacific contemplates. Anyone at all familiar with the rallroad business in South Omaha knows more tracks are needed. That additional study. tracks will be laid this year is a certainty now that the railroad company is fencing along its right-of-way. From 'N street south to Q street some waiting tracks will be laid, and preparations are being made to do some grading south of the Q street viaduct east of the present Union Pacific main line. By grading out the bluff the railroad will find room for a number of storage tracks. Just as soon as ground can be acquired north of the L street viaduct tracks from the summit will be laid. It appears to be the general impression that the main line tracks from L to Q streets will be straightened. Six storage tracks from F to L streets are to be laid, these tracks to hold from twelve to twenty cars. The Union Pacific repair tracks north of L street are to be moved a point south of Q street, near the new scale which is located between Q and R streets. This change will obviate the necessity of delaying passenger trains going through the Mikado, and Lisben, as Koko, will furnish yards and also relieve the congested condition of the yards between L and Q streets. These yards are filled all the time with cars and delays occur every, hour of the day. As it is now, trains must take their turns in switching. The additions to the trackage facilities will do away with delays almost entirely. Plans for a new passenger depot have not matured yet, or at least if they have been adopted officlais of the company are keeping the matter quiet. From all indications railroad building in South Omaha this year will further undertook to establish the fact that show a big increase over former years.

The Eckstrom Damage Suit. Lena and Carl Eckstrom have commenced suit against the city for damages amounting to $7,000. Lena Eckstrom declares that a defective sidewalk near Twenty-fourth and A streets caused her to fall on the evening of November 18, 1904. For her injuries she wants the city to pay her $5,000. Her husband, Carl, comes in with a claim for $2,000 on account of being deprived of the services of his wife for a few weeks. Both of these claims were referred to the city council some months ago and in turn sent to the city attorney for investigation. The city attorney declared in writing that neither claimants had any case against the city and the

of these cases yesterday, City Attorney Lambert said that the cases would most likely be disposed of in the district court, but in case of an adverse decision the city would take an appeal to the supreme ourt. Photographs of the alleged defective sidewalk were taken as soon as the city authorities learned that a woman had reported that she had been injured. These photographs will be used when the cases ome up for trial.

Announcements of the Theaters. In organizing his company to sing grand opera in English Henry W. Savage was animated first by a desire to put the best of music before the public in a way that would be appreciated and would tend to popularize it with the people. Then he American singers have no need to 'masquerade as foreigners to secure a hearing. It has been notorious that America has given to the world some of its greatest vocalists, but the recognition that has been accorded them at home has come usually after success abroad. It is the idea of Mr Savage that this is not necessary, but that talent should be absolutely certain of rec-

The present organization is a strong one, comprising some of the best known singers as soloists and a strong chorus, completely made up of Americans. The operas presented are the best, selected from the greatest work of the composers whose names stand high in the annals of fame. The four to be presented in Omaha are those that will best show the capability of the company and which have teen proven by experience to be the most popular. This evening, the opening night, Wagner's "Lohengrin" will be sung; on Friday evening Bizet's "Carmen," always a favorite, will be the bill; Saturday for the matinee Wagner's "Tannhauser" will be given, and the engagement will close on Saturday night with Verdi's "Il Trovatore."
