

MEETING OF NORMAL BOARD

Absence of One Member Will Probably Delay Selecting Superintendent.

FOWLER MAY BE GIVEN KEARNEY PLACE

Lieutenant Governor McGilton Acting Chief Executive During the Absence from the State of Governor Mickey.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, April 20.—(Special.)—Treasurer Mortensen and Superintendent McBrine left tonight for Peru to attend the meeting of the State Normal board tomorrow.

It is probable that the board will not take up the matter of selecting a superintendent for the Kearney Normal because Rev. L. P. Ludden, a member of the board, is absent in New York, and for the first time will necessarily be absent from the board meeting.

Incidentally, the board might consider at this meeting, or some future meeting, the principalship of the Peru Normal, now held by Superintendent Crabtree.

At the time of the election of Crabtree, Major, in the presence of Clark, made this remark to the board:

"This board can now congratulate itself on having a man for principal who is our kind."

Lincoln members of the board feel that in letting out Clark at the demand of Major they lost a splendid educator for the state, and are now seriously considering getting him back in some kind of a post. The feeling of the majority of the board now is so intense against the minority that it would take very little urging to have them put Clark back in his old place and let out Crabtree, whom Major says is his kind.

McGilton Acting Governor.

It is Acting Governor McGilton now instead of Lieutenant Governor McGilton, and he is in the part with dignity and grace, filling every nook and corner of the chair made vacant by the absence of Governor Mickey, who is in Texas for an eight-day trip.

Mr. Clark is now selling life insurance in South Dakota and has made application for a chair in the Kearney Normal school. He will in all probability secure this position, if nothing better.

RAIN OF OLD-FASHIONED KIND

Western Country from River to Mountains is Thoroughly Drenched.

SOAKING SHOWER FOLLOWED BY HIGH WIND

Omaha Gets a Deluge, but Very Little Damage is Reported as Result of the Down-pour.

Rain, That's all!

A soft sifting down of gentle vapor began about 10 o'clock on Wednesday evening and by 7 o'clock Thursday evening had piled up a total of 2.43 inches of rain. It was not a continuous downpour. Some of the time water fell as if the floodgates had been opened, and then for hours the stream was turned off.

The shower is general all over the west. In Wyoming and western Nebraska it took the form of snow and telegraph wires to Cheyenne were down all day. South Dakota also got some snow, and communication to the north was badly interrupted.

New Drainage Works Well.

Assistant City Engineer Craig, after the heavy downpour noted, said: "I have just completed an inspection of North Sixteenth streets and the hill streets leading to it and find that the new system of intercepting storm-water sewer inlets put in last fall work perfectly. They demonstrated that they are capable of taking off the torrents of water that flowed down from the hills and proved that the manner of laying the lines and the construction of the intersections does not cause the flooding of business houses, as was feared.

No Damage Done.

At a late hour yesterday there were no reports of damage from rain, although there was a large quantity of water on the ground in parts of the wholesale district and in low portions of the city near the railroad tracks.
