Rock Island Plow Company Gets Its Location in Omaha.

BUSINESS TO OPEN HERE IN AUGUST

Two Upper Floors of the Avery Building Leased for Headquarters of Plow Company Now Located at Council Bluffs.

After August 1, 1905, the western branch of the Rock Island Plow company, now located in Council Bluffs, will remove to Omaha. A deal to this effect has just been consummated with the Avery Plow company, which the Rock Island Plow company will occupy the entire two upper floors of the big Avery building on South Tenth street.

The Rock Island Plow company has been seeking an entrance to Omaha for some time, in order to avail of the better shipping facilities and to be nearer the heart of the great wholesale center of the west. The deal has been under consideration for some time between Mr. Shredman, manager of the western branch of the Rock Island Plow company at Council Bluffs and J. McWhorter, Omaha manager for the Avery Plow company. F. A. Head, general manager of the Rock Island Plow company of Rock Island was in Omaha recently looking over the ground and came to the conclusion that the Avery building, if a portion of it could be procured, was the best location in Omaha for the purposes of his company. A five-year lease has just been entered into and approved by C. M. Avery, president of the Avery Manufacturing company, and the new arrangement will go into effect August 1, the lease running for five years.

The floor space capacity is 40,000 feet on both floors, which will give the new concern ample room. The company will make this city its general wholesaling point for the entire west, removing its entire establishment from Council Bluffs. The company will employ four traveling men and an office force of eight persons. Manager Shredman now has his home at Lincoln, but will remove to Omaha, making his home here with his family.

The work of rearranging the upper floors of the Avery building for the new company will begin at once.

ARMY NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Notes from Headquarters.

Forty recruits have been enlisted this week by the regular army recruitment station in this city during the month of April. This represents only about half of the applicants. The duty of applications for enlistment is owing to the reduction in the age limit from 21 to 18 years. Thirty-two of the applicants for enlistment are young men between 18 and 21 years, and some few who have reached the maximum limit of 35 years. The cause of the reduction in the age limit is the examinations required and the inability of many applicants coming up to the requisite standard in all other respects, but the of the requisite height as compared with age and weight.

TANGIER TEMPLE'S BIG TIME

Nobles of Mystic Shrine Will Gather at Oasis of Omaha Wednesday.

MUCH HAS BEEN ARRANGED FOR VISITORS

Water Works Will Work Overtime the Next Day and High School and Public Library Will Be Open.

Wednesday, April 26, from the rising of the sun until the going down of the same, and for several hours thereafter, has been set aside for the long-expected ceremonial session of Tangier temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Local Forecaster Welsh, in conjunction with the Seer of Paramee, predicts severe seismic disturbances, accompanied by "funnel shaped" clouds and a constant succession of dull thunders. Wearers of the red fez will be so numerous that a lurid glare will be cast over the entire city from Twelfth street to Dundee and from Sheely to the water works (which latter, incidentally, will be shut down all day and will open Thursday "the day after," at double pressure). Special caravans of nobles with their ladies innumerable are enroute from Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Joseph, Kansas City, Denver, Sioux Falls, Lincoln, Sioux City, Des Moines and Chicago, with hundreds of anxious scattered ones for whom trains are so slow will wisten on foot across the country. The bravest and handsomest members of Tangier temple will meet all trains and escort visitors to the Her Grand headquarters, where the ladies will be afforded an opportunity to rest and the nobles will visit the public library and high school.

At 10 o'clock will occur the business session at the Masonic temple and at 1 o'clock all the nobles will meet for the ceremonial session and slaughter of candidates. The roof of the Masonic temple has been raised eighteen feet for this occasion and much blood and lamentation are confidently expected. In the meantime all the ladies (visitors and those from Tangier) will repair to the Orpheum theater for a special matinee in their honor. The Thirtieth infantry band will play continuously all day, except ten minutes for lunch and siesta at 1:45 p. m. The nobles, the stricken candidates in litter and all the women folk will bring up to the Auditorium at 3:30 for a grand reception and ball. The Auditorium will be beautifully decorated and the function in every detail will be the most elaborate ever planned by the shrine. The ladies, it is expected, will so far as convenient alter the new custom of donning the white fez.

FIGHT SPECIAL SIDEWALK TAX

Property Owners Ask that Assessment Be Stopped by the District Court.

Nellie A. Rex and seventeen other property owners in the Orchard Hill and Shinn areas have petitioned the district court to stop the sidewalk tax. The district court has declared null and void certain assessments for permanent sidewalks. The petitioners also ask for a restraining order and temporary injunction to keep the city from even attempting to collect the tax. The allegation on which the application for stoppage is based is that, while the streets where the sidewalks are to be laid were once at grade they are not now, because of being washed away. It is further alleged that 106 of the city charter has not been complied with by the city council.

MANY OWNERS FOR PROPERTY

Referees in Partition Case Recommend Sale and Division of the Price Between Parties.

Thomas H. Pell, John A. Rine and Charles T. Dickinson, referees in the case of Elizabeth B. Mackey and others against Jesse Reeves and others have reported to the district court that they cannot make a partition of the property involved without great prejudice to the owners of the land involved. This embraces several lots in Omaha and some farm land in Douglas county. The referees have found that there are thirty-three owners in common of the property, and they recommend that all the property be sold and a division of the proceeds be made by the court.

JUVENILE COURT SESSION.

There was no session of the juvenile court Saturday morning, because of Arbor day being a legal holiday. Judge Day had several cases to be disposed of, but they were all over the case is that of a young girl of South Omaha, who has been charged with stealing a bicycle.

FEW FOWLS COMING TO TOWN

Market for Birds is Strong with Light Receipts and a Steady Local Demand.

There was a broil and a lot of excitement in the vicinity of Eleventh and Howard streets Friday. The police did not interfere because it was all according to law. It was one of the first cargoes of spring broilers to come in for the Omaha market. The tender little chicks are the offspring of an incubator farm over in Iowa, somewhere, and were brought here by a delegation and considerable enthusiasm. They are not the first spring chickens received, but they are almost the first. There were only two dozen. It will be at least sixty days before enough Nebraska chicks come in to supply the home market in any sort of a regular manner. The birds are coming a little earlier now, but the fresh stock is confined to the rather portly hens of the sort which make splendid soup.

The desirable sizes are largely confined for the present to the home stock, which, by the way, is very good. There are a few ducks, but not many, and they cannot be obtained in number before the end of the laying season. There is no sort of game bird to be had now, for the wild duck season closed April 15. It is up to the squab now.

Another bird that is getting hard to shoot is the oyster. The cool, seasonable weather we have been having has helped the oyster in his business a great deal and unless there is a sudden heating up of the day the oyster will stay fairly well for another week. May 1, however, the oyster goes on his vacation. The celery may be said to be all gone. There is a very little on the market, but it is not choice, and it will not last more than a few days. There is to be a hatchery between this, even, and the appearance of the new celery in summer.
