Retail Grocery Drivers Strike. No decided increase in the number of men on strike was made today. The most important accession to the teamsters being the drivers of the delivery wagons of retail grocery stores. These declared that they would in no case call for goods at any isted. As teamsters are on strike at practically every wholesale grocery in the city the apparently visible supply of food for the citizens of Chicago is limited to the stocks now held in the retail groceries. The retail drivers also declared that they would refuse to handle meat if any strike occurred in the stock yards. So far there has been no trouble in this direction, although it has been directed from day to day by the labor lenders that the stock yards drivers would come out. The packers expressed themselves as confident of being able to avoid any trouble. On the whole, the food supply of the city has been in no manner abridged, although the commission merchants who handle fruits and fresh vegetables have lost very heavily because of the inability of the express companies to handle their shipments for them. The amount they are able to bring into the city by freight is increasing, but it does not in any degree correspond to the total amount of receipts under usual oncitions. There was a slight upward movement today in eggs, vegetables and drove home a wedge into the ranks of the Chicago Team Owners' association. This latter organization is composed of men wh do teaming for many of the large business houses and particularly in the matter of hauling coal. They have fought shy so far of aiding the employers to the extenof making deliveries on their contracts, going to the length of asking employers to refrain from requesting them to haul con or other njerchandise and asserting that if their men were stopped while on the streets there was nothing for them to do but to return to the barn. The employers this afternoon informed the team owners and continue to make them from this time on. The question of coal was becoming vital in the struggle and they did not pro pose to be crippled while contracts existed which entitled them to a full delivery according to their needs. The five largest team owning companies were informed that if coal was not delivered all of their contracts would be cancelled at once, and they would not be renewed at any time hereafter, strike or no strike. The team owners agreed to make deliveries as de-

Two Riots Last Night.

Two serious riots took place last night. The first was at the intersection of Harrison and Des Plaines street, where a mob containing many women, and numbering fully 2,000 attacked a crowd of sixteen nonunion men who were being taken to the depot under the guard of a squad of police. Stones and missiles of all kinds were hurled at the men, and it was with great difficulty that the police were able to protect the men from the crowd. Several of the nonunion men were injured with stones, many of the mob suffered broken heads from the clubs of the police. A number of arrests were made.

The second fight took place at Twentyecond and State streets, when a crowd attacked four coal wagons, which, under the guard of eight private detectives which were returning to the yards of the Daniels company after making the delivery of coal at a nearby plant. The nonunion men were pelted with stones thrown from the second story of a building which they

BOARD NOT READY TO MOVE

Two Matters of School Administration Laid Over for Debate.

EVENING SPENT IN EXCHANGE OF IDEAS

Resolution to Dispense with Custodian of Supplies and to Employ an Architect for the Vinton School Postponed.

An effort was made last night at the meeting of the Board of Education to abolish the office of custodian of supplies at the expiration of the term of the incumbent, E. F. Grimes, July 31, but upon the protest of Member Detweiler and others that the action was radical and should be taken only upon full consideration, action on the resolution, which was offered by the committee on buildings and public property, was deferred two weeks. To perform the work of the custodian it was proposed to have the teachers' supplies delivered from the office of the superintendent of instruction and the janitors' supplies from the office of superintendent of buildings.

After an argument it was agreed, on the motion of Member McCague, to appoint a special committee to be composed of the superintendent of instruction, superintendent of buildings and chairman of the buildings committee to make a thorough investi gation as to the number of rooms needed and general requirements demanded in th new Vinton school, and to report facts and recommendations to the board in September. Another resolution on the subject, emanating from the buildings committee to the effect that the matter of selecting an architect for the school be postponed instrikers no encouragement other than definitely, owing to the lack of funds to begin construction of the buildings, also was adopted. This defers any immediate action on the vexed questions of plans and who shall draw them for the school.

> Building Fund's Limit. Member McCague, chairman of the finance committee, said there would be only about $5,000 in the building fund this year after the Beals school and the additions at Clifton Hill are paid for, and that it would the Vinton school unless bonds are issued. He thought it much better at the present time to investigate carefully the needs of the district so as to determine the proper size of the school before anything is done toward securing plans. A discussion of the extent to which the ccupied the most of the afternoon. Everybody seemed willing to do something, but sary display of force. there was a difference of opinion as to what the club could afford to give. The treasurer reported that after all bills are paid there will be about $50 in the club here is a reserve fund of $1.635, to which will be added about $50 in interest. The evident unwillingness to draw upon the reserve fund finally led to a motion that Southwick of Emerson School of Oratory be engaged to appear under the auspices of the club and the proceeds be turned over to the playground fund. This was put to a vote and though there was no negative response, scarcely half a take the resources for three years to build dozen voted in the affirmative, and the chairman, after deciding it carried, reopened the question and there was general expression of opinion. There was general objection to entertainments or the selling of tickets for anything, and as Mr. South wick could not come until the latter part of June it was finally decided to borrow board, motions and countermotions, which $150 from the club treasury to be given to the playground committee at once, and in the fall give some kind of benefit to make back the amount.

Each of those present last evening gave his views on the subject.

General favor was shown the proposal that the club nominate one or more candidates for the city council and if these are elected, "to see that the member does his It was proposed that the club duty." should as a body take more specific interest in each other and in politics, the first so that members should find it to their advantage to belong to the club and the second for the purpose of inducing more distinct recognition of the young men as valuable factors in the affairs of the city.

The discussion did not favor the idea of onfining the influence of the club to furthering the interests of such of the candidates of the party as the club might endorse, but rather to have a candidate of its own on whom the club can concentrate its influence and its votes. It was suggested by those who discussed the subject last night that once the club had a candidate it could call its own, there would be much greater interest taken by the members, and the vote they could swing for their man would astonish everybody. It was suggested that it would be to the best interests of the club to keep clear of the fights and differences that have divided the party heretofore. Every member present last night was elected a committee of one to do all the boosting he is capable of to stir up interest in future meetings of the club and majesty. An important deputation of old to get to the weekly dinners a more general attendance.

MPROVEMENT CLUB MEETINGS

Central Park and North Omaha Debate Matters of Local and General Inferest.

The Central Park Improvement club is onsiderably elated over securing several but the forerunner of other good things to come in the improvement ding. Some little disappointment was expressed over the location of some of the lights, but the fact of getting them is a sufficient subject for congratulation.

At the meeting last night, which was very argely attended, the street grading and sidewalk improvement question was discussed from numerous points of view. Ames avenue between Forty-sixth and Forty-eighth streets, Forty-second street and Fortieth street between Grand and Fowler avenues and Fort street were mentioned as in need of material improvement. The sanitary committee entered a protest against the grove on Fowler avenue between Forty-second and Forty-third streets being made a dumping ground for dead animal carcases, and the health board will se asked to interfere in the matter.

The street car committee reported that a large number of letters had been sent to the street railway management urging the extension of the line to Central park, A committee of the club will meet Friday night with the Monmouth Park club to discuss the street car proposition. The park committee reported improvenents being made in Fontanelle park. The special committee on boulevards reported that surveyors under the direction of the Park board are already surveying the route, saying a fair prospect exists of the Clifton Hill and Saddle creek route being projected over to Fontanelle park and thence through the Central Park district.

J. M. Van Gilder of the Prospect Hill club told of the work of the Prospect Hill club and what it had accomplished by keeping everlastingly at it, and urged that results could only be accomplished for Central Park by the club keeping pounding for improvements. At the meeting of the North Omaha Improvement club the principal topic of discussion was the ward boundaries. The club decided to stand by the division as adopted at the last meeting, which was on the east, north and west by the city limits and on the south by Pratt street and the section line east of Twenty-fourth and west of Thirty-sixth street. The discussion showed that the Clifton Hill club wanted the dividing line at Lake street, but it seemed to be the opinion of those present that this would leave the balance of power in the south end of the ward and leave the residents of the north side holding the sack. It was decided to make another protest to the street railway company against sweeping the dirt from the cars at the intersection of Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue. The meeting adjourned to meet in two weeks
