WARSAW, May 2-8:11 p. m .- The May day death roll totalled sixty-two, including ten persons who died in the hospitals during the night. Probably 200 were wounded.

Crowde gathered at the Tenth district police station this morning, where thirty victims, men and women and three children, were awaiting identification. Some minor disturbances occurred today in different sections of the city, but no casualties have yet been reported. All day long infantry and cavalry patrolled the streets, which were crowded with people who did not spare their criticism of what was generally termed unnecespary slaughter. The popular irritation could not be concealed. The soldiers evidently were nervous and open outbreaks resulting in a repetition of yesterday's terrible scenes were only averted by the evident desire of the authorities to prevent a clash, coupled with the fear inspired by the soldiers' bullets. The population is most bitter against the military and government officials expect many attempts at revenge on the officers, all of whom are known.

More Trouble Expected Today. The Polish press is silent on yesterday's happening. The official Russian paper prints a short and entirely inaccurate report. The governor general of Warsaw is said to be greatly upset by the turn of affairs. The nationalists have arranged their usual demonstration for tomorrow, the 114th anniversary of the proclamation of the Polish constitution, and disturbances are highly probable. 'The workingmen are in an ugly and uncertain mood. The workmen at all the factories struck today and great efforts are being made to bring about general strike, but this is not likely to be successful. The people have not recovered from the exhaustion and losses resulting from the last strike.

Reports conflict regarding the beginning of yesterday's encounter in Jerusalem street. According to the most generally accarry red flags, but the workmen, however, decided to ignore the order. Strikes on Large Scale. The industrial population is deeply exasperated over the sanguinary results of yesterday's encounters. The strikes inaugurated on a large scale here, at Lodz and in other cities, are rapidly spreading and 75,000 persons are on strike. Cossacks are patrolling the streets of Warsaw by companies on account of the danger to smaller detachments. A great crowd which gathered today in front of police stations to which the corpses of thore killed on Monday were taken, to demand the bodies of their dead, were dispersed by Cossacks.

According to an official statement, the dead, not including those of the wounded who died in the hosiptals, numbered thirty-The majority of the dead were work In Lods, according to an official report,

The authorities had given due 000,000 subscribed yesterday were from the warning of their intentions to permit no demonstrations, and the troops quelled the disturbances ruthlessly. All reports, however, indicate that the demonstrators were comparatively few in number, the vast bulk of the population, fearing trouble, remained indoors. Where trouble occurred the crowds were armed with bombs and revolvers. In Warsaw a red flag procession was dispersed by two volleys, Cossacks and Uhlans then charging and cutting down the people in the streets, driving them into court yards and beating them with sabers and whips in the cruel fashion peculiar to these wild horsemen of the steppes. About 190 persons were killed or seriously wounded, according to the reports, women and even children sharing the fate of the men.

At Lods workmen attacked the police with bombs and were charged by dragoons and Uhlans, who cut off the bomb throwera, drove them into a house, surrounded it and then fired upon those inside, killing three persons and wounding many.

According to the reports which have reached St. Petersburg from Kalisz the workmen there for a time had the upper hand of the police and genarmerie, disarming and stoning them until rescued by a squadron of cavalry. The early morning reports today say the Polish press is intensely excited by yesterday's bloodshed and it is feared the trouble will be renewed. The only place in European Russia where trouble occurred was at Minsk, which large crowd of Moors outside the building except the rear coach left the track. L. A. strictly speaking belongs to Poland. Councilman Nicholson said: "This ordi nance is for the purpose of allowing the new Omaha Commercial college building at Nineteenth and Farnam streets to be built If the section is enforced in this case and Building Inspector Withnell has contended for the enforcement of the ordinance and it is to make him powerless in the matter that It is sought to nullify the provision and wipe it off the ordinance books altogether. A resolution was adopted which directs Tax Commissioner Fleming to bid in tax certificates offered for sale under the scavenger law for their full face value and interest, subject to instructions from the city attorney, in cases where other bidders offer less. This was done to carry out an announced policy of the legal department, which believes that the full taxes and interest can be secured.

Walter T. Misner, the architect who drew the plans for the fire engine house at Twenty-fourth and Cuming streets, was requested to appear at the general committee meeting Monday to advance information regarding plans for and bids upon the heating plant. It is thought that the plans are not sufficiently explicit and that the city may get unsatisfactory service from an exceedingly low proposal.

The sum of $255 was appropriated for the use of the Grand Army of the Republic in properly observing Memorial day.

By resolution the Great Western was ordered to comply with a contract with the city and build a retaining wall on Sixteenth street west of the viaduct so as to keep filled ground from sliding down on the street and making it almost impassible for heavy teaming that passes over it. SUMMARY OF CROP CONDITIONS Cold and Dry Weather Retards Ger-

While the temperature conditions of the week ending May I were much more favorable than in the previous week, complaints of slow germination and growth are very general in the Missouri and Red River of the North valleys, middle Rocky mountain slope, take region and New England. In the middle and south Atlantic and gulf states and in the Ohio valley very favorable temperatures prevailed, but the contral and west gulf states and portions of the south Atlantic states and oblo and central Mississippi valleys suffered from excessive rains, which hindered farming operations materially. New England, North Dakota, Montana and Florida continue to need rain, but the portions of the lower Missouri and Ohio valleys needing moisture in the previous week have received ample rainfall.

On the Pacific coast the week was too is as follows:

City Engineer Rosewater did not submit paving specifications as had been promised. He had time only to get them into the hands of the attorney, who did not bave opportunity to inspect them for approval. To enable him to do this and get action on the specifications as early as possible, a recess was taken until Friday morning at 10 o'clock, when not only paving, but specifications for sidewalks and sewers will be ready.

An ordinance was introduced which is to give the Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Omaha railroad the right to lay tracks across Eighth street north of Dodge to the alley between Dodge and Douglas, and up the alley to Twelfth street, crossing Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh.

State Elects to Try Omaha Mar First on Charge of Receiving Stolen Property-Robbery Trial Later.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) RED OAK, Ia., May 2.-(Special Telegram.)-The trial of Tom Dennison, charged with receiving stolen property, will begin here Tuesday, May 23. Upon this charge the state elected to prosecute first rather than upon the charge of robbery, for which

Dennison has also been indicted. The date was agreed upon this morning by the attorneys for Dennison and the state, and District Judge Macy, in conformity with the agreement, made the following order in Attorneys for the state and defendant agreeing, trial is set for Tuesday, May 23, at 9 o'clock a. m., each party reserving the right, if necessary, to make application and showing for a continuance without being prejudiced by the selection of this date for trial. The state at this time elects to put defendant on trial first upon the indictment herein charging the crime of receiving stolen property and not upon the indictment charging robbery. deal. He said:

There was absolutely no excitement incident to the arrival of Dennison and Attorney Thomas at Red Oak, both having come in from Omaha on the same train. Thomas went direct to the courthouse and Dennison first went to the Johnson hotel, where he met his attorney, J. M. Junkin. In a few moments, accompanied by Mr. Junkin, he appeared in the courtroom. It was an hour later, during which time Judge Macy made his charge to the newly selected grand jury, that the Dennison case came up, and County Attorney Greenles, acting for the state and Attorney Junkin for the defense, announced that they had agreed to have the case set for the 22d and 23d. The judge then named the 23d in order to allow time for the adjournment of the Harrison county district court, as some parties who are engaged there will be summoned to Red Oak to testify in the Dennison case. This will also allow the farmers to have their corn in, one attorney re marked, indicating that it was his belief the jury would be selected from out in the rural districts.

Creates No Excitement. The fact that Tom Dennison and the Dennison case have been advertised all over the ccuntry for the last year seems to have made no impression upon Red Oak, and if any one in the town knew of the presence of Elmer E. Thomas and Dennison the fact created no alarm and no curiosity. That the sensational press has not penetrated very deep into the city of Red Oak was aptly illustrated by a laughable mistake of Attorney Beeson, who is assisting the state in the prosecution. Beeson came into the cour book while the attorneys were discussing the date for the hearing. He sat down beside the Granta man, at the same time asking:

"What case are they discussing our "Are you interested?" asked the Iowa attorney. "Oh, to a certain extent," replied Dennison, without blinking,

"I see, you are the lawyer from Omaha who is to look after the case," said Reesor inquiringly. "No, I guess I'm Tom Dennison," smiled the defendant, and the eyes of the attorney expressed his surprise. Again Dennison was taken for a banker from out in the state who was expected in to attend court, and was given the glad hand and welcomed to the city, The fact that the case was to be called today created no interest whatever, and there was not a single spectator in the courtroom. Dennison was represented by J. M. Junkin of Red Oak and the prosecution was represented by Elmer E. Thomas of Omaha, Prosecuting Attorney Greenlee and R. W.

Beeson of Red Oak. While both sides were eager to have the proviso in the court's order fixing the date that it would not prejudice either from asking for a continuance, both announced that they would be ready for trial when the time came. ANTI-GRAFT BILL NOW A LAW Governor of Wisconsin Signs Bill to Punish Employes Who Accept Wheat Deal.

MILWAUKEE, May 2.-The first authentic statement in regard to the cause of the downfall of Frank G. Bigelow, the defaulting bank president, was made today by an intimate friend of the former banker. In brief, Bigelow's friend attributes the disaster to overconfidence in his business ability, which the banker did not possess. Bigelow, his friend states, denies emphatially that he lost the money in a wheat

If you were to ask him how the money was spent he would be unable to tell you. His affairs are in a remarkable tangle. To my mind I have no reason to believe the defalcation dates back more than comparatively a few years.

As to his alleged defalcation from other banks, isn't it a banker's business to see that it is secured? Looking at it from a purely business standpoint, it is impossible to steal from a bank if the business of the bank is safeguarded. For instance, one company in St. Louis loaned Mr. Bigelow $60,000. Bigelow gave as security stock in the First National bank worth much more. There is no reason to suppose If you were to ask him how the money stock in the first National bank worth much more. There is no reason to suppose that he meant to defraud the St. Louis institution. There was nothing about him to indicate that he did. He paid the interest regularly and, as a matter of fact, did not intend to be dishonest. He thought he was a financier.

He kept no books and for odds and ends of all sorts he had his mind only as their depositories. I am sure I do not know whether it indicates mental weakness on his part. I can but repeat he supposed, he was a greater business man than he was. supposed he was a greater business man than he was.

Just when Mr. Bigelow began to take the bank's funds is a matter I am unable to determine from anything he says. When an examination of the bank was made last January nothing was disclosed. For all I know it did not begin until after that time. There was an absolute lack of system about anything he did so far as his own affairs are concerned.

CHICAGO, May L-The death of one man and the injury of scores of others was the immediate result of today's fighting between the striking teamsters and their sympathizers on the one side and the police and the nonunion men on the other. There were riots in all parts of the city. Men were clubbed and stoned almost to death within a square of police headquarters, and five miles away men were shot down in the streets. At a hundred places between these two extremes of disturbance there were assaults and fights in the streets. Blood was shed on State street, in the heart of the fashionable shopping district, and furious riots took place almost in the doorways of the leading hotel. Nonunion men were pelted with stones, bricks and every other conceivable sort of missiles. They were dragged from their wagons, beaten, clubbed and stamped upon. The mobs that followed the wagons on which they rode were ugly in the extreme. But for the splendid service rendered by the police force the list of dead would be twenty tonight instead of one. In return the nonunionists, although hopelessly outnumbered in every struggle, fought desperately. In several instances they drew their revolvers and emptied them into the crowds that pressed around their wagons, pelting them with stones and threatening their lives. The colored drivers especially were quick with their weapons. Large numbers of the nonunion drivers carried heavy clubs, and they swung them with terrific effect throughout the day. As far as can be ascertained tonight, the list of injured number in the neighborhood of fifty, but it is 'ar short of being accurate. Many men who were in the mobs that attacked the wagons went down before the clubs of the police and the wagon guards, but they were carried away by their friends and there is no chance of learning their names or of even guessing at their number. The outlook for tomorrow is for more fighting, and there is not the slightest evidence of the approaching end of the

Many of the members of the teaming association have contracts for the delivery of coal with the team owners, who have so far failed to make any deliveries since the commencement of the strike. The team owners yesterday would not give a definite reply as to what could be expected of them, This afternoon at the Union League club a meeting was held between representatives of the Employers' association and the large team owners.

Railway Men Keep Out. It was the desire of the members of the Employers' association to bring as much pressure to bear upon the team owners as possible, and with this view they had invited to the conference representatives of the railroads entering the city. The team owners stated thir position exactly. They would not attempt to deliver coal to any firm where a strike is now in progress giving as reasons for their refusing that their own men would be called out and they would be involved in the trouble with which they considered they had no direct Dr. Stevens is an associate in expericoncern. They were informed that if they mental morphology at Bryn Mawr college would not make deliveries their contracts with the business houses amounting to millions of dollars annually, would be cancelled. This did not change their attitude, however, and they persisted in their refusal to take part in the strike. The railroad men, contrary to the hopes of the members of the Employers' association did not exert the influence on the team owners that was expected. They took practically the same stand, declaring that the fight was something into which the railroads did not properly enter, that they had con-NEW YORK, May 2.- The directors of the tracts with the team owners, that these Chicago & Northwestern Railway company contracts were at present being fulfilled to their entire satisfaction and they could

We have refused to enter into the fight. We see no reason why we should do so. The struggle is between certain business men of this city and their teamsters. We can see no cause why we should interfere in this thing or mix in any controversy between local factions, who have diverging interests in the teaming business. The railroads aro not going to enter into this strike in any way.
