Linemen Have New Contract. CHEYENNE, Wyo., May f .- (Special.)-There will be no strike of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone linemen, the company having signed a new contract with its men which is satisfactory to them. They are now paid on an eight-hour schedule, based on beginning and quitting actual work, instead of on a basis of nine hours, which included leaving the building and arriving at the same after the day's work,

There is little change in the situation of the carpenters' strike. The bosses are shipping in men to take the places of the strikers, who are standing firm. Only one pened fire. The first bullet struck Daly i firm has acceded to the demands of the the ground that all bosses would have to accept the scale or none. The strikers claim that the bosses have not kept faith with them, saying that two years ago they signed a contract agreeing to pay 50 cents per hour at the end of two years. The bosses deny this. The men however, that they were led to believe that the 50 cents would be granted at the end of two years, and many supposed the stipulation was put in the contract.

PROPOSES GOVERNMENT EXAMINERS

Congress to Have Full Power of Rate Regulation and Commerce Commission to Furnish Facts,

Not Noise.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, May 6 .- (Special Tele gram.)-E, P. Vining, formerly traffic manager of the Union Pacific and later of New York and New England roads, was a witness before the interstate commerce committee today. Senator Millard, who knew of Mr. Vining's ability in the early days of the Union Pacific and recognized his worth to that railroad in its period of construction, scoured the country to find this gentleman. After much telegraphic service charge by a committee of the Bar assohe located Mr. Vining in Boston, where he is wholly separated from the activities of railroads. By a personal invitation, coupled with that of the chairman of the committee, Senator Elkins, Mr. Vining was given that it looked as though some one had hearing today on those vital questions which are uppermost in the minds of the American people-railroads and railroad C. Kinsler, an opposing attorney. The rates. In keeping with his independent way of dealing with questions, Mr. Vining the justice court, and involved the alterclaimed that the Interstate Commerce commission, in its crusade for additional power, had not been given the information that it follows: should have. In unqualified terms he condemned the policy of the present Interstate Commerce commission and insisted that it had shown itself entirely incapable of dealing with the rate question. He shid that what the American people wanted most from the Interstate Commerce commission was more light and less noise; that the mmission should be compelled by law to furnish the public with such clear information that the situation would be no longer misunderstood. In his own words he recommended that the books of all the railroads be opened to scrutiny and that system of government railway examiners be created similar to the present system of bank examiners. By that means he believed justice could be obtained with the rate regulating power invested only in congress. Mr. Vining, recognizing the sharpness of the conflict between localities, especially in the West, contending for rates favorable to certain interests, stated that the dispute in the matter of railroad rates has never been between the shipper and the consignee, but between locality and locality, and in view of this contention he insisted that congress should have the aliimportant power of regulating and altering or creating rates. Banks and Rural Carriers. The application of C. P. Swanson, F. D. Greene, P. H. Barnes, W. D. McDonald and H. C. Shober to organize the First National bank of Highmore, S. D., with $25,000 capital, has been approved by the comptrolle

GRAND VIEW IMPROVERS MEET Club Asks that the Street Rallway Company Declare Itself on the Extension.

At the meeting of the Grand View Improvement club, held Saturday night near Fourth and Frances streets, it was decided to go after the street railway company to get them to live up to the promise made last year to extend the Harney street line south on Sixth street.

A committee of fifteen was appointed by Chairman Sundbladt to wait upon the management of the street railway company to ascertain when the extension is to be made. Councilman Back and Ernest Mrs. Abble Adams of Superior, wife of Stuht were the principal speakers. They said the company had promised this work would be done as soon as the Albright line was completed, and the power house on the river front in working order, so that they would have sufficient power The club desires to have the line extended to Riverview park, as the street is graded all the way through and paved as far as Hickory street. If the extension is not made to the park the club, at least, wishes | candidates. it as far as Bancroft street.

Matters pertaining to the repairs on side walks in the First ward and the grading of some of the streets were also discussed The street rallway committee was instructed to report at a meeting which will be held at the same place in two weeks. A regular meeting the Riverview Enterprise Improvement club was held Saturday evening, nearly all the members being present. There was a lively discussion on a number of subjects, including streets, water, lighting, sidewalks and especially on the redistricting of the city into wards. Committees were appointed to look after the opening of Sixteenth street, from

The

J. Dunn and Charles Battelle. County story is as follows: Judge Vinsonhaler, in putting the case in In 1901 Hamsuit purchased from a man who represented himself to be an agent of the Standard Oil company, a tank wagon, used in peddling oil about the streets of the city. After a time he ceased to handle the Standard oil and began to sell the product of the Royal Oil company. Repeated efforts to get Hamsuit to buy from the Standard having failed, Kersher arrived on the scene and after failure to induce him to return to the Standard, filed suit in the court of Justice Jacob Rapp to replevin the wagon, swearing that it was his property. He made the case stick, furnished the necessary replevin bond and on May 15, 192, was given possession of the property.

The case was called to the attention of the office of the attorney general of the state of Ohio and in conjunction with the city attorney of Pekin, Charles Schaefer, evidence was secured which showed conclusively that the property belonged to the Standard Oil company and that Kersher, who replevined it, is a secret service man in their employ.

Said committee had before them for consideration a transcript of all the testimony and evidence received in said action, taken in shorthand and extended on the typewriter, by Thomas P. Wilson, one of the official court reporters of this, the fourth judicial district of Nebraska, from which said committee is unanimously of the opinion that neither of the witnesses in said action committed perjury; that there does not appear to be any serious conflict in the evidence given in said case, and whatever conflict there really is doubtless arose from a misunderstanding of the agreement entered into by and between the respective attorneys therein. The only violation of the law that appears clearly and distinctly in said evidence was that wherein it was claimed by the attorney for the defendant that the above agreement was to the effect that the justice might mutilate his record by changing the amount appearing therein from $160 to $50, after said record had become the solemn judgment of the court and all jurisdiction of the justice in regard thereto had ceased.

FRANK L. WEAVER,

I. J. DUNN,

CHARLES BATTELLE,

Committee. Attorney B. W. Cooney of Pekin, who represented Hamsuit, made a statement for the Associated Press today. He said that shortly after Hamsult commenced business in 1901 that a man named Thomas appeared in Pekin and began to operate a rival wagon. He visited the merchants and other people with whom Hamsuit did business and undersold him to such an extent that bankruptcy stared him in the face. In order to get his rival out of the way Hamsuit offered to buy him out. He agreed to take $50, which he did, and disappeared. Shortly after this Kercher appeared and instituted the replevin proceedings, which resulted in his gaining posession of the wagon. ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT PLANS

In a statement made before he left Pekin Kercher said that he was acting as a district manager for the Standard Oil company at the time and that he was sent to Pekin with orders to break up competition in that city.

He also said that an official who had jurisdiction over the Ohio district was W. T. Collings of Cincinnati. Kercher also mentioned the name of G. W. Taylor of Kentucky. At the local offices of the Standard Oil company it was said today place the annual convention of the that Taylor was not an official of the company at any time, but was simply an em os, auxiliary to the annual convention of plove of the company. It was further stated that he had not been in the employ Irand Army of the of the company for two years.

Mr. Cooney then displayed a letter writ ten by Frank T. Monnett, attorney general somewhat interested in the approaching encampment from the fact that Omaha has of Ohio at the time, in which he gives Mr. Cooney some advice as to how to proin the person of Andy Trainor and the ceed. The letter goes on to state that a sum will be sent to Pekin to fight the name of Mrs. R. S. Wilcox, wife of case for Kercher and directs Mr. Cooney to keep in touch with him and keep him Wilcox, for the position of president of the posted as to the developments in the case. The negotiations were all carried on through Robert Lashley, the Peoria manager of the Standard Oil company in the immediate district. Lashley came to this Johnson county, are aspirants for the city from Birmingham, Ala., and is not now connected with the Standard Oil company, but is said to be in Boston.

Many a bright and promising career has been blighted by injurious habits of foils before the age of knowledge and under-standing, and many have been cut shor by the unfortunate contracting of some before the age of knowledge and understanding, and many have been cut short by the unfortunate contracting of some poisonous special disease which, through neglect or improper treatment, has completely undermined and shattered the physical strength and mental faculties. No greater mistake can be made than to consider lightly the first evidence of the introduction of any private disease into your system or to neglect the first symptoms of weakened mind and approach of nervous debility, caused by improper or unnatural habits, excesses, dissipation, etc.

Such indifference and neglect of the first symptoms is responsible for thousands of human wrecks, inliures in life and business, domestic discord, and unhappy married life, divorce, insanity, suicide, etc. Men! Why take such desperate chances? The manifestations of the first symptoms of any disease of weakness should be a warning to you to take prompt steps to safeguard your future life and happiness. You should carefully avoid all uncertain, experimental, dangerous or half-way treatment, for upon the first treatment depends whether your disease will be allowed to become chronic and subject you to future recurrences of the disease, with the various resulting compileations, etc.

If we could but see and treat all men when the first symptoms show themselves there would soon be little need for so-called specialists in chronic diseases, and there would be few men seeking a rejuvenating of their physical, mental and sexual powers, and there would be none marked with the indellible stamp of constitutional Syphilis; and the sufferers from Varicoccie, Gleet, Stricture, Kidney would be reduced to a minimum. But as long as MEN continue to disregard the golden adage,"A stitch in time saves nine," and continue to neglect themselves or to exercise indifference in securing the right treatment at the outset, just so long will there be multitudes of chronic sufferers.
