The Secret of Our Success Is Common Sense

We are very earnest in our declaration that this is the most sincere, the most modern and the most popular cash and credit house in the city. We have it from hundreds of people who have shopped everywhere. We have it from hundreds of working men and women who never realized how high class a cash and credit house could be until they came to us. We know it from the fact that our business, within a few years, has increased to enormous proportions and that every person who opens an account expresses pleasure at quality, gratitude for the encouraging treatment they receive and perfect satisfaction with terms of credit and prices of merchandise.

Yet we claim no especial credit for this condition of things. It is the logical result of following the lines of least resistance and operating as sensible merchants should. We have simply made our credit system conform to the financial condition of the average man and woman. We have stripped it wholly of its embarrassing features and given it a dignity that prevents the possibility of injury to anyone's sensibilities.

In other words, we have invested it with a co-operative human interest that makes it desirable and healthful. So far as courtesy is concerned we would be false to the logic of business and the public right if we were anything but courteous. And so far as prices are concerned, we are not desirous of getting rich quick, therefore we are content with small profits.

Now you have the secret of our success and it isn't such a secret after all.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Many Expensive Improvements in Sight in the Railroad Yards.

UPDIKE ELEVATOR IS BEING RUSHED

State Convention of Workmen Will Bring a Large Number of Visitors to the City During the Coming Week.

In case present plans are carried out there will be a number of expensive improvements in the railroad yards here this summer. One of the largest improvements so far this year is the building of the Updike elevator, situated on trackage about 1,100 feet north of the L street viaduct. A large number of carpenters are now working on this big structure. The foundation is one of the best ever laid in South Omaha, 80 piles being used. The cement base ranges from two to eight feet in depth. Already the framework is up fully seventy-five feet. Only selected timbers of large size are being used in putting up this framework. When completed the elevator will be 155 feet above the railroad tracks.

While bad weather has interfered some with the work during the last two weeks, all the men that can be employed to advantage are working on it whenever the weather conditions permit of out-of-door work. Grading for the tracks to be located about the elevator has been delayed a great deal by rains. Contractor Hanson said Saturday that with fairly good weather he could complete the grading in five weeks. While the elevator contractors cannot give a very close estimate on the time it will take to complete this big elevator, it is expected that by September 1 the structure will be ready for the storage of grain.

It has been understood in municipal circles for some time that when the M. C. Peters stock feed mill gets in operation other mills would come to South Omaha and locate on trackage between C and F streets. The laying of additional tracks will necessitate the building of a viaduct across the tracks at F street. Railroad officials have made the statement to city officials that as soon as conditions would warrant this F street viaduct would be built. South Omaha people generally are greatly pleased at the prospects of a prosperous year. The improvement seems to be that the mayor and council should do everything possible to assist enterprises desiring to locate inside the city limits.

State Convention of Workmen. About half a dozen of the advance guard of the delegates to the state convention to be held here this week arrived yesterday. More are expected today. No attempt will be made to meet the delegates arriving today. On Monday, however, when hundreds are expected, the drill teams of bridges 56 and 22 will meet trains carrying delegates and escort them to the headquarters of the Workmen team, Twenty-fifth and M streets. A number of American District Telegraph messenger boys will be on duty Monday and Tuesday at the temple to show delegates to their apartments.

A. H. Murdock, who has been employed to assist City Attorney Lambert in the city hall bond injunction case stated Saturday afternoon that the case would most likely be called in Judge Sears' court on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Murdock was at the city offices yesterday securing some of the data to be used in the hearing. The case is attracting considerable attention as it is the second attempt made by property owners to prevent the city from issuing bonds in the sum of $50,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of a building. When bonds were first voted the election was called for April 4, when, on the face of the returns, the bond proposition carried. The trouble seems to be that the ordinance passed by the council providing for this issue of bonds were not properly passed.

Good Faith Checks Returned. Saturday City Clerk Gillin was returning checks in the sum of $1,000 each to the bond buyers who bid on the city hall bonds last Monday night. Only one check was retained and that was sent by Hoehler & Cummings, Toledo. These bidders bid a premium of $247.50 for the bonds. It appears to be the intention of the council to accept this bid in case the district court permits the authorities to issue the bonds. This bid was the highest and the lowest was sent in by a Chicago firm offering a premium of $250.

School Board Adopts Resolutions. A special meeting of the Board of Education was called Saturday for the purpose of adopting suitable resolutions on the death of Joseph C. Knight. The resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, That we hereby express our sincere sorrow on account of the death of Joseph C. Knight, who for several years has filled the position of member of our Board of Education. As a member of our Board of Education he has conscientiously guarded the important interests of the school district, and by his unwavering fidelity to official duty, won the highest confidence and appreciation of the people he served.

Resolved, That by his devotion to the interests entrusted to him as well as by his upright character, he has shown himself to be worthy of emulation and honor and by his death the Board of Education has lost a valuable member.

Resolved, That in his death we deplore the loss of a man who always guided by his conscience, and what he thought was right. We recognize with deep appreciation our obligation to such a man, and his life of service to men of his character should be kept in lasting memory.

Your committee moves the adoption of the foregoing resolutions, and that they be placed upon the records of the Board of Education as a permanent memorial to Joseph C. Knight.

Knights Funeral Today. At 11 o'clock this afternoon, at the First Baptist church, Twenty-fifth and H streets, funeral services over the remains of the late Joseph C. Knight will be held. Rev. George VanWinkle, pastor of the Baptist church, will deliver the sermon. The board of directors of the local Young Men's Christian association will attend these services in a body. Members of the Board of Education will be present as well as a large delegation from the Cudahy Packing company, where the deceased was employed. Interment is to be at Laurel Hill cemetery.

Single City Gospel. Evening service at the churches now commence at 8 o'clock.

The next meeting of the New Century club will be held at the home of Mrs. J.

WILL EXTEND THE CAR LINES

President Wattles Says Two Extensions Have Been Decided On.

TO FORT CROOK AND FOREST LAWN

Three Routes Have Not Yet Settled, but the Company Has Not Yet Settled on the Exact Routes to Be Followed.

Fort Crook and Forest Lawn cemetery are to be connected with the street railway system of Omaha during the coming summer. This was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the directors of the company, which President Wattles attended, held in New York last week. The local officers had decided to build these extensions, but they wished to present them to the directors for final approval.

Mr. Wattles said that the report in an Omaha paper that he had been to New York to raise money to build the extensions was wrong, because the finances of the Omaha Street Railway company are in such condition that they can build such extensions as they choose without calling for help in the matter of finances.

Three new buildings are to be constructed this summer in addition to the line extensions, one a car barn in Council Bluffs and machine shops at Twenty-sixth and Lake streets.

Three routes are under consideration to Fort Crook and these three have been surveyed, but the company has not decided upon which course to build.

In regard to the extension to Forest Lawn cemetery Mr. Wattles said that the company and the cemetery association wish to build by the regular wagon road, which is the direct line to the cemetery gate, but that the people of Florence desire them to run into Florence before turning west to the cemetery. He said that State street was too steep to be practicable and that the other routes have not been sufficiently investigated to enable the company to come to a conclusion. The idea of some of the property owners in Florence is to build the line around the north bluff from the present terminus of the line and to build a park south of the Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis line, from whence the street railway could run to the cemetery.

Improvement clubs in Florence have petitioned the street railway company for a 5-cent fare, but Mr. Wattles says that the haul is too long; that the company cannot afford to haul people such a distance for one fare. Residents of Florence are now trying to run into Florence before turning west to the cemetery. He said that State street was too steep to be practicable and that the other routes have not been sufficiently investigated to enable the company to come to a conclusion. The idea of some of the property owners in Florence is to build the line around the north bluff from the present terminus of the line and to build a park south of the Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis line, from whence the street railway could run to the cemetery.

Manawa Differences Settled. All difficulties in regard to Lake Manawa have been settled and the company expects to have a large business to this resort as soon as the season opens. The amusement company which has the lease of the lake resort has placed William P. Byrne in charge as manager this season and will have the same policy in regard to a free area will be maintained. A new up-to-date toboggan slide for swimmers will be installed and it is the intention of the management to cater to the better class of people, as in former years. Manawa will open May 28.

The injunction has been dissolved and the Board of Supervisors has declared the streets running through the park vacated, so that nothing now stands in the way of the management to go ahead with the improvements planned.

Called Up in the Night for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "We consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best we sell," writes J. L. True & Son of West Epping, N. H. "We have customers who think there is nothing like it for a cough. A few nights ago a man called us up at 2:30 a. m. to go to our store and get him a bottle of this remedy as his little girl had the cough. He knew it would cure her for he had tried it many times before."

Knock on the Dandelions. Attorney Charles Clapp, discussing the campaign of the Civic Improvement league for better laws and a cleaner city, says that every person who has a lawn should make it a point to clean out all the dandelions. "Nothing is so detrimental to the clean and quiet growth of grass as the dandelion plant," said Mr. Clapp. "It grows in bunches, if not well weeded out, and puts its seed off the grass all about it. If all people who have lawns would keep this upsurer from getting a foothold we should soon see much better lawns all over town."

Mortality Statistics. The following births and deaths have been reported to the Board of Health during the twenty-four hours ending at noon Saturday:

Births—George C. May, 2610 Harney boy; Henry C. Larsen, 304 Seward girl; George H. Waring, 1207 South Twenty-ninth avenue boy; Walter R. Byers, 2628 Burdette girl.

Deaths—James M. Nye, 1103 North Eighth; Mrs. M. Martin, 42 North Thirty-seventh; H. Henry Dietl, Thirtieth and Grace, 32.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

"An American Citizen" at the Boyd.

Mr. N. O. Goodwin rightly interprets the charming play that Miss Ryley furnished him with some ten years ago. It really grows better as it grows older. As a matter of fact, none of the other pieces in which Mr. Goodwin has been seen during his career contains in such degree the quality that holds the interest of even the superficial as does this. The devotion of the hero is exquisite, but its very absurdity gives it a quality that challenges attention and sympathy, so that the spectator is kept waiting for the end. And even if he knows the end, he waits just the same, for anticipation adds a zest to the incidents that are not less relished because they are familiar. Mr. Goodwin played his role last night as if he were just trying to win favor with it, and it was another triumph for him. Miss Mackay was very good as Miss Carow, cousin and afterwards wife to the hero, and the whole company fell into the several parts splendidly, with the result of a perfect performance.

OMAHA HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Margaret Fuller society was entertained in their regular meeting in a most pleasing manner on Friday afternoon by Miss Valentine. Since the work of the society has centered in the usual about artists of work during the past year, stereotyped views of the mural decorations in the Congressional library, Washington, were presented. The first number on the program consisted of a paper on "Mural Decoration," by Myra Brockbridge; the next was a description with the presentation of the paintings of Adams and Bodinon, and (lanytime, painted by Walker, by Kamm, and others. Following this were the historical traditions and myths by Delman, and Minerva by Velde as each picture was shown. A violin duet by Caroline Conklin and Helen Somers followed. The succeeding numbers were: "Paintings by Owen McEwen; some descriptions of Achilles, Helenus, and the Trojan war, by Elizabeth Sweet, Jason, Orpheus and Paris by Ruth Woder, and Persius, Thebes and Prometheus by Alice McCullough; the last number on the program was a vocal solo by Helen Sedick, after which Mr. Davidson, superintendent of schools, gave a short talk on the advantage of having music in the high school.

The Elaine society was entertained in a very delightful manner on Saturday afternoon by the lower classes of the society, at the home of Alberta Field.

During the past week a basketball contest was held in the high school gymnasium between the girls sophomore team and the senior team, and the sophomores were victorious. In spite of fine work the sophomore team was unsuccessful in both games, the score being 10 to 8 in favor of the juniors, and 11 to 8 in favor of the seniors. At the end of the first half it seemed as though the sophomores were about to carry off the honors, but the juniors rallied their forces and emerged victorious.

On Wednesday last the State Intercollegiate Preliminary Debate was held at the high school building for the purpose of selecting a representative and alternate to represent the Omaha high school at the state intercollegiate debate, to be held at the Lincoln high school on May 15. About eight state high schools will compete for the honors on the question: "Resolved, That in Nebraska candidates for state, county and city elective officers, and state and national legislatures, be nominated in direct primaries." Herbert P. Butler was chosen to represent the local high school, and Walter Kenner was chosen as alternate.

The senior class on Wednesday last changed the date of the baccalaureate sermon from June 21 to June 4, in order to enable the senior class graduates to be present at that important function, as otherwise they would be at camp at Almo, Neb.

The white and red side are both putting on the finishing touches for the great contest occurring Friday, May 12, at Creighton university hall, Twenty-fifth and California streets. From the number of tickets being sold by both sides it seems that the interest of the students in this annual event has not abated, but rather increased.

Card of Thanks. We extend our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, especially the employees of Paxton & Vierling Iron works, the McCord-Brady employes, also teachers and pupils of Forest school for their beautiful floral offerings.
