

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Plans Being Matured for Summer Resort on Platte River Island.

COTTAGES TO BE ERECTED ON THE PLACE

Inspection of Twenty-Fourth Street Paving Shows Effort to Reconstruct Street Would Be a Poor Investment.

For a number of years some of the well known people of South Omaha have been casting around for suitable camping grounds for the summer months. Two or three seasons a camping party was made up and camped at Anchor mill. Then a project was started to secure a lease on a piece of ground adjoining Seymour lake on the west for a club and boat house and camping grounds. When this project neared consummation other matters of more importance came up and there was nothing done. An entirely new idea has been suggested now. W. S. King and J. R. Watkins are at the head of a movement to lease an island in the Platte river near Gretna and erect thereon a club house and a number of cottages. A swimming launch and a number of small boats are also planned. This island, so Mr. King states, contains nearly 60 acres. Those interested assert that after the first year the club house will be a paying investment as sheep, goats and cattle can be pastured on the island, thus bringing in a revenue. The intention is to secure a certain number of members and erect a club house and cottages this year. In the spring and fall the shooting will be good, and the fishing in the summer is reported to be excellent. By rail the distance is seven or eight miles, and the fare is a small matter. On account of the railroad facilities business men who are interested in the project will be able to get away after the closing of their offices and spend a pleasant evening with their families and friends on the island, returning at an early hour in the morning.

Already quite a number have signified their willingness to pay the initiation fee of $50, and it looks now as if the island would be leased and buildings erected this summer.

Committee Inspects Paving.

A committee of the city council, Mayor Koutsky and City Engineer Beal went Thursday with a view to determining just what would be necessary in regard to the proposed repaving and repairs. The more the committee looked into the condition of the street the more it became convinced there was not much use of attempting to repave or make repairs. Inspection showed that the base was so rotten and badly worn that it would be practically useless to attempt to put down a two-inch asphalt surface. The base now is so near the top of the little asphalt that remains on the street a two-inch sheeting would have to be out so thin at the car tracks and at the curb line that its wearing effect would not be what the city officials expected when the resolution ordering specifications for this work was drawn. In talking over the matter after the inspection the city officials did not come to any conclusion, but the statement was made that it would be cheaper in the long run to lay an entirely new base and to pave the street with brick than to attempt to patch up the thoroughfare. A report will be drawn soon showing the cost of making repairs with asphalt and the cost of paving the street with vitrified brick.

Want Building Inspected.

Members of the Board of Education are anxious to have the Central school building inspected by an architect and the city building inspector. It was reported in starting headlines in an Omaha paper that the old high school building was unsafe and was liable to blow down most any time and cause the death of hundreds of pupils. On account of this story eighteen parents of children called at the school yesterday and urged their children home. They said they had been led to believe the building was in danger of collapsing at any time and that they did not propose to have their children killed. Just as soon as the city engineer or city building inspector can be secured they devote time to this matter. An architect in the employ of the board will go over the building with the city officials and ascertain if there is anything wrong with the structure.

Storm Does Little Damage.

Thursday morning's rain, hail and wind-storm did little damage in South Omaha. Some billboards were blown down and a few awnings torn, but there was no damage to the unpaved streets. City Engineer Beal and Mayor Koutsky drove over the city yesterday and failed to locate any washouts. The rain packed the ground down good and hard and with a few warm days the unpaved streets will again be in good condition. Reports received at the city indicate to the effect that the storm sewers carried off the water without doing any damage to the sewers. Only a week or ten days ago the sewers were flushed and were free from obstructions from the heavy downpour occurred.

Police Hold Tonight.

This evening the Police Commission will hold a meeting to consider a number of liquor license applications. Some applications have been held back on account of errors in the making out of bonds and two or three are being investigated by the chief of police. So far eighty licenses have been granted and possibly half a dozen will be added to the list tonight. Up to last night only two South Omaha drugists had filed applications with the board for permission to sell liquor. At the time the license matter was brought up the members of the board seemed to think that every drugist should have a license and a committee was appointed to call on the drugists and investigate. The committee failed to get together and the matter was postponed.

Ten Delegates Attend Session.

Ten delegates of the Sons of Rest held a session in the rear of the city hall building yesterday. Chief Briggs acted as chairman and insisted that all of the delegates strictly observe the rules of the organization was concluded Thursday afternoon. A warrant of stone had been broken. This stone will be used in street repair work. The experience with the rock pile yesterday showed such good results that the city will not purchase more rock so that the city will not be tempted to look around the city after they complete a day's work on the rock pile.

Magie City Gospel.

J. A. Wells has returned from a month's stay on the Pacific coast. Mr. Wells is visiting relatives in Canada. He is visiting relatives in Canada. He is visiting relatives in Canada.

JUST A LITTLE FIDGETY

Colored Lad Denies that He is Under Influence of Any Sort of "Dope." In the trial of J. F. Miller, Gus Reed and Lafayette Barnes in Judge Day's court the latter secured his own dismissal by telling how the other two had confessed to him that they had robbed John Frost, the complainant. They wanted him to stand, he said, on the chance of all going free; then if they all got "jammed," as he called it, they would turn him loose by clearing him of complicity. The accused are all negroes and most of the witnesses are quite dark of hue. Considerable amusement crept around the court room during the hearing of the testimony, in spite of the efforts of the bailiffs to keep down the bubbling laughter. When one particularly dark and solemn Ethiopian was on the stand, on cross-examination, Attorney Macfarland asked him: "What kind of dope are you under the influence of now?" The colored boy responded in a highly indignant manner: "Ah, an not got no dope. Ah'll admit ah useter take coke, but ah don't got none now." "What do you keep passing your hand over your face for, then?" "Ah's jes a 'filing thent, dat's all; ah ben sleepin', yes, sah! Ah don't didn't want to get up!" And the witness resumed the work of brushing away imaginary flies. He is a porter in a saloon that was recently wrecked by an exploding flashlight apparatus, but escaped injury because he was at his room practicing up on the song, "Please Go 'Way an' Let Me Sleep."

PROCEEDS TO GO FOR STATUE

Four or Five Hundred Dollars Realized from William Tell for Schiller Monument. It is estimated by those who had charge of the Schiller memorial celebration that between $400 and $500 will be left of the receipts from "William Tell" after all expenses of the play, the torchlight procession and the unveiling of the Schiller bust have been paid. Whatever the remaining amount, it will be used to start a fund for the erection in Omaha of a monument to Schiller. It is the plan to give the play once each year until $2,000 or $3,000 required for a suitable memorial stone has been secured. With the help of contributions from patriotic German citizens it is expected that it will be but two or three years at the outside until a statue of the German master poet will stand in one of Omaha's parks.

ALLEN BROTHERS' NEW PLACE

Adds to Establishment Contracted for at Over a Hundred Thousand Dollars. Wednesday afternoon Allen Brothers' Wholesale Grocery company closed the contract for the building of the addition to their establishment at Tenth and Farnam streets. It is not given out by the company what the price of the contract was, but W. L. Mardis was the contractor who handled the negro and white work. A duplicate of the structure which cost $125,000 with the site upon which it is located, so that the cost of the whole will be in the neighborhood of $200,000. The addition to the building will be adjacent to the present location on the east, pressed brick will be used and a modern building throughout will be built. The contract calls for the completion of the building by November 1.

Harry B. Davis, undertaker. Tel. 125. 18 K. wedding rings. Eshom, Jeweler.

LOCAL BREVITIES. Anna Kempf married Charles A. Homelius in Omaha, December 19, 1905. She is now seeking a divorce for desertion, which she alleges has continued since April, 1902. Nora E. Altstadt is suing Charles L. for divorce. Incidentally she has secured from Judge Troup a restraining order which forbids the husband from in any way interfering with her or intruding upon the premises of the Altstadt household at 1125 South Omaha. They were married in Omaha in March, 1900, and there is one daughter 13 years old, who the most of the time she has custody. She accuses the husband of being addicted to drink and of having seduced her beyond the limits of patience.

GIRL OPPOSES HER MOTHER

Grace Townsley Leaves Home Against Parental Wishes and Joins Volunteers.

CARED NOTHING FOR SOCIETY OF MEN

Such is Version of Friends at Home—Body of Girl Murdered by Unrequited Suitor Will Come Here.

Had she complied with her mother's wishes Lieutenant Grace Townsley of the Volunteers of America would not have been shot and killed at Lincoln by E. J. Katherizer, a rejected suitor. Mrs. Lulu B. Townsley, 1737 South Eleventh street, Omaha, the girl's mother, objected strongly to her daughter leaving home two or three years ago to take up the work of the Volunteers at Lincoln. The girl, however, had always leaned toward religious work. She came home last winter, remained for several months, but on reaching the age of 18 returned to Lincoln. She had assisted the Volunteers since she was 14. The whereabouts of the head of the Townsley family is not known. He left his wife, two daughters and two sons about nine years ago. Mrs. Townsley has supported the family and kept the children in school by doing cooking, pastry work and all kinds of housework. Recently she has been employed as pastry cook at the Shriner hotel, Twenty-sixth and Harney streets. Her younger daughter, Lucille, is a member of the freshman class at the high school. The boys attend the Conventus school.

Home of the Townsleys.

The home of the Townsleys is in the basement of a frame building used by the Free Methodist church on South Eleventh street. No one was at home when a reporter for The Bee called Thursday morning. Mrs. Townsley and her children having come to consult with a brother at Albright concerning the funeral arrangements. Another brother lives in Omaha. Neighbors, however, said they were familiar with the history and the family.

Only last week Lieutenant Townsley sent home presents of shirt waists for the women and watch fobs for the boys. She is described as a short, plump, attractive looking girl, who cared little or nothing for the society of men. Her imbu was wholly taken up with religious and charitable work since she was a child. She met the man that killed her at Lincoln. He was a carpenter, played the violin of the Volunteers and evidenced the character of a Christian character. He was well liked and none of the officers would have suspected him of such a crime. Their theory is that hopeless infatuation for the girl drove him insane. In no other way can they account for the shocking occurrence.

Mother Objects to Lover.

While Lieutenant Townsley was home last winter Katherizer came to Omaha to visit her. Mrs. Townsley either objected to the man or the fact that he was a Volunteer. The girl met him downtown. It is said she even accepted a gift from him. This is where friends of the family think she erred.

When Grace went to Lincoln a short time ago, after spending the winter at home, it was thought by her mother she would come back. But Grace wrote for her trunk. The mother sent back word that she would have to come and get it. This the lieutenant did, removed every evidence of a Christian character. He was well liked and none of the officers would have suspected him of such a crime. Their theory is that hopeless infatuation for the girl drove him insane. In no other way can they account for the shocking occurrence.

Don't Use Poor Oil.

For use on sewing machines, bicycles and all purposes requiring a fine lubricant the best is cheapest in the end. Genuine Singer oil can be obtained only at Singer stores. Look for the red S. 134 Douglas street, Omaha; 488 North 24th street, South Omaha, Neb.

BRANDS BUY MORE SEEDS.

Hundreds of Sacks of Bulk Seeds on Sale Saturday. H. J. Foskett, receiver for the bankrupt Western Seed company, sells up the bulk seeds of every description from this stock, consisting of hundreds of sacks of corn, beet, melon, cucumber, tomato, onion, radish, lettuce, cabbage, celery, asparagus, parsley, squash, pumpkin, bean, sweet corn, peas, etc.; also red clover, red top, white clover and meadow grass seed.

Important Notice.

Effective Sunday, May 14, the Rock Island system will inaugurate daily Pullman buffet sleeping car service between Omaha and Wichita and Caldwell, Kan. This car will leave Omaha in Oklahoma and Texas express at 4:25 p. m., arriving Wichita the following morning 6:15. Caldwell 7:25. Returning, will leave Caldwell at 8:35 p. m., Wichita 10:25 p. m., arriving Omaha 11:40 the following morning. This arrangement will give practically through standard sleeping car service between Omaha and Fort Worth car enroute without leaving train. For further information call at 123 Farnam street.

A Most Excellent Remedy for Whooping Cough.

(From Miner County Democrat, Haverhill, N. H.) It isn't often that the Democrat takes any stock in proprietary preparations, but having had occasion to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a recent case of whooping cough we found it a most excellent remedy, and one that gives the most immediate relief. Being pleasant to the taste children do not object to taking it, and it keeps the cough loose, and it given freely and as directed, there is practically no danger whatever from the disease.

The new towns along the Chicago Great Western railway offer wonderful openings for all lines of business and trade. Talk gives particulars. For sample copy address Edwin E. Magill, Mgr., Townsite Dept., Chicago Great Western railway, Omaha, Neb.

In a pinch, use Allen's Foot-Paste.

Welcome to Supreme Chancellor.

S. W. Marks, state librarian for the colored Knights of Pythias of West Virginia and supreme chancellor of the colored divisions of the world, will be a guest of the Omaha colored Knights Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and will be in the city in fine style by the local members of the order. The guest will arrive in the city Friday.

FATHER JUDGE BADLY HURT

Pastor of Sacred Heart Church Laid Up as Result of Scalded Injury.

WANTS THE BARRIER REMOVED

Man Objects to Injunction Which Keeps Him of Premises Occupied by Wife.

Peter Reeplog of Benson, in an answer filed in the district court, asks to have set aside a restraining order which prevents him from entering upon the home premises occupied by his wife. He also claims to have bought all the property, tools and the household goods with his own money and wants title to the property quieted in him, also that he be given the custody of their one child, a minor. The couple own half a dozen lots in Benson, and Reeplog alleges he has been barred from his home without any good reason.

"MARTIN" JULIAN IN LINCOLN

Former Omaha Newspaper Man Manager of Western Newspaper Union Plant at Capital.

E. W. Julian, formerly an Omaha newspaper man and for a number of years in the service of the Western Newspaper union as traveling salesman, has been appointed manager of the company's house at Lincoln, Mr. Julian, though a young man, has had much experience in a newspaper way, having been a publisher at Chadron and having rendered service in a editorial capacity on Deadwood and Omaha dailies. He is a practical printer of the latter-day school.

Announcements of the Theaters.

A series of living pictures in which a number of pretty Omaha girls and young men will serve as the models will be the prominent card of the big amateur show at the Orpheum on Saturday night. Besides the Venus and Adams types of poses there will be shown a number of comedy subjects in the historical and comedy line that have never been seen in this city. Other features on the program are Fanny Copeland and Hazel Knoddel, singers and dancers; Joe Newman, elocutionist; Lucille Gibbons, comedienne; Joe Smith, acrobat; Harry Brown, gymnast; Ada Davies, trapeze performer; Emma Richards, balletist; Ellen Thompson, contortionist; Hattie White, vocalist; Anna Brown, yodler; Sidney Melborn, Australian comedian; Alice McKenzie, singer; Nellie Brown, silver clog dancer; Blanche Weaver, trapeze performer; Emma Richards, balletist; and East and West, the opposite comedians. Patrons are requested to come early on Saturday night as the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock sharp.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

J. M. Curtis of Columbus is in the city. Representative J. H. Davis of Gibbon is in the city. C. C. Flansburg of Lincoln was in the city on business Thursday. J. F. McFadden of Emerson, Ia., was a visitor in Omaha yesterday.

M. N. Spencer of Red Oak, Ia., was in Omaha Thursday on business. H. C. Sutter, a resident of Norfolk, is in the city, a guest of the Hotelway. F. J. Wright of Victor, Colo., registered yesterday at the Omaha Grain exchange. James Blanchard of Fremont and F. K. Miller of Holdrege are Nebraskans stopping at the Millard.

Charles P. Ross of Norfolk, W. H. Pugh of Lincoln and J. J. Johnson of Norfolk are Omaha visitors, making the Murray their headquarters for a few days.

MOTHERS ARE HELPED

THEIR HEALTH RESTORED Happiness of Thousands of Homes Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

A devoted mother seems to listen to the call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells her to guard her health, and before she realizes it some derangement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happiness and amiability.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

FATHER JUDGE BADLY HURT

Pastor of Sacred Heart Church Laid Up as Result of Scalded Injury.

WANTS THE BARRIER REMOVED

Man Objects to Injunction Which Keeps Him of Premises Occupied by Wife.

Peter Reeplog of Benson, in an answer filed in the district court, asks to have set aside a restraining order which prevents him from entering upon the home premises occupied by his wife. He also claims to have bought all the property, tools and the household goods with his own money and wants title to the property quieted in him, also that he be given the custody of their one child, a minor. The couple own half a dozen lots in Benson, and Reeplog alleges he has been barred from his home without any good reason.

"MARTIN" JULIAN IN LINCOLN

Former Omaha Newspaper Man Manager of Western Newspaper Union Plant at Capital.

E. W. Julian, formerly an Omaha newspaper man and for a number of years in the service of the Western Newspaper union as traveling salesman, has been appointed manager of the company's house at Lincoln, Mr. Julian, though a young man, has had much experience in a newspaper way, having been a publisher at Chadron and having rendered service in a editorial capacity on Deadwood and Omaha dailies. He is a practical printer of the latter-day school.

Announcements of the Theaters.

A series of living pictures in which a number of pretty Omaha girls and young men will serve as the models will be the prominent card of the big amateur show at the Orpheum on Saturday night. Besides the Venus and Adams types of poses there will be shown a number of comedy subjects in the historical and comedy line that have never been seen in this city. Other features on the program are Fanny Copeland and Hazel Knoddel, singers and dancers; Joe Newman, elocutionist; Lucille Gibbons, comedienne; Joe Smith, acrobat; Harry Brown, gymnast; Ada Davies, trapeze performer; Emma Richards, balletist; Ellen Thompson, contortionist; Hattie White, vocalist; Anna Brown, yodler; Sidney Melborn, Australian comedian; Alice McKenzie, singer; Nellie Brown, silver clog dancer; Blanche Weaver, trapeze performer; Emma Richards, balletist; and East and West, the opposite comedians. Patrons are requested to come early on Saturday night as the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock sharp.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

J. M. Curtis of Columbus is in the city. Representative J. H. Davis of Gibbon is in the city. C. C. Flansburg of Lincoln was in the city on business Thursday. J. F. McFadden of Emerson, Ia., was a visitor in Omaha yesterday.

M. N. Spencer of Red Oak, Ia., was in Omaha Thursday on business. H. C. Sutter, a resident of Norfolk, is in the city, a guest of the Hotelway. F. J. Wright of Victor, Colo., registered yesterday at the Omaha Grain exchange. James Blanchard of Fremont and F. K. Miller of Holdrege are Nebraskans stopping at the Millard.

Charles P. Ross of Norfolk, W. H. Pugh of Lincoln and J. J. Johnson of Norfolk are Omaha visitors, making the Murray their headquarters for a few days.

MOTHERS ARE HELPED

THEIR HEALTH RESTORED Happiness of Thousands of Homes Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

A devoted mother seems to listen to the call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells her to guard her health, and before she realizes it some derangement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happiness and amiability.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.

John Drew's appearance is almost the last of the attractions booked for the regular season at the Boyd theater. Mr. Drew is offering a new play, one that is pronounced to be the best he has yet appeared in. The company supporting him is headed by Miss Margaret Lee, a young woman of great talent, and is made up of competent players under the direction of Charles Frohman. All of these conditions combine to make it certain that the opening performance of "The Duke of Killarney" at the Boyd this evening will be witnessed by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the theater. Mr. Drew will be seen at the Boyd on Saturday afternoon and evening in the same play.