General Contracting and Building Company Comes to Omaha with a Splendid Record Behind It.

The Capital City Brick and Pipe con pany, organized in 1801, have always held s position in the front rank of builders throughout the west. Many of the largestpublic buildings in Nebraska and Iowa are the product of their enterprise.

Their equipment and facilities for erecting heavy buildings is the most complete that modern engineering can provide, enabling them to do their work at the low-

They have always been close compett tors for western construction work, and where competition has been keenest their superior facilities have enabled them to carry off more than their share of the

Their business has increased to a point where it has been found necessary to maintain an office at Omaha as well as at Lincoln and Des Moines.

The company is managed by Mr. J. B. McGorrick, president; Mr. J. C. Mardia, vice president, and Mr. C. H. Myrick, secretary and treasurer, with offices at 213 Ramge building. Since March 1 they have been active bidders for Omaha construction work, especially the larger buildings. They have just closed a contract for erecting Allen Brest' new six-story building, 66x132 feet. Omaha faced brick will be used and the structure, while plain and substantial, will yet be attractive in appearance and an ernament to the city.

These gentlemen are also putting up the American Radiator company's four-story building, 66x132 feet. Omaha material will also be used in this building, which is designed to carry $00 pounds to the square

During the past year they have erected many large buildings, among which may be mentioned the physical building and the state farm building of the Nebrasica State university, H. P. Lau wholesale grocery building, city lighting and pumping station at Lincoln and the Norfolk Insans asylum. These buildings represent an outlay of over $350,600, and they were completed to the entire satisfaction of all parties concerned and within the time limit. Promptness is a matter of principle with the Canital City Brick and Pipe company.

At Des Meines they have erected some of the best buildings in the state, such as the court house, bity library. State Historical building. Movey hospital, Victoria. hotel, Citizens' National bank, Capital City State bank, Elks club house and many

Mr. Mardis and Mr. Myrick will make Omaha their home and The Bee blds them welcome. Their successful experience in the building line commends them to those who are counting upon valuable improvements in the future.

The Mikado.

The repition of this charming opera by ocal talent on Wednesday next at the Orcheum theater promises to be the event of the local musical season. So many and urgent requests, both oral and written. have been made to the Omaha Guards for a repition of the late successful performance that, having secured the services of the Omaha Operatic association, with the same cast of characters, chorus and orchestra, under the direction of W. H. Kinross, they take pleasure in announcing Wednesday's performance. It may be a long time before such an offering will again be made, and the many who by reason of other engagements were prevented from attending on April 26, when other important functions happened and claimed their attention, will doubtless take advantage o the present and last opportunity of hearing t home-talent production which ranks with the best of professional performances of one of the most popular of the comic operas. The stage and settings at the Orpheum are peculiarly well adapted for the production of opera, and the performers are all enthusiastic and confident that they will excel their first very successful effort. The prices will be popular, ranging from 25 cents to $1, and the box office will be open Monday, May 15.
