that may be adjusted to suit the convenience of each individual customer. Our credit plan is such a plan as high class stores may be proud of, and such a plan as appeals to the thinking people. It is a most just and honorable plan. Most liberal, too. We make our arrangements to suit your convenience instead of asking you to comply with cast-iron rules such as confront you at most of the credit stores. At Ridgley's you make the selection, and then we list to the arrangements that you want; we just leave it to you. This innovation has made Ridgley's the most popular credit institution in the country. We have always had the utmost confidence in the wage earners and our confidence has not been misplaced.

result of faithful work. If he lacks it is in warmth of temperament.
Mr. Cusaden's group was much appreciated. "The Romance" was played with notes, but the introduction and allegro (gypsy themes) were evidently old friends and given without the music, and in a thoroughly enjoyable manner.
Miss Porterfield sang "May Day," by Walthour, and as an encore "Just A-wearyin' for You." She has a voice of wide range and her tones are good.
The humorous recitation by Miss Fitch was very good.
Everybody likes to hear Dan Hurley recite. He is an old stager. What would the Creighton college boys do without him! Last night he was in fine trim. Besides his two numbers he told some good stories, much to the delight of the audience.
Mr. Pates is the possessor of a tenor voice more lyric than robust in quality, and with good middle tones. He sings in the Italian style. "The Celeste Aida" aria was his most successful number. A large bunch of American Beauties fell to his share.

The last group was given by Dr. Laird, the cornetist. He abandoned the "Infantus" and played instead Gounod's "For ever with the Lord" and a composition by Hoch.

Mrs. Andrews and Mr. Simms were the accompanists, and did their usual conscientious work.

Author of the American Curfew

Colonel Alexander Hoagland, originator of the American curfew and friend of the new boys, arrived in Omaha on the Burlington yesterday evening, after touring cities in various states of the union, and will next Monday night be present at the annual meeting of the Omaha branch of the Y. M. C. A. association at the Y. M. C. A. building. President O. W. Henry, A. W. Clark and others will address the meeting. It is expected that President Hoagland will speak in some of the churches Sabbath morning and evening next. Colonel Hoagland is a great favorite here. He is a native of Omaha. His address on Sabbath night will be a review of the proceedings of the World's International Conference at the World's Fair July 21st.

An Attack of Croup Warded Off.
"Our little girl, two and one-half years old, woke up coughing with the croup one evening recently. We happened to have some of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on hand and gave her two doses of it. She went back to sleep and woke up next morning without a trace of cold. It is certainly a great medicine," says A. J. Luginbill, editor of Star, Villa Rica, Ga. An attack of croup can always be warded off by giving this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail. It contains no harmful or dangerous drug and may be given to the smallest child with perfect confidence.

North Omaha Improvers.
The North Omaha Improvement club has been busy making plans for a second season. The city living north of Lake street to protest against the proposed action of the district court in the sum of $500. Everybody is requested to attend Saturday night, May 23.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There will be a meeting of the Grand View Improvement club Saturday evening at 205 South Fourth street.

August Christensen was convicted of assault and battery yesterday evening in the district court. The jury returning the verdict late in the day.

The Omaha Philosophical society will meet at its usual place, Royal Achates hall, Seventeenth and Douglas streets, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Anna O. Higgins will read a paper on "History of Philosophy." The public is invited. Admission free.

Ellis Monroe, colored, who stabbed Robert Mitchell with a razor in their room on North Sixteenth street about a week ago, was Friday morning arraigned before Judge Sullivan on a charge of cutting with intent to kill. She waived her preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court in the sum of $500.

In handing down a decree in the divorce case of Eugene N. Lloyd against Carrie C. Judge Sutton grants the decree to the wife on her cross-petition. He finds that she has been a faithful and loving wife and that the husband has not supported her as he has treated her cruelly and is a habitual drunkard. He is ordered to pay the costs of the suit, also $1,500 alimony and $50 for attorney fees.

L. P. Smith, a character well known to the police of the city, got drunk Thursday night and started to raise a disturbance with the lodgers of the Nebraska rooming house on lower Douglas street. So strenuously did he persist in keeping up his trouble making that a majority of the lodgers started to gather up their effects preparatory to vacating the place, when the police arrived and put Smith under arrest. Friday morning he was fined $5 and costs.

In a suit for divorce filed in district court Daniel K. Shreve first alleges that his wife, Mary H., caused him to leave the home on a farm in Harrison county, Iowa, because she would not consent to live on the farm. For a second reason he alleges that a threat was made to fill one of his ears with molten lead while he slept, which worried some. Then he charges general bad temper and thinks he should be given a decree.

ALGOE RELEASED ON BOND

Dunn's Friend, the Michigan Blackmailer, is Out of Jail.

MORE NEWS OF THIS PAIR'S OUTRAGES

Chief of Police in Jackson Tells How They Practiced Extortion There—Have Bank Record.

Dunn's friend, Morris S. Algoe, the Michigan blackmailer, was released from the county jail at about 5:15 yesterday afternoon on a bond procured from the American Bonding company of the New York Life building, of which A. J. Love is manager. The bond was for the stipulated amount, $100.

Algoe has been in jail since early Thursday afternoon, soon after he was bound over from the police court on the penitentiary charge of blackmailing, to await trial in the district court.

The female member of this union was at the jail when her consort was released. She fell on his neck and made a big ado over him, and he returned her conjugal affections. The scene was a strikingly cordial one, at least it had every appearance of such. The two persons seemed genuinely happy to be together again and strolled off downtown chatting and laughing as if they had achieved a distinct triumph.

Algoe and his woman were parading down Sixteenth street, when in front of the federal building a man recognizing them, pointed to the Algoes and exclaimed: "There they are, the Algoes." Of course, this attracted some attention and directly many eyes were focused upon them.

"Yes, this is us," retorted the woman, giving her head a flippant little toss, as she whirled around and continued her march with the man.

More News of Their Crimes.
More interesting information concerning J. J. Dunn's clients, the Algoes, has been received by Chief of Police Donahue. The chief has received a letter from Chief of Police Boyce of Jackson, Mich., to which the latter chief referred in his telegram that told of these people being blackmailers and setting several cases in that city, their former home.

Despite the bland, brazen assertions attributed to this woman (who dared not take the witness stand in the police court trial) by her official newspaper organ in Omaha that she could not understand why such charges should be laid at her door, that she never was in such trouble before in her life, etc., Chief of Police Boyce of Jackson, Mich., a man who never, so far as known, ran counter to the political machinations of this newspaper or its allies, the men who are standing sponsor for this pair, assures Chief Donahue that these people certainly are professional blackmailers and are people to be shunned.

Chief Donahue said: "I have received a letter from Jackson, Mich., more than bearing out the assertions made in the telegrams recently. We happened to have information that they tried to get $2,000 from one man, but settled for $700, and that they were involved in other blackmailing schemes in Michigan. The letter says that Mrs. Algoe's maiden name was Lillian Watson; that she married a man named Shellberg, from whom she is divorced, and lived with him about a year, later marrying Algoe. Further, that she has lived a fast life since she was old enough to do so. As the letter contains confidential information, I am unable to give more of it to the public."

Wanted to Talk with Him.
Friday morning the woman whom this man claims as his wife had the temerity to call for her alleged husband over the telephone. One of the men at the jail informed her that the man was in his cell.

"Well, will you please call him to the phone? I'd like to speak to him."
"No, madam, we don't call prisoners to the telephone," was the prompt reply.

Mrs. Algoe, however, those who know her by appearing about the streets Friday without eyeglasses on. While in the police court she wore the glasses and a newspaper man on Farnam street, east of Fourteenth, who saw her there, asked her Friday morning, "Why, I thought you wore glasses?" "Oh, I did in police court," replied the woman, "because I did not want the people who saw me there to recognize me on the street."

Every step of the woman's career since she has been in Omaha, all her acts prove beyond doubt to have been done with a purpose. It was recalled Friday by parties at the places where she has stopped for a longer or a shorter time that she would be seen as a suspected person at one time and again without any glasses.

More of Their Exploits.
Chief of Police Donahue and other people in Omaha are learning something new each day, it seems, regarding this festive pair of wanderers. Mrs. J. J. Dunn has graciously taken under his protecting wing other attorneys having declined the dirty job.

It appears that Algoe and the female had picked out Acting Mayor Zimmerman as one of their victims. But Mr. Zimmerman has on numerous occasions did the confront Zimmerman with various propositions, borrowing money and such things and one day the male member of the pair met him on the street and told him he had a proposition for which he wanted the services of an attorney.

"Can you suggest an attorney for me to see?" he asked Zimmerman.
"I know a little law," replied Zimmerman.

Seats for Chicago Orchestra.
Reserve seats for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra concerts at the Auditorium, on Sunday and Monday nights, began yesterday. The very reasonable prices charged for these concerts will in all probability tax the seating capacity of the Auditorium, and the excellent programs, both vocal and instrumental, will certainly meet with hearty approval at the hands of the audiences. The concerts will begin at 8:15 on Sunday and Monday evenings. The box office at the Auditorium will be open all day Saturday and Sunday.

Building Permits.
The city has issued permits to Nels Clive for a $2,000 frame dwelling at 287 Bristol; C. Kaibler, for a $1,750 frame dwelling at Twelfth and Farnam; George & Co., $7,500 brick store at southeast corner of Twelfth and Farnam; G. G. Squires, $2,500 frame dwelling at Thirty-seventh and Jones.

What These Women Need is Per-na, the Spring Tonic.

A nervous person is one who has only a small stock of nervous vitality. Each day a little more vitality is expended than is gained.

Nervousness is more common among women than men. Women are more apt to overtax their vitality in many ways.

Instead of taking nervines, some medicine should be taken that will promote digestion and sound sleep. Sleep is the great invigorator of the nervous system.

Good digestion furnishes the proper materials from which nerves are made. Sleep and digestion—these are the corner stones of strong nerves and splendid health.

NERVOUS-EMACIATED-NO APPETITE

During the Spring Months Many Women Suffer From Extreme Lassitude, Otherwise Known as Spring Catarrh.

What These Women Need is Per-na, the Spring Tonic.

A nervous person is one who has only a small stock of nervous vitality. Each day a little more vitality is expended than is gained.

Nervousness is more common among women than men. Women are more apt to overtax their vitality in many ways.

Instead of taking nervines, some medicine should be taken that will promote digestion and sound sleep. Sleep is the great invigorator of the nervous system.

Good digestion furnishes the proper materials from which nerves are made. Sleep and digestion—these are the corner stones of strong nerves and splendid health.

Per-na produces good digestion by correcting any catarrhal condition that may exist in the stomach or bowels.

Per-na equalizes the circulation of the blood, breaks up all congestions, and facilitates sound, refreshing sleep.

Per-na cures nervousness by removing the cause.

APPETITE PICKLE—GREW THIN AND HAGGARD, RESTORED BY PER-NA. Mrs. Tanzon Vance, 428 3d St., Portland, Ore., art teacher, member Kilo Art Club, also member Eastern Star, writes:

"I suffered for months with stomach trouble and indigestion which threatened to undermine my health. My appetite was poor and fickle and I would go for days without eating a good meal."

"The consequences were that I lost flesh and grew to look thin and haggard. My doctor tried to help me, but when I had taken his medicine for a month without being benefited, I thought it was time to make a change."

"I asked him what he knew of Per-na, and he said he did not think it would hurt me to try it. After using it for a month I found that I was greatly improved and in a little over two months I was entirely well. So much for Per-na."

HEADACHE—BACKACHE—EXTREME NERVOUSNESS. Miss Nora Sarland, 1527 Chapel street, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"Per-na is the one medicine which I have strong faith in. I suffered for years with headaches, backaches and extreme nervousness. Nothing benefited me until I used Per-na and one bottle of this made a great change in me, so I continued its use until perfect health was restored."

THE BANE OF HER LIFE WAS STOMACH TROUBLE. Miss Gertrude Poque, 1402 Central Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio, Secretary Social Economics Club writes:

"Stomach trouble has been the bane of my existence for a good many years. I used a number of remedies, but nothing helped me until I took the right medicine. Per-na took hold of the trouble and soon exterminated it from the system."

"Maybe I can give you the desired information." Asked him to their room.

"All right," quickly rejoined the fellow, and he invited Zimmerman to his hotel room instead of going with the public official to the latter's office.

"No, I haven't time now," said Zimmerman. Then Zimmerman gave the man the card of the attorneys with whom he is associated and told him he could get what information he wanted there.

There may be food for thought in the reflection that Weaver & Gilder did not become the attorneys of these blackmailers, but that Ignatius J. Dunn is their attorney. And that leads on to another thought.

Friday morning the female member of this couple was advised in peremptory manner by the clerk of the hotel where she is stopping that it would be necessary for her to get her things together and pay her bill.

"I have no money," the woman blandly admitted, "but I'll go and give some from my attorney; he said he would furnish it for me."

Is your health shattered, your vitality exhausted, and are you crushed under the depressing burden of some secret weakness or wasting disease? Private diseases and weaknesses of men are their worst enemies. They produce startling weaknesses, cause debilitating drains, destroy sexual instincts, cause agonizing urinary troubles and rob men of priceless manhood and health. It is humiliating to know that your manly strength is slipping away—to know there is some private disease or weakness lurking in the system—and realize that your nervous system is tottering under the strain. Perhaps you no longer enjoy your daily labors or duties; your nights are restless and unrefreshing, and each day you realize more and more your physical impotence and weaknesses, and you have neither the strength or ambition to maintain your position among your fellow men.

While it is terrible to be in this condition, it is still worse to allow such trouble to progress and make still more serious inroads upon the constitution. If it would then fill your whole life with failure, misery and woe. We have devoted many years exclusively to treating this class of diseases, attended with the greatest success, and have gladdened the hearts of thousands of young and middle-aged men who were plunging toward the grave, restoring them to perfect specimens of physical manhood, full of vim, vigor and vitality. We are thoroughly conversant with every minute detail connected with such cases, and encourage and counsel the patient by good advice, while skill and medicines restore him back to health, strength and happiness.

We cure quickly, safely and thoroughly: Stricture, Varicocele, Emissions, Nervo-Sexual Debility, Impotency, Blood Poison (Syphilis), Rectal, Kidney and Urinary Diseases, and all diseases and weaknesses of men due to inheritance, evil habits, excesses, self-abuse or the result of specific or private diseases.

Troubled With Indigestion—Lost Flesh Every Day.

Miss Margaret Little, 47 Hoyt street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I have been troubled with constipation and indigestion for over a year. My complexion was ruined and I was losing flesh every day."

"The doctor advised me to go to a sanitarium, but a number of people advised me to try Per-na before going to that expense, and I did so. I found that the first bottle regulated my bowels and cleared my complexion, and by the time I had taken six bottles my stomach and digestion were in perfect working order and have remained so ever since."

"As this was very much cheaper than going to a sanitarium, I have every reason to be grateful, and I am."

DOCTORS FOR MEN

It is a serious thing that men contract diseases or weaknesses, but the most serious results quickly follow neglect or improper treatment.
