Young Marcus Gets a Ride. Maurice Marcus, a crippled youth who at imes sells newspapers and at other times sangs around the New theater, has a failng that is likely to get him into serious trouble unless he breaks himself of it. He is to have a hearing in police court this morning on the charge of obtaining a livery rig under false pretenses. F. C. Fullberg, proprietor of a livery barn, is the complainant and he rather reluctantly admitted to the police that this is the fourth time young Marcus has victimized him.

Young Marcus has developed a habit of hiring livery rigs by telephone, giving the name of some well known business man. In this instance Marcus telephoned Sunday night to Fullberg giving the name of W. B. Ramsey, a real estate dealer, ordering a rig sent to the Ogden hotel. To the clerk of the hotel he also, it is alleged, telephoned in Ramsey's name asking that the ig be cared for until he reached there.

Later Fullberg discovered that Mr. Ramsey had not ordered or used the rig, but that young Marcus had instead enjoyed a ride with some girl friend into the coun-2.225 try and back. ment of Store. MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., May 22.-(Spe ial Telegram.)-When clerks entered the basement of the Mutual Benefit store this morning they found the lifeless body of E. H. Wilbur hanging from a rafter, and as yet no cause has been found for the deed. Mr. Wilbur purchased the store of R. R. Waterbury Thursday and only recently came to this city from Grundy Center, his family not having moved here yet. Bert Weitholter, a clerk, saw the dim outline of the proprietor's body when he opened the basement. He had looped a rope over a brace in the joist and kicked box from under him. From an examination of the body the deed was evidently committed Sunday night, as the man was, seen in church Sunday.

Not the slightest cause is known. He had paid for the stock and had money in the bank. A traveling man who had talked with him Saturday night and who has known him for years said today that he noticed a strange look in the man's eyes and a silly, unusual smile on his face.
