TOM SLOAN IS INDICTED

Former United States Commissioner Accused by Federal Grand Jury.

CHARGE IS FOR FRAUDULENT CLAIMS

Jury Adjourns, Which Puts End to So-Called Beef Trust Investigation in Omaha
Just Now.

Former United States Commissioner Thomas L. Sloan of Fender was indicted by the federal grand jury, as implied Friday by the district attorney's office in refusing either to deny or confirm the report of the indictment, which found its way to the Bee office. The jury made its return Saturday morning, completing its work.

This is the jury before which the investigation of the Beef trust has been conducted. The testimony taken will be compiled and transmitted to Chicago for use there.

Sloan was indicted on the charge of presenting fraudulent and fictitious claims for services rendered as United States commissioner during the quarter ending September 30, 1902. The total amount of the claim rendered by Commissioner Sloan for the quarter's services was $239,50. However, of this amount but $18,30 were found by Examiner Finch to be fraudulent, and it is upon this specific latter amount that the indictment is brought. There are eight counts in the indictment, which covers fifteen or twenty typewritten pages, exclusive of copies of the bills and affidavits supporting the claims and upon which payment was made.

The fraudulent practices are alleged in the indictment to have grown out of scores of witness fees cases, in hearings in liquor cases held before Sloan as commissioner at Fender and elsewhere on the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations.

Mr. Sloan appeared before District Clerk Hoyt Saturday afternoon and gave bond in $1,000 before the United States district court.

Mr. Sloan is not disposed to say any-

THIRTY-THREE INDICTMENTS

The grand jury which convened May 3 and adjourned sine die at noon Saturday, has returned during its sittings thirty-three indictments. These have largely been for minor postoffice cases, additional indictments against cattle men for illegal fence-ing of public lands, one or two counterfeiting cases, two for information for infringements of the federal injunction of the summer of 1904; the indictment against former United States Commissioner Thomas L. Sloan for rendering fraudulent claims for services rendered as such commissioner, one for cutting timber on government lands, and two for violation of the interstate commerce laws in reference to shipping game out of the state.

The principal interest which has surrounded the sitting of the grand jury has been the investigation of the Beef trust cases to ascertain if there had been any violations of the anti-trust or interstate commerce laws. The investigation of these cases began May 12, and have continued almost uninterruptedly since. There have been 12 witnesses examined in these cases and the entire transcript of the testimony will comprise between 600 and 700 pages.
This transcript is to be forwarded when completed, which will take about ten days yet, to Chicago for the information of United States District Attorney Morrison, who has charge of the Beef trust investigations there.

Prior to its adjournment Saturday noon, the grand jury adopted a series of resolutions of thanks to the court and court officers for courtesies extended and in at-testation of the efficiency of the district attorney and his assistants.

LARGEST CLASS GRADUATED

One Hundred and Seventy-Five Seniors to Leave Omaha
High School.

Details of the high school commencement program will not be ready for publication until next Thursday, when the ten seniors competing for honors in making orations and reading essays will be chosen on the merits of delivery by the high school faculty.

Principal Waterhouse has announced that the graduating class will number 175, or three more than last year, making it the largest class in the history of the institution. Of the total number about eighty are boys, or a greater proportion of this sex than ever before.

Memorial day exercises will be held by the high school Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Methodist church. Former Senator Manderson will deliver the address and Hubert Owen will recite "Old Glory." Music will be given by the high school octet. The program will be simple and carried out minus ostentation.

The Elaine society had contemplated formally presenting the school with a series of fifteen pictures, portraying the proce-sion of the Holy Grail, on Monday afternoon, but this will be postponed in view of the Memorial day exercises. The pictures cost $50 and are said to be among the finest of their kind ever brought into the middle west.

AFTER WORK AND NOT TIE-UP

John Grant Says He Wants Paving, but is Not Seeking More Litigation.

Paving Contractor Grant, who, with other contractors, has been suspected of a desire to involve paving laws and specifications in litigation because they were not suited, was asked if he expected to try for any of the numerous paving jobs to be done this year.

"Yes, sir, I expect to go after some of the work," was the reply.

To friends Grant disclaimed any intention of endeavoring again to tie up the paving situation. He has asked the city engineer for an interpretation of sidewalk specifications and is expected to bid for the cement construction, which he had for several years.

BLACKMAILERS APPEAR IN COURT WITHOUT LAWYER WHO CHAMPIONED THEIR CAUSE.

Judge Day will appoint counsel for the defendants in the case of blackmailing.

MAN AND WOMAN PLEAD NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE OF BLACKMAILING AND RETURN TO CELLS.

Even I. J. Dunn has concluded that he had hold of a bad proposition in the Algoe cases, and has quit. This early in the game he has got enough. He did not appear with them when they were arraigned in Judge Day's court Saturday morning.
They stood up before the court without counsel and pleaded not guilty to the seven counts in the complaint against them for blackmail committed against Edward Rosenwater.

In reply to the questions of the court the man and the woman both said they had no attorney and no money to employ one.

After a moment's consideration Judge Day said: "I will not appoint counsel for you now, but will take until Monday, probably, to consider the matter. You will then be notified as to the attorney I will name to look after your interests."

During the arraignment Mrs. Algoe seemed to be on the point of breaking down. There was an uncertain quiver about the mouth and her eyes looked as if ready to brim over, but she managed to restrain herself and went quietly away with the deputy sheriff.

Dunn has little to say.

Asked why he dropped the blackmailers, whom he so ardently had championed, and in whose behalf he gave out so many ghost stories of what he proposed to do and how he was going to show up certain people, Dunn, who somehow appears in a meek mood than for years, said:

"Oh, I merely dropped them; that's all there is to it. I found my clients had too many friends in the Bee building."

The fact that he did so soon after the Algoe woman was quoted in the Daily News as saying that had it not been for Dunn they never would have gone this far with their plot, is a matter of considerable comment on the streets.

CITY ASSESSMENT INCREASES

Returns Show Nearly Million and Half More, but Some May Be Lopped Off.

County Assessor Reed has now received complete returns from his deputy assessors in the city of Omaha. The returns show an increase of $1,400,000 over the real estate assessment for 1904. The figures for this year are $20,966,225, while for 1904 they were $19,566,225.

Mr. Reed is of the opinion there will be some reduction from this total, for the reason that, under instructions from the state board, he has placed on the list properties like the Young Men's Christian association, Crown law school and the parsonages of the city. It is expected these properties will make an effort to be made exempt when the equalization board goes into session.

The deputy county assessors have, it is understood, kept the valuations on good business property at a pretty stiff figure; at least they have not reduced it at all from last year. The city assessment figures, made under direction of Tax Commissioner Fleming, reached the total of $71-100,115. It is believed this increase over the county figures just compiled is mostly scattered over outside property that is not considered as valuable now as it used to be.

MAYOR AND BRIDE ARE LATE

City Chief Executive and Mrs. Moore Have Been Expected Home
Several Days.

Although Mayor and Mrs. Moore were scheduled to leave Phoenix, Ariz., for home about May 25, they have not arrived, and correspondents at the city hall have not received any word concerning the matter.
Those in close touch with the mayor say all they know is that he has written that he would resume his official duties about June 1. It is thought the continued cold weather in Nebraska is what is keeping the mayor and his bride away. For some time it has been as hot in Phoenix as it usually is here during the summer.

BUSINESS COLLEGE CLOSING

The annual commencement exercises of the Nebraska Business college were held Friday evening at Chambers' academy.
Twenty-five and a part of thirty. Many friends of the graduates were present and the affair was a very pleasing one. The program opened with an invocation by Rev.
A. S. Clark, followed with a piano solo by Mrs. W. M. Barnum, Secretary B. C.
Wade of the Young Men's Christian association delivered a pleasing address on the "Practical Side of Life" and was followed in a "Message to the Class" by Secretary Emma S. Hyde of the Young Women's Christian association. The principal address of the evening was by Superintendent W. N. Davidson of the city schools, on the relation of a business education to the course of instruction followed in the ordinary public schools. Francis J. Potter gave a couple of excellent musical numbers and the first part of the program closed with the presentation of diplomas to the class by President A. C. Ong.

A diversified program of a musical and literary character followed, the participants being Miss Anderson, who gave a piano solo; Fred G. M. Ritchie, two readings; vocal solo, Miss Barnum; piano solo, Miss Maureen Ong; and a vocal solo by Mrs.
Dale. The remainder of the evening was given over to an informal reception and a good time generally.

ANDERSON DENIES CHARGE

South Omaha Packing House Employee Pleads Not Guilty of Assault.

George Anderson, employed in one of the South Omaha packing houses, was arrested before Judge Manger in the United States district court Saturday morning for violation of the injunction order of July 24, 1904, which prohibited strikers from interfering with or assaulting strike breakers.
He pleaded not guilty. It appears that Anderson, who was a striker during the packing house strike last summer, returned to work after the strike was declared off, and an ugly feeling has existed between the old strikers who were re-employed and the strike breakers who held onto their jobs.
Anderson was charged with assaulting one of these strike breakers May 7. This was deemed a violation of the injunction order, and hence Anderson's arrest by the United States officers and his subsequent indictment.
