PROPRIETOR IS FORCIBLY EJECTED

Whitelaw Removed as Receiver Under Former Proceedings and Freeman L. Reed Appointed by Referee.

Developments in the bankruptcy of William G. Woodbury of the Woodbury company came thick and fast last night. W. S. Mayne, referee in bankruptcy, it was said, was responsible for the vacating of the order making A. Whitelaw receiver under the original petition filed some days ago by certain creditors of Mr. Woodbury and issuing another order appointing Freeman L. Reed, former clerk of the district court, receiver at the instance of the First National bank and other large creditors of the company.

The original proceedings were merely against Mr. Woodbury personally, but it now appears that the firm, which was in-corporated but three days before Mr. claim is one of about $50,000 of claims for Woodbury was declared a bankrupt, is in-

Deputy United States Marshal Cole appeared at the store last evening and demanded possession of the stock, etc., in the name of Mr. Reed as receiver. This was refused by Mr. Woodbury, whereupon that it be paved with asphalt and brought Deputy Cole, it is said, ejected Mr. Woodbury from the building, invited the customera to leave the building, discharged the help and then locked the place. Mr. Reed has been in the store for the last week under an arrangement with the First National bank of this city, which is a creditor to the amount of $21,000, acting practically as receiver for the insolvent

The liabilities of the Woodbury company, as stated a few days ago, are said to be $34,000, and Mr. Woodbury estimated the stock and fixtures at $69,000.

Mr. Reed, when seen last night, declined to say anything beyond that he had been appointed receiver at the instance of the Fir t National bank, M. E. Smith & Co. of Omaha and other large creditors, and that he was now in possession of the business. He admitted that it was unlikely that the firm would resume business.

Action a Surprise. This action on the part of the bank and other creditors in closing the store came as a surprise to Mr. Woodbury and his attorney. George Stillman, attorney for Mr. Woodbury, had this to say last night: At 7:30 o'clock last evening while at dinner I was called to the Woodbury store, where I found F. L. Reed. Emmet Tinley, W. A. Groneweg and United States Deputy Marshal Colc. I was informed that Mr. Reed had been appointed receiver by W. S. Mayne, referee in bankruptcy, and a demand was made upon Mr. Woodbury for possession of the store, which upon my advice he refused. Marshal Cole thereupon forcibly ejected Mr. Woodbury from the premises, locked the doors, after inviting customers in the store to leave and discharging the help. As I have had no opportunity to examine any of the papers filed in this proceeding I can hazard no opinion as to the course to be pursued by the Woodbury company, but will state generally that I regard the steps taken by the At 7:30 o'clock last evening while at dinthe Woodbury company, but will state generally that I regard the steps taken by the First National bank of this city and M. E. Smith & Co. of Omaha as a most outrageous invasion of the property rights of this company and one for which they will be called strictly to account. When it is recalled that no court has passed upon any of the allegations made by these parties; that in none of these various proceedings have the issues been made up, and no one has any assurance and can give none that any judgment can or will be rendered against the Woodbury company, it is hard to conceive how any person s property said:

I was regularly appointed and qualified as receiver in bankruptcy of William G. Woodbury, and as such I am an officer of the United States district court and am subject only to the orders of Judge Mc-Pherson, and no referee of that court has any authority to remove me. I have not consulted my attorney, George S. Wright, but I am informed by competent attorneys with whom I have talked that I can only be removed after I have had an opportunity to be heard, and then only when the court convicts me of fraud and abuse of my functions and failure properly to perform my duties as receiver. I certainly believe that W. S. Mayne exceeded his authority and do not propose to rest quietly under the imputations cast upon me by his extraordinary acts.

JESUIT REFUTES A REPORT

Father Wasmann Says Re Does Not Accept Darwin's Theory of Evolution.

BERLIN, May 27 .- (Special Cablegram to The Bee.)-In his recent lectures in Berlin Prof. Hackel announced as a most important admission on the part of the Roman Catholic church that the Jesuit. Pather Wasmann, a learned student of biology, had acknowledged the truth of the Darwinian theory. In an open letter to Prof. Haeckel, Father Wasmann now vehemently refutes this view, and quotes in his own defense two passages from his recently published book, which the professor brought forward in proof of his statement. The first runs: "Natural species were produced in their primitive form by God directly from matter," and the second, "Divine power and wisdom are manifested more clearly in that they bring about, by means of natural causes of racial development, such manifold morphological and biological conditions, than if they directly created the systematic species here referred to." "If you or anybody eine." Dr. Wasmann continues, "cherish the hope that my book may be the means of inaugurating a reform in school instruction in the Darwinian sense, that is more than optimism; it is illusion." The Jesuit father says that the evolution theory should be dealt with only in universities; it should not be introduced in any form into the curriculum of the lower schools, though teachers ought to be careful not to say anything which conflicts with the evolution theory, insofar as the latter is jus-
