Probable Effect of Equitable Life Controversy Causes Speculators to Assume Waiting Attitude.

NEW YORK June 1—Judged by the volume of transactions today not much importance transactions today not much market, but the earth of the day's operations must be anowed considerable significance as an index of the speculative attitude toward values. To a large extent the results of the day reached simply a retreat from the professional commitments to the long side of the market which were made yeaterday. Specific disclaimers of some of the authorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to the authorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions of the sauthorized rumors upon which advances were effected had something to do dissatisfactions was a factor today.

their standing. The desire to know the results of such a process may very probably have its part in the waiting attitude which is now pronounced in financial circles.

The day's news from the crops did not throw any very definite light on 'tielr prospects, but the feverish movements in the grain markets was significant of the problem still to be settled of the outcome of the crops. The money market was slightly firmer than during the recent lest, owing to the operations in connection with financing a purchase concerned in the organization of the new Smeiters' Securities company, but not much significance was attached to this and the weakness of stocks was not connected in any way with conditions in the money market. The continued pressure on the United States Steel stocks was of large sympathetic effect and considerable realizing in Reading and in Union Paesific was connected with the changing views of a prospect of dividend increases which were considered good in connection with yesterday's buying. The market made no effective recovery and closed easy. market made no effective recovery and
