LIFE OF A STRENUOUS JUDGE

One Day in Court Room Brings Divorce Cases in Rapid Succession.

TEST OF JUDGE DAY'S GREAT PATIENCE

From Juvenile Offenders to Penitentiary Convict Derelicts Join in Making Things Hum at His Bar.

Born with oceanic patience, Judge Day has found his supply put to the test. On taking his seat Assistant County Attorney Showell offered two victims to justice.

"You boys have been here before and I gave you six months and a hunch to behave yourselves. Here you are again, charged with daylight breaking and entering. I ought to send you to the penitentiary, but on the recommendation of the county attorney for a jail sentence I will send you to jail for six months. If you come here again look out, that's all."

"Yes, sah; thank you, sah," said the blacks in chorus.

The Mr. Young turned to Jailer Roach and murmured:

"Come on, Mistah Roach. Let's go home; we'll suah need snow shovels w'en we don't get out ergin."

"Your honor," said a lawyer sitting at the table, "I have a corrupt case was set for hearing here this morning. We are ready."

"Mr. Bullitt," said the court, "go over and see if Judge Sutton can hear this case, and if so, direct the parties to his court room."

So Judge Sutton is hearing the claim of Frank Brandt for the possession of his daughter, whom his sister has had for some time.

More Was Stacks Up. "Call the garnishment case," directed Judge Day. Attorneys Arthur Wakeley and George Shields took seats and opened up the examination of a witness in the proceeding. While this was in progress Mr. Buttinkoff No. 1 stilled up to Judge Day as he sat by the witness and opened up on his troubles or requests. This stopped the examination and Mr. Wakeley, who is now and again somewhat nervous, edged in his chair, to the delight of Judge Shields, while the witness sat buried in thought.

The conference over, Judge Day's visitor released him and the hearing went to a close, the attorneys being directed to draw the proper order in the matter.

Here enter Deputy Sheriff Nick Power and Prisoner L. J. Haseman, brought up for sentence on one conviction and one plea of guilty. All he can possibly draw is a free trip to Lincoln and several years' free board at the state safety vaults for corrupt citizens. But he's not got it yet. Mr. Wright and Mr. Hall are both on their feet sparring for a fair start in the water works case. Haseman sits at the table and perforce absorbs some law, with intent and interested manner. Nick Powers likewise, until he gets a sufficient quantity of signals Haseman and back they go "to the vaults below," like the men in the song who were monks and had a Friday ahead of them.

Water Board Case. In the water board contempt case, which along with the speed of pig moving over slippery ice. It took some time to get it to a point where it was intelligible and all hands settled to enjoy the trip further. Just here Mr. Buttinkoff No. 2, with urgent business sticking out in his manner, escorted a friend up on the off-side of the court and took possession of his ear. Judge Day submitted, albeit with some tokens of impatience, and took what he had coming.

With Mr. Wright and others were regarding him with some sort of admiration. But his request for excuse from jury duty or query as to the assassination of the czar, or how best to kill dandelions, or something equally important, was finally made and granted or taken under advisement, and the case went on as the visitor beamed on his companion and retired.

"Have it quiet in the court," says the bailiff.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Tax Commissioner Working on the Local Assessment Rolls.

TOTAL WILL BE ABOUT TWENTY MILLION

Board of Review to be Named at the Next Session of Council and Will Begin Session on June 15.

City Tax Commissioner O'Neil and his deputies are nearing the end of the 1905 assessment. This work is supposed to be completed not later than June 15. While no idea can be given at this time of the total valuation this year the expectation is that it will reach at least $20,000,000.

At the meeting of the city council to be held on Monday night it is presumed that a board of review will be named. The law provides that this board shall consist of three persons, one freeholder appointed by the mayor and one by the city treasurer.

This board of review is empowered to hold sessions daily between June 15 and June 25 to review the assessment of all real and personal property as returned by the deputies employed by the tax commissioner. The board is to correct all errors in the assessments, whether of undervaluation or excessive valuation. While engaged on the board the two freeholders shall be paid at the rate of $5 per day. Property owners shall have a notice of an increase in their assessment and be given an opportunity to be heard in regard to the same.

When the valuation is arrived at the mayor and council meet between July 1 and 15 and levy taxes for municipal purposes. It is understood that an effort will be made to keep the levy down as much as possible this year. The 1904 levy was $7.75 mill.

Patrick Coyle, superintendent of Cudahy's sweet pickle department, is in San Francisco. Representatives of the Cudahy company in San Francisco located Mr. Coyle and immediately notified General Manager Murphy here. Mr. Coyle is still quite ill and is worrying over his recent financial losses. It is understood that after a vacation spent on the coast Mr. Coyle will return to his home here and resume his duties at the Cudahy plant.

Russell Loses Right Leg. Albert Russell was struck by a switch engine in the yards near the foot of N street Wednesday afternoon and suffered the loss of his right leg. At the time of the accident Russell was picking up coal along the tracks and evidently became confused at the number of trains moving in the yards. The wheels of two cars ran over the right leg just below the knee, severing it from the body. Russell was also badly bruised about the head and chest. Dr. Sapp was called and had the injured man removed to the South Omaha hospital. Russell is 45 years of age and lives in the vicinity of the Half-Way house on Railroad avenue.

Frederick W. Jetter and Anna Ella Held were married Wednesday afternoon at the German Lutheran church, Twenty-ninth and M streets. Rev. Adam, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The church was filled with friends of the bride and groom, a large number of early settlers being present. The groom is a nephew of Balthis Jetter of the Jetter Brewing company, and the bride is one of the well known and popular young women of South Omaha. After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Jetter will take up their permanent residence here.

Repairs on Q Street Viaduct. Repairs are being made to the flooring at the west end of the Q street viaduct, and the bridge is closed to traffic. Passengers for West Q street are given transfers and walk across the bridge to the west end, where cars are in waiting. Teams are permitted to cross the bridge as far as Swift's and then the north and south inclines are used. It will probably be a week before the viaduct will be opened to traffic.

Liquor Dealers Entertained. About 30 delegates to the Nebraska Retail Liquor Dealers convention were entertained at the Jetter brewery, Thirtieth and J streets Wednesday afternoon. Owing to the repairs being made to the Q street viaduct the special cars were left at the viaduct and the delegates marched to the brewery, headed by Frank's band. The brewery buildings and grounds had been decorated for the occasion. After being welcomed by Balthis Jetter the delegates partook of luncheon, which was served in the bottling works. Following the refreshments the visitors lined up in front of the brewery and a photograph was secured. Before marching back to the cars Mr. Jetter and his employees.

Sell Liquor to Minors. Wednesday evening the four constables of the police force filed four complaints against saloon keepers, charging them with selling liquor to minors. Captain Shields declared that this practice must stop and a fine in police court does not have any effect, the saloon that persist in violating the law will be closed. Almost every day the police receive complaints from parents about saloon keepers selling liquor to their children.

Miss Mabel Manning has gone to Pleasant View farm, near Magwell, Ia., to spend three months.

"Mother Goose" will give an entertainment at the United Presbyterian church, Twenty-third and I streets, this evening. Dan Lucie made his escape from the street gang yesterday. Lucie was only recently sentenced to forty days on the rock pile for vagrancy.

Ben Carter, colored, was arrested yesterday for acting queerly. The police learned that Carter recently escaped from the asylum at Lincoln.

Horace T. Brass and Miss Minnie Coates were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Omaha Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Brass will reside at 506 North Thirteenth street.

"Stumpy" Departs from City. "Stumpy" Smith, who was arrested last week with Roy Carter, Edna M. and Joe Trattner, which quartet was known that time as the "boy bandits," has been allowed to leave town after being treated as a suspicious character and questioned by Chief of Detectives Dunn at police headquarters. Smith said he intended to west and begin life anew. He had just completed a sentence in the Douglas county jail.

TEST YOUR KIDNEYS

Thousands of Men and Women Die Every Year of Kidney Disease Because They Don't Know It. Time They Have Got It. The only way to keep watch of your health is to test your kidneys, but leave once a month. Just let a tumblerful of morning urine stand 24 hours, and if it becomes cloudy, or particles float about in it, or reddish-brown sediment forms, it is positive proof that your kidneys have been diseased for months and are utterly unable to do their work, and unless properly treated at once Bright's disease, diabetes, uric acid and blood poisoning, with fatal results, will surely follow.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE the standard of doctors and hospitals for disease of months and are utterly unable to do their work, and unless properly treated at once Bright's disease, diabetes, uric acid and blood poisoning, with fatal results, will surely follow.

PASSENGER TRAIN STRIKES MAN

Benjamin Floren of Curtis, Neb., in St. Joseph's Hospital, Hadly Hart. Benjamin Floren, from Curtis, Neb., thought to be an employee of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway, was struck by passenger train No. 14 in the South Omaha yards about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening and sustained a badly bruised head, a crushed right hand, a broken nose and is thought to be internally injured.

After the accident occurred Floren was hospitalized in the city hospital, where Dr. W. H. Brille and Dr. Kennedy looked after the man's injuries, after which he was removed to St. Joseph's hospital. It is not known as yet what the outcome of his injuries will be, but it is possible that he will not survive.

Particulars of the accident were given by Engineer Charles Soukes and Fireman William A. Rosson, engine crew of the train. They state that as their train was passing a point just west of the company's roundhouse, in South Omaha, they noticed a man lying on the track with his head partly on one of the rails. The usual signals were given and Engineer Soukes immediately set the brakes, but before the train could be stopped, the front of the engine struck Floren.

Floren is about 40 years old, and from articles found in his possession it is thought he is employed by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway in the capacity of section foreman or a position similar to that. He had a pass for himself from Curtis, Neb., to Holdrege, and also a pass for eight men between the same points.

Announcements of the Theaters. No more delightful place to spend one of the cool evenings now prevailing can be imagined than the Boyd theater, where the Ferris Stock company is presenting the best of plays in high class manner at popular prices. This evening "The Holy City," a religious melodrama, by Thomas W. Broadhurst, will be offered for the first time in Omaha. It is based on incidents connected with the crucifixion, and while intensely dramatic in action and climax, it is permeated by such a reverential atmosphere that the story of that tremendous tragedy is really illuminated as by a sermon. Miss Pavey will have the role of Mary Magdalene, which offers her one of the best opportunities of her career, and the rest of the company is well situated in the cast. The piece will be on for the rest of the week, the closing performance being a matinee on Sunday afternoon.

McDonald's Condition Deteriorates. Reports from St. Joseph's hospital concerning John McDonald, who was shot during a fight with Policeman E. Heller Tuesday night in the boarding house located at 1418 Howard street, after McDonald had threatened to kill the officer, show that the family, were to the effect that McDonald was in a bad condition and that it was possible that he might not survive his injuries. DAY WILL GET TWO BRIEFS

Hearing in Contempt Case Against Water Company is Concluded.

ATTORNEYS TO SUBMIT PRINTED BRIEFS

General Manager Fairfield Testifies City Has Not Paid Hydrant Rentals and Now Owes Company a Large Sum.

Attorneys Carl C. Wright and R. S. Hall brought the hearing in the contempt case against the Omaha Water company to a conclusion before Judge Day yesterday afternoon. They agreed to submit briefs within ten days and the court will render a decision on the charge of contempt of court as soon as he can examine and digest the briefs.

Wednesday morning Engineer Marshall was put on the stand to prove that the company has not paid for the hydrant rentals for the year 1904 and that a decision on the charge of contempt of court as soon as he can examine and digest the briefs.

General Manager Fairfield of the water company testified that the city had not paid a large sum it owes for hydrant rentals for the year 1904 and that a decision on the charge of contempt of court as soon as he can examine and digest the briefs.

City Comptroller's Figures.

Otto Wolf, bookkeeper in the office of the city comptroller, was put on the stand to show that there is not money in the treasury for the making of the special levy that there was not money so available last May or June. Mr. Wright showed on cross-examination, there was in the fund $3,882.45 on May 1, 1904, and $10,161.75 on June 1 of that year. The comptroller's books also had a credit to the fund of $3,000 after the making of the special levy ordered by the federal court. This was 90 per cent of the total of the levy. These figures gave rise to much discussion between the attorneys and several exchanges of remarks that in ordinary life are considered not nice. These little things do not carry any weight with the legal gentlemen, however, for Messrs. Wright and Hall smiled pleasantly and seemed to enjoy their frequent clashes.

"You got $4,000 or $5,000," said Mr. Wright to Mr. Hall. "Do you want to get that back into the treasury?"

"Well, you fellows did many queer things up there. I don't care what you do. I got my writ and got the money. I don't know how you fellows got it."

While Mr. Marshall was on the stand for the company Mr. Hall prevented Mr. Wright from asking him certain questions by putting in objections, which the court sustained as not proper cross-examination. When Marshall was excused Wright called him for rebuttal and fired a question at him.

Answer is Stalled. "Did you receive notice from the city of the passing of the ordinance?" "I object," said Mr. Hall, sharply. "This is a criminal prosecution and the witness might incriminate himself."

After a few remarks a la Tojo to Rejoice-venky and he right back to Tojo, the witness did not answer and the air cleared again.

City Attorney Breen told of the present status of the suit in the United States court and that he has been ready since March 1 to confess judgment. The water company claims, however, that the amount he has been willing to confess for, some $46,000, is not enough. The company also contends that when it gets pay for service already rendered there will be other large amounts due; hence, that it is not subject to punishment for contempt in failing to put in hydrants which the city cannot pay for when installed.
