GREAT PARADE OF FIREMEN

Attracts Crowd of Cheering Thousands Along Line of March.

MARION AND RED OAK CAPTURE PUBLIC EYE

Fine Horses in Some of the Paid Departments Share the Honors with the Men When it Comes to Applause,

With music galore, brilliant uniforms blooded horses and weather that was ideal. the parade which yesterday morning marked the opening of the Iowa Firemen's State association's annual tournament was a magnificent pageant. Thousands lined the streets and the fire fighters were accorded a continuous ovation along the line of march. The length of the parade can better imagined when it is stated that it took over half an hour to pass a given point.

Outside of the many bands which filled the air with music, and the varied uniforms which lent a brilliancy of color to the scene there were numerous attractive features in the parade. The Mentzer drill corps of Marion, with its showy uniforms, attracted probably the greatest attention. This was to be expected from the fact that it has long held the title of the champion drill team of the west. The evolutions of corps during the parade proved a revelation to the immense crowds which thronged the sidewalks. Every turn and evolution was performed with a precision most remarkable. Red Oak with its 115 men in line and their natty tan uniforms, not to speak of their marching. which was almost military in its precision proved a strong second favorite with the crowd. The Rock Island Railway Drill corps of Valley Junction, with its white and gold uniforms, also caught the popuar fancy and received its well deserved share of the public ovation.

Twelve young lads, attired in bathing suits, clippers and large southwestern caps hauling a miniature hose reel, fitted up for the odcasion by Joe Smith & Co., were an amusing feature of the parade, and the youngsters fully enjoyed the novelty as much as did the crowds.

Some Fine Horseflesh. It is not often that such a display of blooded horse flesh has been seen in Councli Bluffs as was the case yesterday morning. Jack and Jack, the eighteen hands high team of Des Moines, the champions of the state, with their coats shining like satin; Bloux City's running horses, Jack and Jim and Midnight and Dynamite; the two teams of Council Bluffs and the beautiful bays of Clinton were in themselves a sight not soon to be forgotten. Owing to the length of the parade and the fact that there was delay in getting it started, owing to the late arrival of some of the companies, the line of march was somewhat shortened and changed at the last minute, but judging from the crowds on the streets it is doubtful if any one missed the opportunity of witnessing it. Colonel John C. Loper of Des Moines, William F. Sapp of this city, and G. W. Macartney of Des Moines were the judges. and they awarded the prizes as follows: Largest Department—First prize, $100, Red Oak; second price, $25, Cedar Falls, Best Appearing Company—First prize, $30, Mentzer Drill corps, Marion; second prize, $20, Red Oak.

A viva voc. vote was taken to the young monarch.

Later in the afternoon King Alfonso and King Edward went in a motor car to Ranelagh, where a polo match had been arranged. Lord Lansdowne, secretary of state for

The party included the archbishop of Canterbury, Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, and a number of other ambassadors and ministers, Premier Balfour, several members of the cabinet and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman.

After the dinner the Spanish ruler was present at a brilliant ball given by the Reception at Guild Hall. King Alfonso today visited the city of London and enjoyed the hospitality of the lord mayor and corporation at the Guild hall. For the first time since his majesty's arrival in England the weather was sufficiently fine to enable him to appear in an open carriage and for the first time anything in the nature of large will only keep back and give me a chance I crowds gathered to welcome him. The welome to the young monarch was of the heartlest description. The route of the procession, which passed under a continuous archway of flags and flowers, was lined with troops. Halts were made at the boundaries of the different boroughs to receive and answer the addresses of the local authorities. At each of these points the decorations were of an especially elaborate character and the crowd was notably large. King Alfonso unrestrainedly showed his pleasure at the demonstrative greetings which culminated in a scene of great enthusiasm as he entered the Guild hall, There were assembled a brilliant gathering of members of the royal family, cabinet ministers and naval, military and court officials. The city's address of welcomwas presented to the king in a gold casket. King Alfonso did not reply to the presentation address, which referred to the admiration which the citizens of London bore for the art and literature of Spain and the services of that country in the cause of civilization, and which recalled the commercial ties uniting the two countries.

At the conclusion of the presentation of the address of welcome to the Spanish king a procession was formed, King Alfonso escorting the mayoress to the ancient hall, where luncheon was served to a most brilliant company. At the conclusion of the luncheon Lord Mayor John Pound toasted the king, saying that Londoners recollected that several centuries ago an English princess became queen of Spain and that four queen consorts of English kings had been princesses of Spain.

King Alfonso expressed his deep gratitude for London's reception and proposed the health of the lord mayor. The royal party immediately afterward returned to Buckingham palace. The streets were lined tary life. with soldiers and police, who kept the was adopted to insure the safety of the

In the Adam Forepaugh-Sells Bros.' circus, which reaches Omaha Sunday and exhibits here Monday, are two ponderous elephants of the weak-minded variety. They are Africans; the only two that have ever enjoyed the distinction of visiting American shores. They are perfectly idiotic.
