ence between the ambassador and the Foreign office here resulted in the president and emperor finding that they had identical views on the subject of peace and were nearly of the same opinion as to the method of drawing Russia and Japan into negotiations. The joint view appeared to be that others, including France and Great Britain, ought to be left out because to be sure of a community of views among all would be a slow and cumbersome business and would impress Russia as taking on the character of outside pressure. This is precisely what, as the Associated Press is informed, President Roosevelt and Emperor William wish to avoid. They wanted the emperor of Russia to take the initiative and sought only that he should avail himself of the American and German governments as instruments for making the first step toward peace easier.

Car Prepared for Showing.
The Russian government was informed through Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador at Washington, through Count Alvensleben, the German ambassador at St. Petersburg, through Mr. Myer, the American ambassador at St. Petersburg, and through Count von Osten-Sacken, the Russian ambassador at Berlin, of what the United States and Germany were seeking, so that Ambassador Myer's audience by Emperor Nicholas was prepared for in the fullest manner. The understanding here is that Emperor Nicholas went so far as to say to Ambassador Myer that he would like to know what Japan's terms would be. This inquiry was not made in connection with peace, but only as telling friends that before taking so grave a step on their advice the Russian government might properly and naturally desire to know through their friends how Japan regarded peace. Japan, it is believed, in government quarters here, will be reluctant to lay down specific peace conditions—far more reluctant than at any stage of the war, because preparation has been made to carry the campaign to Russian territory, take Vladivostok and Harbin and then exclude Russia from the Pacific. Unless its high conditions are complied with this is a crude expression of what is thought to be Japan's immediate policy.

Witte and Lansdoff Inquire.
PARIS, June 8.—It is definitely known that the Russian foreign minister, Count Lansdoff, seconded by M. Witte, president of the committee of ministers, has initiated overtures through the Russian representatives abroad to learn Japan's disposition and terms of peace. On the occasion of the emperor's birthday, told them he hoped soon to be able to telegraph the news of a Russian victory to his majesty. Later, in conversation with the correspondent of the Associated Press, the general declared that the destruction of the fleet was a sad and hard blow, but that it would not affect the morale of the troops, who, with the doggedness of Russian soldiers, were prepared to fight on as long as the emperor gave the word.

Soldiers Resolved to Fight.
GUNSHU PASS, June 8.—According to reports received by General Linvitch from naval officers who have arrived at Vladivostok, the losses of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet were from 800 to 10,000 officers and men killed or drowned and about 6,000 prisoners.

General Batjanoff, commander of the third Manchurian army, addressing the troops yesterday on the occasion of the emperor's birthday, told them he hoped soon to be able to telegraph the news of a Russian victory to his majesty. Later, in conversation with the correspondent of the Associated Press, the general declared that the destruction of the fleet was a sad and hard blow, but that it would not affect the morale of the troops, who, with the doggedness of Russian soldiers, were prepared to fight on as long as the emperor gave the word.

Japanese Ships Near Manila.
MANILA, June 8.—Two Japanese ships have just passed the entrance of Lingayen gulf and are speeding southward. The fleet is about 100 miles north of Manila, on the west coast of Luzon.

Russian Ships Were Not Ready.
Men at Manila Talk of Fight in Korean Strait.
MANILA, June 8.—From the stories told by the Russians who escaped from the sea fight in the Korean strait it appears that the Japanese completely surprised the Russian fleet. The Russians were steaming peacefully along. There was no sign of the Japanese fleet and the Russian ships were not cleared for action, nor were the batteries manned. The attack came with a suddenness that made the unpreparedness of the Russian fleet a glaring mistake that never could be corrected. Two lines of torpedo boats suddenly appeared and encircled the Russian fleet. The rapid-fire batteries were turned loose, but with apparently little effect, on the Japanese boats. Over the approaching torpedoes came a hail of ten and thirteen-inch shells from the Japanese war vessels in the distance. The torpedo boats advanced at full speed, one division going in a westerly and another in an easterly direction.

The Russian cruisers and battleships prepared to repel the attack. The cruisers manned their port batteries and the battleships their starboard batteries. No attempt was made to prepare the batteries on the other side of the ships and it was here the Russians blundered. When the Japanese torpedo boats came within firing distance the Russians opened fire. Then it was the Japanese executed a maneuver that threw the Russians into confusion. The two encircling lines met south of the Russians, but instead of continuing in that direction they turned at a signal from Togo and at full speed charged between the three lines of Russian ships, one division passing between the cruisers and the line of hospital ships and transports and another division passing between the transports and the battleships on the other side. The Russian ships were unprepared for an attack of this character and for a time were helpless. Hardly a cruiser or battleship remained unscathed. The Russians were completely demoralized and during the last dash of the torpedo boats not a shot was fired to stop them. In the meantime Togo, with his battleships and cruisers encircled the Russian fleet and with his big guns completed the work of destruction.

Wreck on Frisco.
MUSKOGEE, La., June 8.—A passenger train on the Frisco was derailed near Muskogee, in the Seminole county, early today. The engine, a 4-6-0, and all the cars, except the sleeper, left the track. It is believed that only one person was killed. Train wreckers are believed to have removed the rail.

MICHIGAN FLOOD SUBSIDING

Crest of the Rise Passes Grand Rapids at Midnight.

LAKE FORMS WITHIN THE CITY

Many Blocks of Houses Flooded—Damage to Farm Property Alone Will Exceed a Million Dollars.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 8.—Reports tonight from the flooded basin of the Grand river north of this city indicate that the worst is over. The river is beginning to fall rapidly. At Ionia it has fallen two feet in twenty-four hours and at other points a corresponding fall is noticed. All the rivers flowing into the Grand, including the Maple, Flat, Thornapple and Hogue are subsiding.

At 8 o'clock tonight the river gauge here read 17.9 feet. This is a rise of six inches in the past twelve hours. Director Schneider of the weather bureau says the crest of the flood will be eighteen feet, and will be reached by midnight. The west side dike still holds and indications are that the section flooded last year will escape inundation.

Blocks of Houses Flooded.
This afternoon the southwest portion of the city was inundated and a lake two miles long and a mile wide was formed. Whole blocks of houses were flooded and many manufacturing plants were forced to shut down. Hundreds of acres of farm lands are under water from two to five feet. There may be an aggregate damage to farm property of $1,000,000.

The situation in railroad lines is steadily improving, the only line in the city which is very seriously affected being the Grand Trunk, which is still tied up completely east and west.

Three Dams Washed Away.
A special to the Evening Press says that communications have been partially re-established with Whitehall, which has been isolated for sixty hours. The conditions on White river about the town are worse than had been expected. The damage to crops, bridges and dams will reach hundreds of thousands. The large dams at White Cloud, Hesperia and Ferry were completely washed away.

About 100 persons, large and small, are closed today because of the flood. Six thousand men are out of employment. The river rose two feet in the past twenty-four hours.

In the south end of the city today every house on Earle street, Lettleson, South Front, Gelock, Court, Olive street, West Main and a mile wide area is partially under water, and the flood is threatening to overflow a still larger area. The railroad situation is improving.

MESSAGE FROM KING

however, was believed abroad. A port in such latitude, he pointed out, would be of no more use than the present port of Ekaterinburg, 100 miles further east in Finland. Russia's only interest in the controversy, the diplomat said, was the logical one of seeing its neighbor at peace and not strong. In his opinion, however, the only result of the separation of Norway and Sweden would be the erection of Norway into an independent state with an alliance instead of a political union with Sweden.

Separation Creates Interest.
PARIS, June 8.—The crisis between Norway and Sweden is widely discussed by officials and diplomats here. The Swedish legation point out that the Storting act before consulting the people. D. Nansen's name is mentioned as being strong with the republican element of Norway.

Prince Burries Home.
BERLIN, June 8.—Crown Prince Gustav of Sweden, who went from here yesterday to Karlsruhe, Baden, with the grand duke and grand duchess of Baden, after attending the wedding of Crown Prince Frederick of Prussia, left Karlsruhe almost immediately upon his arrival there and passed through Berlin this morning, bound for Stockholm, having been called home because of the political crisis.

SWEDES STAND WITH KING

Omaha Citizens Initiate Movement to Aid Their Native Country.

Omaha Swedes, acting through the Posten, of which F. A. Anderson, former state representative from Knox county, is editor, are preparing a resolution to be presented to the Augustana synod of the Swedish Lutheran church in the city of St. Paul, requesting the synod to prepare a memorial to be sent to King Oscar of Sweden conveying the sympathy of the Swedes of this church to him, in view of the secession of Norway from the Scandinavian union, and in hope that some steps may be taken to insure an amicable adjustment of the situation.

The Augustana synod embraces the churches of the Swedish Lutheran denomination in every state of the union. Of the 2,000,000 Swedes in the United States this church has a membership of about 20,000, and this does not include those Swedes who affiliate with the Swedish mission, about the same in number, according to M. J. Hendrickson, one of the prominent Swedish Lutherans of Omaha.

"The idea, therefore, is to give this church a voice in the matter of the secession," asserted Mr. Hendrickson, one of the originators of the thought. "And we do not simply propose to convey our sympathies, but are willing to aid financially in whatever way it may seem best or practicable."

The secession of Norway is entirely unjustifiable. The Swedish nation has not merited this sort of action. I think the secession will not mean permanent separation. Ultimate reunion will come about, I am sure, but if it cannot be accomplished soon by reasonable terms, we certainly will secede. As for permanent disunion, England and Germany would not tolerate that, and I think Norway would have a difficult time in pursuing itself in the end that it is best. Norway had no just grounds for complaint. The statement is made as a basis of Norwegian dissatisfaction that that nation wanted separate consuls. Since it now has eighteen out of the twenty-seven consuls acting for the two countries, I cannot see why it should complain."

P. E. Flodman and S. C. Gustavson, who, with Mr. Hendrickson, form the firm of P. E. Flodman & Co., Jewelers, 1514 Capitol avenue; Rev. P. M. Lindberg and Judge Emerie M. Stenberg, subcommittee at Omaha for the union, are among the prominent Swedes who are expected to lend their support to the movement.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

Serene and content, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe quietly celebrated her 60th birthday anniversary May 27 in her Beacon street home, Boston, with her children and grandchildren about her. From a host of friends came congratulations, loving greetings and floral offerings. Among the latter was an immense basket of American Beauty roses completed by a bouquet of white lilies. The Boston Authors' club held a reception for Mrs. Howe, at which quotations written in her honor by the members were read by Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson, and a gift from the club of a silver purse containing $100 gold was presented by Mrs. May Alden Ward. Mrs. Howe read a poem which she had written for the occasion. As if to emphasize the fact that the "fame of her worth" is international, a greeting was received from the Italian colony of Boston signed by 300 names. The New England Women's club celebrated Mrs. Howe's birthday with a breakfast on May 29, at which there was a distinguished company, with speeches, verses, music, flowers and goodwill. Mrs. Howe is in good health, her spirit continues young, and she has many interests. Her birthday week was a busy one. Aside from the festivities she has entertained on Wednesday evening the Philhellenic committee, and was chosen its president. On Thursday she attended the funeral of her beloved friend, Mrs. Livermore, and on Friday she delivered a forcible address on "The Revival of Morality" before the Free Religious association. She has written much of late. The Christian Endeavor World for May 25 contains an article from her pen entitled "The Noble Women of the War," and the Boston Transcript of May 27 a worthy tribute to Mrs. Livermore.

The program for the Young Women's Christian association conference, to be held at Lake Geneva August 15 to 25, is about completed. The following are among the speakers announced, Miss Emma Hays, one of the national secretaries, to be in charge; Dr. G. A. Johnston Ross of Cambridge, England; Dr. John T. Kenin of Jamestown, N. Y.; Dr. Frank Hayley of Denver; Miss Anna L. Howe, formerly of Japan; Mrs. Alice Pelouret Norton of the University of Chicago; Misses Mabel Cratty, Elizabeth Wilson, Emma Hays, Mary S. Dunn and Florence Simms, secretaries for the American committee. The mornings will be spent in Bible study and conferences and the afternoons and evenings in recreation and rest. There will be a platform meeting each evening at 8 o'clock. The expense to association members will be $5 for the program fee and $1 a day. Special railroad rates will be made.

Through the persistent efforts of the Consumers' league the subway news-stands of New York have been brought under the mercantile law. The Board of Health has at last made a decision that the stands are not to be regarded as public places and magazines are not to be sold. Until the league took hold of the matter these girls had worked twelve hours a day, with no time off for lunch, at a salary of $5 a week. Under the mercantile law no woman under 21 years of age can work in a shop or store more than ten hours a day and forty-five minutes must be allowed for lunch. The league is determined that this law shall be enforced and, having gained this much, is now exerting itself in behalf of the women over 21.

The sixth annual meeting of the South Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs convened at Huron, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. There were about fifty delegates and as many out-of-town visiting women present who were entertained in homes of the city. The program was held in the Huron congregational church, Mrs. Annie A. Lumley of Pierre, state president, presiding.

At a special meeting held Monday morning the English literature department of the Woman's club adopted a course of study in American literature in place of the English course decided upon several weeks ago. The authors decided upon were: Thoreau, Emerson, Hawthorne, Washington Irving and Alcott. Medames Fred Crowley, M. Langford, Glover, F. H. Cole and Harm will act as leaders.

The last of the gatherings of the Omaha Woman's club for the summer was held Thursday at Florence at the home of Mrs. Ross, who entertained the members of the social science department in honor of Mrs. E. B. Towle, the retiring leader of the department. The gathering was a picnic about fifty women attending, and the basket luncheon was served at noon.

MEYERS MURDER TRIAL BEGINS

Liberty (Mo.) Woman Arraigned for Murder of Husband—Accomplice Sentenced to Hang.

LIBERTY, Mo., June 9.—Frank Hottman, under seal of death for the murder of Clarence Meyers in Kansas City in May, 1904, was brought here today to testify for the state in the trial of Mrs. Aggie Meyers, wife of the dead man, charged with complicity in the murder of her husband. The feature of the trial is the alibi of the defendant, who sits unmoved while witnesses describe one of the bloodiest murders in the annals of crime.

Many women were in the courtroom today. Some of them were accompanied by children and the judge ordered the children taken out and reprimanded their parents for bringing them to the trial.

ANOTHER CRISIS IN STRIKE

Eight Thousand Employees of Team Owners May Become Involved.

REFUSE TO SERVE BOYCOTTED HOUSES

Members of Association Will Hold Conference Tonight—Strikers Again Call Upon State Street Merchants.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The teamsters' strike has reached the point where its further progress and its further increase is dependent upon the action taken by the members of the Chicago Team Owners' association. This organization has from the first declined to make deliveries to the boycotted houses and has constantly urged the teamsters to arbitrate the question of making such deliveries.

The teamsters have positively refused to deliver or receive goods, and now the last chance of securing any concessions from the teamsters having faded away, the members of the Team Owners' association must either decide to deliver goods or allow the teamsters to have their own way in the matter. Opinion among the members of the Team Owners' association is strongly divided as to the result may be a split in its ranks. Many of the largest team owners in the city have announced that they are going to make deliveries, while others are undecided as to their course of action. A meeting of the organization will be held tomorrow night and the action taken at that time will largely determine the future scope of the strike. If the Team Owners' association decides to make deliveries and discharge all of its men who refuse to obey orders, the ranks of the strikers will be increased by about 8,000 men.

Strikers Call on Merchants.
The strikers made another attempt today to force a break in the ranks of the Team Owners' association. A committee called on Edward Hillman, proprietor of a large dry goods store, and asked him to arrange another conference between the teamsters and the employers. Mr. Hillman positively refused, saying that unless the strikers had some new proposition to offer it was useless to attempt to reach any agreement. Their present attitude he said was such that there could be no possible middle ground upon which the employers could meet them. This was the only attempt at adjusting the strike made today and it is not probable that more efforts will be made for some time to come.

Shea Refuses Further Concessions.
Peace in the teamsters' strike seemed today to be as far away as ever. Settlement with the express companies and a demand by the unions that police be withdrawn from wagons with the calling off of the strike were apparently insuperable obstacles to an adjustment. President Cornelius Shea of the Teamsters' union took an active part in the latest conference with the employers, although he was responsible for blocking peace negotiations several days ago after he had been left out of a meeting between the committee of employers and teamsters. Shea would have been excluded from the meeting if he had not been invited. He had agreed to the demand of the union officials that the employers' attorney, Levy Mayer, also should keep away.

This demand was refused promptly and Shea then was called in. He made a vigorous fight against altering the propositions of the teamsters to suit the demands of the employers.

Beginning with a "peace argument," a labor discussion at North avenue and Roby street today grew into a riot, which blocked two lines of street cars, held up traffic in several streets, brought two police patrols and ended when one man was taken to the hospital and four men were in cells. Incidentally several heads were bruised.

PANIC IN CHICAGO THEATER

Fight Between Boys in Gallery

Alarms the Audience—Several Persons Seriously Bruised.

CHICAGO, June 8.—A fight between boys in the gallery of the Academy of Music, a West Side theater, tonight, created a panic among the audience and before it subsided several people had been bruised and one boy so seriously hurt that it was found necessary to remove him to the hospital. The performance, which was the "Kreutzer Sonata," was nearly concluded when two boys became involved in a fight over the right to occupy certain seats. Other boys joined in the fracas, and in a minute a free fight was raging in the gallery. The uproar alarmed the people in the balcony, directly under the gallery, and they commenced to leave their seats. The attendants of the theater did their best to quiet the disturbance, but a crowd of people was soon pushing toward the exits and they were powerless to hold them back. The panic quickly seized the people on the first floor of the theater.

Manager William Roon of the theater stepped to the front of the stage and endeavored to allay the excitement, but just as he commenced to speak somebody in the audience yelled "Fire!" and a rush for the doors took place. Dozens of women screamed wildly and rushed for the exit, and it was impossible for the firemen and policemen stationed in the building to check them. F. B. Meyers, one of the doormen, closed the doors leading into Halstead street, but several men tore him away and throwing open the doors ran to the street. At the first sign of trouble Policeman O'Rell had turned in a riot alarm and a large force of officers from the Desplaines street police station was quickly on hand, but by the time they arrived all the audience was in the street.

Reuben Moses, one of the boys who caused the trouble, was knocked down in the panic and badly hurt. He was taken to the hospital for medical attendance and was then locked up in the police station.

WILL CONSIDER LEVEL RATE

Knights of Columbus Appoints Committee to Investigate Proposed Assessments.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 8.—The national council of the Knights of Columbus today adopted a resolution instructing the board of directors to consider the advisability of adopting a level rate plan of assessment to operate in connection with the present plan of an increasing rate of premiums for advanced age. Directors will report on this matter at the next annual meeting.

A proposition to affiliate with the Federation of American Catholics was defeated, chiefly on the ground that by doing so the order of the Knights of Columbus would lose its individuality.

The Knights of Columbus tonight re-elected all the national officers, headed by Supreme Knight Edward L. Hearn, and selected New Haven, Conn., as the place for holding the next national convention.

Testing Stock Transfer Tax Law.
NEW YORK, June 8.—A test case agreed upon by District Attorney Jerome and legal counsel for the New York Stock exchange to determine the constitutionality of the new state stamp tax on transfers of stock was begun today in the technical arrest of Albert J. Hatch, a broker of Stamford, Conn., for failure to comply with the provision of the new law that Mr. Hatch is a member of the firm of William B. Beckman & Co.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

Ferris Stock Company at the Boyd.

For the regular midweek change of bill at the Boyd theater, the Ferris Stock company is endeavoring to put life into "The Holy City," a poorly constructed melodrama by Thomas W. Broadhurst, based on incidents connected with the life of Christ. It is too palpably a copy of the Paul Heyse drama, "Mary of Magdala," well known through Mrs. Pliske's fine production, to call for extended explanation. It lacks the dramatic intensity one expects in the treatment of such a theme, and while it fairly bristles with spectacular effects, it is not thrilling in any sense. The scenery, costuming and lighting arrangements are excellent and worthy of a better play. The redeeming feature of the performance is the intelligent and earnest effort made by Miss Pavey to give interest and vitality to an apparently hopeless part. She reads the attired lines set down for Mary the Magdalene with much effect, and almost succeeds in making the situations dramatic despite the apparent difficulty supplied by the cobbling work of the author, who has aimed at sensation instead of artistic effect. Mr. Barton, as Simon Peter, is as effective as his lines and the action of the play will permit, while Mr. Dowlin gives animation to Barabbas, a fantastic character, inserted to relieve the author of the responsibility placed on him by Heyse and reduce him to the state to which he is consigned by Dante. A crowded house witnessed the opening performance last night, and rewarded Miss Pavey with a hearty call at the close of the second act. "The Holy City" will be the bill until after the matinee on Sunday.

The Caldwell Stock Company at the Krug.

Last night the Caldwell Stock company at the Krug put on "Just a Fool," a thriller that combines some of the features of both the old and the new schools of its class. It has a climax at the end of each of its first three acts, and a denouement at the close of the fourth, on which the curtain falls. Miss Pavey, who is leading the company, has a role that calls for little histrionic effort, and the rest of the company are similarly situated. The audience last night was large and apparently satisfied with the efforts of the players. The bill will be unchanged until after Saturday night, with a matinee on Saturday.

FORM HICKORY HANDLE TRUST

Manufacturers Meet at Memphis and Agree to Merge Their Interests.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 8.—As the result of a meeting of the National Association of Hickory Handle Manufacturers, controlling 85 per cent of the output, held here today, plans were laid in executive session for the consolidation of practically all of the hickory handle manufacturing interests in the United States. Discussing the proposed merger Charles D. Gates of Louisville, Ky., president of the association, said considerable progress has already been made towards a combination of interests.

DEATH RECORD.

Mrs. Sarah Hooker.

Mrs. Sarah Hooker of 266 South Twenty-fifth avenue, died at her home late Tuesday evening from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Hooker was the widow of the late Colonel E. T. Hooker, prominent in railroad circles and a pioneer of the early days in Omaha, when stage coaches played a prominent part in transportation. Colonel Hooker died in this city about eight years ago. The body of Mrs. Hooker was taken to Des Moines, Ia., Thursday morning, where funeral services will be conducted today. Four children survive the deceased. They are Miss Elizabeth Hooker of this city, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Skinner, both of Des Moines, Ia., and Ned T. Hooker of Omaha.

Mrs. Susan McCandless.

Mrs. Susan McCandless, who became ill on a train entering Omaha from the west last Monday, died at St. Joseph's hospital. The remains have been sent to the woman's home at Underhill, Pa. Mrs. McCandless was returning from a trip to California, where she was trying to regain her health. She was 40 years of age.
