CASE NOW UNDER ADVISEMENT Matter of Declaring Void Certain Assessments for Bonlevard Con-

Judge Sutton has taken under advisement the case of the Coad Real Estate company et al. against the City of Omaha, to have declared null and void certain assessments for the construction of Center street boule vard, from Burt street to Hanscom park. There are about thirty taxpayers of record as plaintiffs and the total amount involved in about $15,000. While this suit was being heard by the court the World-Herald published an editorial decrying the motives of the plaintiffs and patting on the back the men who had paid the assessment. Attorneys Ransom and West, for the plaintiffs, called the court's attention to the article and asserted it was clear contempt of court. Judge Sutton seemed inclined to agree with this view at first, but before issuing a citation he took time for consideration and concluded the article hardly came within the inhibition of the law.

Good effects of the recent trade excursion in the South Platte country are being noted by whomesaic dry goods houses. Several retail merchants who have never done any business before in Omana have placed fair orders here within the last week. Two of them had been hitherto buying their stock at St. Joseph. They said that their acquaintance with the representatives of Omaha houses who went on the excursion had lent them desire to further investigate the advantage of buying their goods in Omaha. All seemed well pleased with the treatment accorded them by the local dealers. The wholesale men are jubliant over the fact that the excursion has had such good results, which, they say, cannot now be estimated.

The week has been the best in a long time for house trade in the dry goods business, country merchants having found a few days time, while the farmers are busy, to get to the city to lay in a part of their fall stock. None of the orders have been large, for they are never very large just at this season of the year. According to the retailers, the country trade is very good. It has been better all spring than last year and the prospects are that the summer and fall will see a larger year's business than has ever fallen to the lot of the dealer. The healthy condition of the trade is causing the retailers to place advance orders for fall goods very freely, both house orders and orders through salesmen. The wholesalers say that the prospects for fall goods very freely, both house orders and orders through salesmen. Frints are unchanged, but firm at the prevailing figures.

Features of the hardware business indicate that building over the country is being done on a much greater scale than for years. The Lee-Glass-Andreesen Hardware company reports that its trade in palls blace, whose window store and of sugar consumed all season. Jobbers here look for a steady trade from June 15 to July 10. It may not be so much the question of price as of being able to secure the sugar promptly. It looks now as though the bottom bad been reached for some time to come at least.

The coffee market is irregular and options are fifteen to twenty-five points lower, although there is little change in the spot market. Desirable roasting coffees, in the Brazil grades, as well as the milder coffees, are scarce.

Cheese is quoted 46% lower than a week ago. All the old cheese is gone with the exception of the Swiss, the new make of which cannot be sold yet. Some of the largest handlers are of the opinion that the market has pretty nearly reached bottom. This denonds largely on the demand for the next two or three weeks.

In general, the srocery business has been satisfactory. The volume of business has been big, the tone healthy and collections satisfactory. The volume of business has been by, the tone healthy and collections satisfactory will be successed in the whole are high. There are some new mackerel on the market at low prices, but they are of a quality which it is not desirable to nurchase. They turn red very quickly. Mackerel caught last fall are better, being much fatter, and of course bring better prices. Holland herring has advanced, and the prediction is that higher prices yet will hold before the new catch is on the market.

The demand for fancy goods is large. This is the season for richics and dealers realize that they should carry a good stock. Olives, olive oil and sardines are in especially good demand.

There are no changes in the prices on wodenware. The demand has been good in especially good demand.

DOOLITTLE BADLY BRUISED

Union Pacific Engineer Sustains

Serious Injuries as Result of Accident While Driving. While driving downtown Saturday morning from his home at Tenth and Martha streets, W. J. Doolittle, a Union Pacific engineer, was thrown from his buggy and sustained numerous body bruises. He was taken home in the police ambulance and attended by Dr. J. R. Nielson. An examination of the injured man showed no bones were broken nor internal injuries caused by the accident. Mr. Doolittle's injuries are particularly on the left eye and hips. His horse became unmanageable while being driven north on Eleventh street and before Doolittle could alight from the vehicle he was precipitated to the ground.

CAN DO WITHOUT HER TOGO South Omaha Girl Finds She Can Survive a While Without Jap Lover.

Miss Mamie Waits of South Omaha has finally concluded she can live without Harry Seki, her Japanese Romeo, of 606 North Sixteenth street. In the company of her mother the girl left the matron's department of the police station and promised If you have anything to trade, advertise to go home and help her mother with the it in the For Exchange column of The Bee dishes until at least August 1, when she will attain her majority.
