Assessment Board Tangled. Tomorrow the State Board of Assess ment will come to a showdown in the matter of the assessment of the Union Pacific Unless all signs fail, just at this time the board itself does not know what will be the result. It has been freely predicted that the three new members, Searle, Galusha and Eaton, will stand together against an increase in the assessment, while the old members of the board, Governor Mickey and Treasurer Mortensen. will vote for an increase. This supposed line-up of the board, however, is by no means assumed and the Union Pacific get a small poost, masmuch as the Burlington will be decreased.

The old members of the board seem to be of the opinion that the Burlington last year was assessed higher in proportion to for that reason they desire a material increase in the Union Pacific or a small increase in that line and a decrease in the Burlington. The board will reach a final vote tomorrow in all probability. Reports from a number of counties re-

It is as Esmeralda that Miss Pavey finds herself this week, a charming mountain maiden, shy and awkward in a calico gown and sunbonnet, then a fair but unhappy girl in the fashionable life of Paris. She plays the role in a delightful way. Miss Rose Curry is good as Nora Desmond. The piece is well staged and was very well received by a large audience last night. It will be the bill until after

Dick Ferris and Miss Florence Stone came in from San Francisco yesterday afternoon. Mr. Ferris will be seen in the cast of "My Jim" during the latter half

The Caldwell Stock Company at the Krug. Last night at the Krug the Caldwell

Stock company put on the ever reliable "East Lynne." This never-failing source of quiet and cosy weeps has lost none of its potency through the passage of years, but is still as certain to touch the innermost depths of the heart as anything that was ever written. Miss Ethel Fuller is cast as Lady Isabel and Madame Vine. and brings to the role the same careful, artistic and satisfying efforts that have marked all her work since she has been in Omaha. She is especially effective in the great scenes of the last act, when the play reaches its touching denouement, and the identity of the pseudo Madame Vine is disclosed. Mr. Merrill is fairly good in the somewhat exacting role of Archibald Carlyle, and Mr. Hill plays Sir Francis Levison with understanding. Pauline Eckhart is a good Barbara Hare, and the rest of the cast is capable. The piece was well received last night, and will be the bill till after Wednesday night.

A druggist recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I bought a bottle and found it belped me, and I took three more and am cured. I had only one light spell after I commenced taking it.
