CHAMPIONS SOUSE GRIZZLIES

Visitors Outplayed at Every Point and Never Have a Chance to Score During the Nine Innings.

he Rourke family played like real hampions yesterday, and the Grizzlies didn't have the least chance to score. The best oppartunity that was offered them was in the eighth inning, when McHale opened with a neat two-base drive. He was caught just a minute later by a throw from Quick to Lawler that was one of the features of the game. Once before this Denver had two men on bases and but one ut, when Schaub allowed himself to be doubled with Per Hartzell on the latter's fig to left.

It was a good game from end to end, and was Omaha's all the way, for Quick was in fine form, barring a little wildness, and refused to allow the visitors to hit safe oftener than once in an inning. Buck Thiel was out of the playing list, and Eddie Lawler, the popular tocal amateur, played the game of his life at short. All played the game of his life at short. All Des Moines the Champions were in the fray from the Sloux City first to the end, and several thousand peo-ple who didn't go out will never know just what a swift game they missed. The Grizziles fought hard but were clearly outplayed. Schaub, who pitched for them, triffe wobbly in his fielding, as well. He triffe wobbly in his fielding, as well. He delivered a speech from the bench while Denver was at the bat during the eighth inning, and Umpire Scheuster excused him from further attendance during the after-He had won his rest, however, and slipped out of the grounds very quietly.

Omaha scored taily in the first inning fter Denver had been put down one-two after Denver had been put down one-twothree, and it looked at the time as if GAMES IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE more would follow, but Carter was the only Champ that crossed the plate. Lawstruck out, and Carter singled over Hoelsketter's head and then proceeded to steal second and third. Dolan flew out to Beiden and Carter scored on a passed ball. Welch and Martin both walked but Schipke knocked an easy one to Hoelsketter and he chance was kone.

In the fifth the Omaha lads pulled off a ies of brilliant plays. Lucia had driven high one to Carter which the latter caught after a hard tussle with the wind and Schaub walked. McHale singled, and Hartzell drove a hot one to left field. It looked like the goods and Schaub and Old Sport were preparing to score when Henline upset their calculation by catching the ball and making a swift whirl with it to Lawler, who was in the shortstop's position. Lawler did not have time in swing and throw so he gave it a back ind toss and completed the double, eatch-

CUP

The Princilla has been selected to sai against the St. Joe boat, Toga, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in defense of the Manawa challenge cup. This decision was made Sunday night after the last three trials, in one of which the Argo lefeated the Priscilla for the only time. On Saturday the race was sailed over the south course in a light breeze which kept shifting from all directions. The starting gun was fired at 4 o'clock, and the Argo crossed the line seven seconds ahead of the Priscilla and took the wind-While beating to the first ward berth. buoy the boats were close together, but the Argo held the Priscilla under its lee and rounded well ahead. Until they tacked for the third mark neither boat seemed to gain, when the Priscilla closed up in the windward work and turned hard astern the Argo. In keeping too near the shore. however, it ran under its lee and was practically becalmed, while the Argo held out in the lake and ran to the flags with a fair breeze. When the Argo started the course for the second time around It was more than six minutes ahead, but falled to increase its lead before finishing. Elapsed time: ' Argo, leader out, 1 hour 27 minutes, and 42 seconds; Priscilla, I hour 34 minutes and 15 seconds. Sunday the conditions were more favor able, as a stiff southeast wind arose and covered the lake with white caps. In the morning race both boats carried double reefs as they crossed the line on the gun, Priscilla to the windward and slightly ahead. There were two windward legs and a reach before the run for the flags, and although the Priscilla kept the lead it could not shake the Argo from its stern until after leaving the third buoy.

In fact, on the beat from the second to the third mark it was a question each time which boat would lead, as they crossed from splitting tacks. If the Argo had not run aground for a moment it would have turned the buoy better and kept its place, which it was unable to regain. On the second run from the south buoy the boats shook out their reefs and finished at a thrilling pace, the Priscilla minute and 25 seconds. leading by 1

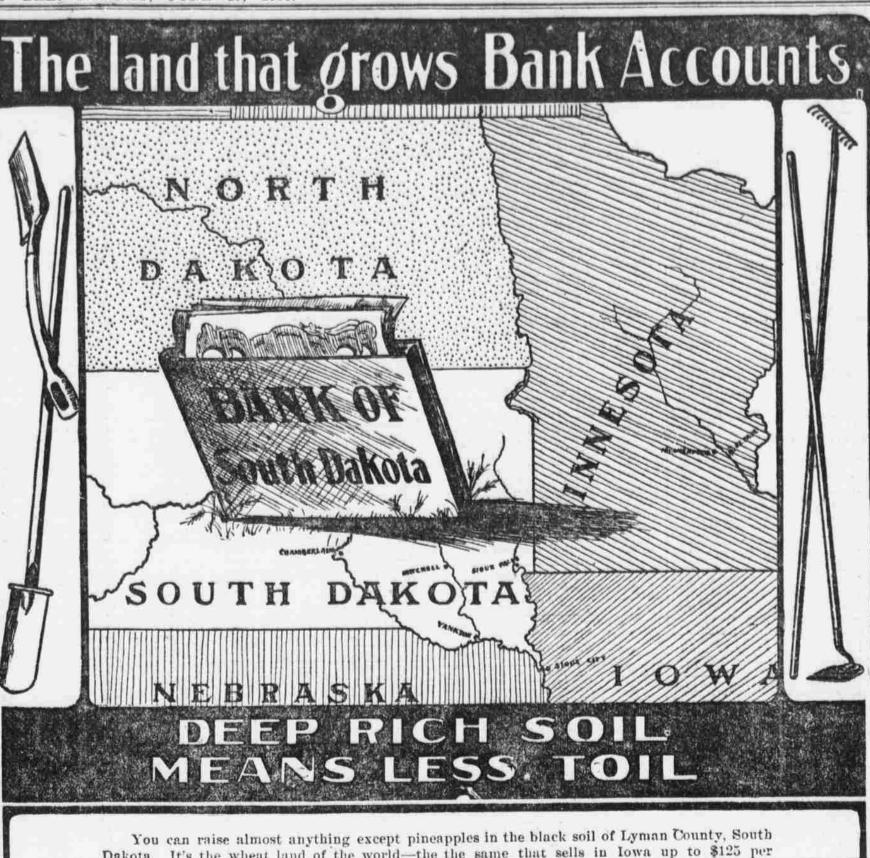

Elapsed time: Argo, leader out, 1 hour 4 minutes; Priscfiln, 1 hour 2 minutes and 35 seconds. The wind had abated somewhat by afternoon and the boats carried full sail. Again the south course was sailed, but as the wind had veered to the west there was only one short leg of windward work. On the first leg the Argo fell behind, and at no time during the race did it seem to hold its own. The hardest of its luck, however, was in breaking the spreaders of its mast after turning the fifth mark, which compelled it to leave the race, as the mast was in danger of being carried away every moment. The Priscilla finished the course in forty-five minutes and twenty-six seconds, which is the fastest time of the

KRUG PARK HAS GREAT CROWD

Hilltop Resort Proves Meeca for Thousands of People on Sunday.

Krug park had one of the biggest days in its history yesterday. This very pleasant resort has grown in beauty year after year, until it is now one of the most attractive places imaginable, and just at this time, when the trees, flowers, shrubbery and lawns are at their best, no more inviting place for an afternoon or even ing of recreation and rest can be found.

The crowd that went out yesterday afternoon and evening was entertained in a characteristic way. "Wonderland" has lost none of its novelty or popularity and is really what its name purports. Thousands made the trip through this latest of de vices calculated to trick the senses and professed themselves delightfully surprised by the experiences. The other amuse ments, the House of Trouble, the Laughing Gallery, the Temple of Palmistry and the like had their patrons, while the merry-go-rounds, the ponies and the many other devices for the little folks' amuse ment were kept busy all afternoon and evening. Finn's Royal Canadian band played two
