The Omaha retail grocers and butchers held their tenth annual picnic.

In the last game of chess before the supreme court pawn took the bishop. This time it is stale mate.

The decision of the supreme court on the biennial elections law has lighted the fuel under the political pot.

We may expect a period of quietude now in the city hall, at least until the next batch of circus tickets is to be distributed.

With Yale and Harvard tied in the base ball game the good feeling between President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft may continue.

Norway has declared itself an independent nation, but, fortunately or unfortunately, it is not in the way of inter-oceanic commerce.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company continues to elect directors and officers each year, but Jim Hill, he does the business.

Advices from Berlin sound as if Germany were afraid the "complications" feared in the Moroccan affair might not put in an appearance in time.

St. Petersburg's report of the fight at Gushu Pass as a rear guard action must indicate the direction in which Lnevitch is expected to move.

Germany's declaration that it wants no naval base in the Caribbean sea is proof conclusive that the Monroe doctrine is still considered effective at Berlin.

Objection to dead men on the Equitable pay rolls sounds hypercritical when it is remembered that as a rule the policy holder must first die to draw out his money.

The state association of county officials, who retained lawyers to draft that biennial election bill, should bring suit to recover the money. The goods were not delivered.

Since the yacht of Emperor William has defeated the boat which was second in the transatlantic race it looks as if it were "up to" the royal sportsman to make a date with Charlie Barr.

To judge by the latest manifesto at St. Petersburg, General Trepoft and the bureaucracy are dying hard, and have evidently had an interview with the czar since he met the zemstvos delegates.

From the contents of the report of Insurance Commissioner Hendricks of New York, "high finance" is not the invention of yesterday, but dates back even further than Tom Lawson had any idea it did.

The report from Tokio, that the Japanese are pursuing the Russians may mean that General Oyama is eager to convey to General Lnevitch assurances of his high regard under the same conditions that Togo expressed his to Rojstevensky.

New York Judges have decided to take no summer vacations this year, but to continue in session to permit Attorney Jerome to act promptly in matters he may desire to investigate.

What working a willing horse to death. What about a vacation for Jerome?

SUGAR TRUST INVESTIGATION.

It is announced that an investigation of the Sugar trust is about to be instituted by the bureau of corporations. According to the Washington correspondent of the Brooklyn Eagle...

It is stated that the persons to be canvassed for information include not only the heads of the trust, but the various independent companies. It is the intention to send out special agents to examine persons engaged in the growing of cane and beet sugar...

An investigation of the methods of the Sugar trust will be of interest to all the people, very many of whom have undoubtedly wondered why it has not been undertaken sooner.

The magnat that draws hundreds of thousands of people to Greater New York is undoubtedly its capacity to instruct and entertain the multitudes at the least cost.

It goes without saying that the more progressive, enterprising, public-spirited any community is the nearer it comes to attracting population to itself.

What is to be hoped for and expected is that the government investigation will be thorough. Every household in the country has an interest in the matter.

At a meeting in New York a few days ago of the Civic Federation the statement was made that there is a serious scarcity of labor in all the industrial centers of the country.

Peoria is slated for the next annual encampment of the Woodmen. From Milwaukee to Peoria there is but one leap.

MUNICIPAL EVOLUTION.

Among the marvels of the last half of the nineteenth century and the first decade of the twentieth century is the phenomenal growth of cities all over the world.

There is, however, another potential force that constitutes a factor of attraction to the large cities. Take, for example, the city of New York, that has recently become, next to London, the largest city in the world.

The number of candidates now coming up for examination for admission to our colleges and universities is increasing in all our eastern colleges more especially will be unusually large this year.

What would be the effect upon civilization if everybody would keep constantly in mind that suggestion of the photographer, "look pleasant?"
