Read the Serious Personal Study By Ida M. Tarbell Of a Great Public Character

John D. Rockefeller

During the five years that Miss Tarbell has studied the history of the Standard Oil Company, her work has necessarily been a study of John D. Rockefeller.

In this article she sets down her personal estimate of Mr. Rockefeller's character. It is a singularly interesting and illuminating study of the man, his methods and career and their effect upon his character and conscience.

To understand the moral and business principles, as well as the almost resistless power of the Standard Oil Company and its allied and supporting institutions, including banks, trust companies, life insurance companies and railroads, it is necessary to know the man who is its soul, its founder and its human prototype.

The article contains a great collection of portraits, including pictures of Mr. Rockefeller, his father, his mother and brothers.

TWIN COMES OUT IN LEAD

Traveling Man is Taken for His Brother and Gets to the House Twice.

F. J. Hinkston and F. A. Hinkston of Rock Island, Illinois, are twin brothers. They look, act and dress so much alike that they would deceive a bill collector and life insurance agent. Both of them travel for the Rock Island Plow company, F. A., formerly traveled in this territory and was a prominent figure at the implement dealers convention held here last winter. He has taken up the eastern territory now and F. J., is doing the western stunt. F. J., arrived in Omaha Thursday and put up at the Murray. He was cordially greeted by Clerk Hastings and could not conceal his surprise that he should be so well known, when this was the first time he was ever in Omaha.

"You are Mr. Hinkston, are you not?" asked the urbane clerk. "Yes, but how did you know it?" "Oh, I have met you frequently here." "You are off, my friend. I was never in Omaha before in my life." Clerk Hastings did the clear act gracefully and suggested that they visit the bar room of the hotel, where the genial dispenser of stimulants reigned and who was willing to irrigate the city if he failed to recognize a face he had ever seen before. The test was applied and the bar keeper greeted his old friend, Hinkston, with a cordial handshake. Hinkston said he would have to be introduced. And then that bar keeper insisted that if he was not F. A. Hinkston that there should not be a thirty man in the house upon the production of proofs that he was mistaken. F. J. produced the evidence and admitted that he was the twin of F. A., and then the most refreshments forthcame at the bar-keeper's expense. He got F. J. to give him a thumb print, so that if F. A. ever struck this locality again the Murray bar would not have to suffer a drought.

WEDDING OF LOCAL INTEREST

O. R. Gareisen and Mrs. Mabel-Fonda McCormick Are Married in Washington.

The announcement is made of the marriage in Washington, June 15, of Mr. Oscar R. Gareisen, the noted musician, and Mrs. Mabel Fonda McCormick, both formerly of Omaha and well known in society circles here.

Mrs. Gareisen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ten Eyck Fonda of 338 South Thirty-fifth avenue, one of the most substantial families of Omaha. She was married to Harry M. McCormick in 1882, but separated from him last year. Mr. McCormick's family was also of the oldest and most prominent in the city. Soon after the separation of the McCormicks Mr. Gareisen left Omaha for the east. When she left this city Mrs. McCormick went to Alabama, taking with her her little son, the custody of whom the divorce decree granted to her. Her friends said she would not return to Omaha, nor did she.

Mr. Gareisen, who was in Omaha some three years, secured a divorce from his former wife while here. Two Years for Blanche. Blanche O'Neil, a female desperado in the eyes of the police, who has frequently brought herself into close touch with the criminal law, was on Friday morning sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Judge Day. She was found guilty of larceny from the person by the strong arm method.

ROOSEVELT MEN PREVAIL

Effort of Coal Dealers to Discourage Rate Legislation is Defeated.

MAJORITY SIT DOWN HARD ON MOTION

Resolutions Opposing National Legislation Defeated—Enforcement of Existing Laws Favored When it Comes to Vote.

Interest rose to a high pitch and discussion waxed warm at Friday morning's session of the Coal Dealers' association of Nebraska and Iowa when an attempt was made to persuade the dealers of the two states to pass resolutions opposing national railway rate legislation.

The resolutions were offered by J. M. Rogers, sales agent for the Sheridan Coal company. They embodied the sentiment that the national regulation of railway freight traffic would result in danger to the coal trade, a crippling of general industry and a localization of manufacturing interests. The enforcement of existing laws was favored, but any legislation taking from the railroads the power of initiative was vigorously opposed. The adjustment of rates may be better undertaken with the proper local officials of the individual roads, said the resolutions.

The situation was rendered more interesting by the presence of a small group of men who were said to be representatives of the railroads.

Mr. Rogers said that a body of politicians at Washington would know about as much concerning traffic needs in Nebraska as he knew concerning Alaska. He spent much time in trying to convince his hearers that rates would be higher under government regulation. F. P. Loomis and Randall Brown of Omaha and George Gregory of Marshalltown, Ia., opposed the resolution. In the vote which was taken two men were with Mr. Rogers, but when the vote was called for there was an overwhelming chorus.

Officers for the Year.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: C. H. Chisam, Council Bluffs, president; George Gregory, Marshalltown, Ia., vice president; W. J. White, Plattsmouth, Neb.; James A. Smith, Osage, Ia., and George Wickham, Council Bluffs, directors for one, two and three years respectively. A. F. Burke, Lincoln, Neb., and E. M. Neely, Grinnell, Ia., are the directors who hold over. The secretary will be appointed by the board of directors.

A short afternoon session was taken up with addresses and routine business. D. Hunter of Hamburg, Mo., was elected. Benefits of the Association. Resolutions were passed favoring the establishment of a bureau of information by the national association. An early adjournment was taken, so members could take the afternoon train, and it was decided not to go to Manawa, where the association had been invited for the evening by the local association at Council Bluffs. The date and place for the next meeting will be set by the board of directors.

BRECKNER CASE WITH JURY

Case Submitted Late in Afternoon and at Bedtime Jury Still Deliberating.

The case of George Breckner, the 16-year-old boy charged with manslaughter for the shooting of Arthur Kuhn at South Omaha last November, was given to the jury at 4:30 in the afternoon and the twelve men are still deliberating over a verdict.

Young Breckner and a brother were out hunting with a shotgun and met some other boys in a cave below the South Omaha city limits. Some sort of an altercation had taken place before the arrival of the Breckner boys and after a few minutes talk about the quarrel George Breckner threw a shot at the man to his shoulder. The little Kuhn boy, younger than Breckner, said not to shoot, and as he spoke the gun was discharged. The Breckner boy claimed he had no intention of shooting, that the trigger caught on his coat sleeve and the load was discharged. The victim of the shooting lived until next day.

Former County Attorney English defended young Breckner, while the case for the state was presented by County Attorney Slabaugh and Assistant Fitch. Two days were consumed in getting a jury and in hearing the evidence. The parents of both boys were in court and Mr. Kuhn, the father of the dead boy, took an active interest in the prosecution.

Mr. English made a hard fight to save his client. His speech to the jury was a strong plea for mercy and a saving of the future life of the living boy, since the dead lad or his parents could not be in any way benefited by condemning Breckner to a felon's cell. The county attorney and his assistant demanded a vindication of the law and a lesson to other careless gun carriers on the sacredness of human life.

Young Breckner has been out on bail since the killing.

Announcements of the Theaters.

"Moths of Society" is one of the best pieces the Ferris Stock company has offered this season at the Boyd. It is cleverly put together, so that the dramatic strength of the greatest outside novel is retained in all its power. Miss Pavey is doing a remarkably clever piece of portraiture in her characterization of Vera Herbert, and Miss Carmontelle is splendid as the shallow, frivolous and selfish Lady Dolly. "Moths of Society" will be presented at 8 o'clock this afternoon and again this evening, closing with the Sunday matinee performance. Beginning Sunday night "A Royal Slave" will be put on for the first half of the coming week.

Pollard's Lilliputian Opera company will give two farrow performances today, closing the Krug theater for the season with the performance this evening. "A Galety Girl" will be the offering. All those who have been fortunate enough to witness any of the number of operas given by this sterling company of juvenile performers have been unanimous in their praise. Indications are such that the company will close this popular theater to a capacity business tonight.

If you have anything to trade, advertise it in the For Exchange column of The Bee want ad page.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY OF PE-RU-NA.

Found Peruna a Notable Exception.

Dr. A. Morgan, 314 West Gater street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "Regular physicians do not, as a rule, endorse patent medicines. I have, however, found in my practice that Peruna is a notable exception and not at all like any other medicine generally sold as 'patent medicine.' 'In examining it I find that it is a scientifically prepared medicine, composed of herbal remedies of high medicinal value. 'It is a specific for catarrh of the head, lungs or stomach, a fine remedy for female trouble and invaluable to mothers and children. 'After fevers and other protracted illness, it is one of the best tonics I know of to restore the system to normal condition and I recommend it to the public as an excellent remedy for catarrh and colds.' 'It is a high class remedy, good for young and old.'"

Professor of Howard University Recommends Peruna to the Public.

Dr. A. P. Bogue, formerly Professor of Anatomy at Howard University, writes from the Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., as follows: "I have used Peruna in several cases of catarrh and have found it an excellent remedy. 'I can honestly recommend it to the public as an excellent remedy for catarrh and colds.'"

WRIGHT MAKES A BIG HIT

Senior Member of Wholesale Hardware Firm Impresses Tax Equalizers.

ASSESSOR REED'S HEART IS AFFECTED

Members of the Board Stand Aghast as Mr. Wright Delivers His Speech on Adjusting Assessment.

"Gentlemen of the board, I appreciate the difficulty of your position. If I were doing this work myself I probably should not do it as satisfactorily as you are. I appear here with nothing to say except this: Mr. Reed appears to have distributed his favors with an impartial hand and I should have felt offended indeed if I had been overlooked. We do not desire to be conspicuous in any way, and let me say that if any of the others are cut down we desire to go down with them. If all are kept up where they now are we also are willing and anxious to be kept up."

The speaker was Mr. Wright of the Wright-Whitely company. He was smiling in a way to win the heart of even a tax equalizer. Before he was half through his little talk the members of the County Board of Equalization were catching their breath. Assessor Reed placed one hand on his heart and with the other reached for a large chair.

"Don't, Mr. Wright," he gasped. "You should not do such a thing without warning. It is unheard of and has unnerved me. Wait a moment until I get control of myself."

Attracts General Attention.

Mr. Wright paused with an anxious look at the assessor. Even Chairman McDonald and the county commissioners had dropped whatever they held in their hands and were staring with open-mouthed astonishment at this genial and strange visitor. They had heard of Millionaire Thomas Fitzsimmons of Cleveland, who had become famous by

As a rule, physicians are opposed to proprietary medicines.

Many are opposed to Peruna just because it is a proprietary medicine. In spite of the natural prejudice against it, however, Peruna has won the favor of a great many physicians.

Some very prominent physicians use and prescribe Peruna. Many times Peruna finds its way into the physician's family first.

His wife or children make use of it and its value is demonstrated in the physician's own home.

Then he timidly prescribes it for his patients.

Afterwards he boldly proclaims its virtues and gives public endorsement of Peruna. All the way from California to the District of Columbia are to be found physicians who believe in Peruna, and prescribe it for catarrhal diseases.

"Have found, however, one exception to this rule, and that is in Peruna. 'I have often prescribed it in cases of catarrh of the respiratory or digestive organs, and have also found it very valuable for female weakness and ovarian troubles and cases of women who are happy and healthy mothers today on account of Peruna.'"

Dr. W. Green, 3004 S. Spring St., Los Angeles, Calif., writes:

"If people would take less medicine and pay more attention to the general laws governing health, they would be better off. 'I am also satisfied that the majority of patent medicines are at best almost worthless and unfit to take or cure anything.'"
