

SUSAN B. ANTHONY CHEERED

Chautauqua Salute Mingles with American
Welcome for Her.

OMAHA WOMEN GREET PASSING DELEGATES

Woman Suffrage Workers on Their Way to Portland Given Cordial Reception at Union Depot
on Their Way.

The handkerchiefs of a hundred representatives of local women's organizations fluttered the Chautauqua salute as the Northwestern train bearing Susan B. Anthony and her distinguished fellow delegates enroute to the annual convention of the American Woman's Suffrage association at Portland, Ore., pulled into the Union station at 3:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Scarcely before the train had come to a full stop streams of bright-faced energetic women issued from every car to shake the outstretched hands of the eager party that awaited them. A lively cheer went up and the crowd pushed toward the front end of the train as a plain little woman in a black satin gown and hair parted smoothly over her high forehead and drawn back, hiding her ears, after the fashion of a half century ago, stepped to the platform and the women recognized Susan B. Anthony.

Tenderly assisted by Alice Stone Blackwell, the daughter of Lucy Stone, for Miss Anthony is in her eighty-seventh year, she was quickly surrounded and became the center of attraction. Pushing her way through the crowd, Mrs. Mary G. Andrews, as president of the Omaha Woman's club, and Mrs. Fred Patterson, representing the local Woman's Christian Temperance union, greeted Miss Anthony and presented to her an armful of American Beauty roses on behalf of the local women as a slight token of their esteem and admiration of the distinguished representatives of the suffrage association and their achievements. And then there came cries for a speech. A porter's stool was brought in a minute and stepping upon it Miss Anthony addressed the crowd.

Miss Anthony's Address.
"When I first came to Omaha," she said, "there were only a comparatively few women here, and, oh, it is gratifying to see such a gathering as this here today. I am so glad to greet these representatives of other organizations and to feel and receive this evidence of their interest in our cause for it bespeaks unity. When I was here twenty years ago we had a lively reception—we did not get all that we hoped to get, but we have not been discouraged and this gathering today is most reassuring. I remember Mr. Roosevelt and understand that he, too, is more friendly to the cause of woman suffrage."

Her voice was not strong, but she made herself heard.
Rev. Anna Shaw, president of the National Suffrage association, was called for and mounting the step said in a clear ringing voice: "We are so glad to greet our own suffragists, always, but it does me even more good to greet these representatives of other organizations; to feel that they, too, are interested in us. We need you all as you need us, and it is co-operation and unity that is to attain for us all those things for which we are striving."

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, ex-president of the national association, was next called for. "We hope that Nebraska will be the next state to grant its women full suffrage. The opinions of your people are broadening, and when Nebraska next asks its legislature for a constitutional amendment that will give the ballot to its women, we national workers are coming out here in a body, whether we are invited or not, and we are going to work the state from one end to another and we hope, with better success than attended our last effort."

One Man in the Party.

Lucy Stone Blackwell, daughter of Lucy Stone, Antoinette Brown Blackwell, the first ordained woman minister in the United States; Miss Laura Clay, a kinwoman of Henry Clay, and Henry Blackwell were all called for and each spoke briefly. Mr. Blackwell congratulated the women upon their interest in their forward cause and said: "Nebraska and Omaha are full of enterprising people. You could not help being progressive with such men as Mr. Edward Rosewater and his Bee, and now you women owe it to yourselves to organize your men and go before your legislature and demand that by their majority vote they give to you presidential suffrage. Enlist your men and when they know you are in earnest they will work for you as well as with you."

Mr. Blackwell, now over 80 years of age, was the husband of Lucy Stone, and believed so thoroughly in a woman's right to independence that he never required her to take his name.

Besides the speakers there were about 130 other delegates on the train, among them being Miss Mary Anthony, a sister of Miss Anthony; Dr. Cora Smith Eaton of Minneapolis; Mrs. M. Anna Hall, past national president of the Women of the Grand Army of the Republic, who was greeted by a special delegation from Garfield circle, and a score of other women, including all the national officers except Miss Kate Gordon and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, who have gone on ahead. It was noticeable that there was scarcely a woman in the delegation whose hair was not well mixed with gray and most of them were women of more than local prominence in their respective states.

In the Local Party.

Besides the women there were present a number of prominent men of the city, among them Dr. Newton Mann, of whose congregation Miss Anthony was once a member in Albany, N. Y.

The train left at 4:30 and the delegation will meet Sunday morning by another party of distinguished women who went by another route.
The train was met at Council Bluffs by a party of women representing the Omaha clubs and press, and upon each member of the delegation was pinned a boutonniere of Omaha, a button bearing an Indian's head and the words, "Omaha the Market Town."

Miss Laura A. Gregg, who was to have joined the delegation at Omaha, was detained by the illness of her mother in Kansas and will be unable to attend the convention, although she was to have had an important place on the program. Delegations from Broken Bow, Geneva and Table Rock joined the train here.

BOY SHOTS YOUNG PLAYMATE

Difference Over Possession of Roller Skates Leads to Quarrel and Shooting.

Because his 10-year-old playmate would not give him a pair of roller skates he wanted, Victor Fleischer, an 11-year-old boy living with his parents at 3715 Ohio street, sent a 38-caliber bullet after Arthur Crosby, who lives at 206 Corby street, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The bullet struck young Crosby first in the right forearm, and then glancing, striking him in the upper lip and cutting a deep gash across his right cheek.

The two had been playing with a revolver earlier in the day, but Fleischer, seeing the weapon was loaded, took the gun into the house, took the load out and returned with the revolver. They soon tired of playing with the gun, and when the question of the skates came up, young Fleischer became so angered that he went into the house and deliberately reloaded the gun and shot his young companion.

The wound which was inflicted on the Crosby boy is not considered serious.

Victor Fleischer, the boy who did the shooting, is the son of Louis Fleischer, who conducts a bicycle repairing establishment at 1222 Capitol avenue. His parents have been away on the Chicago excursion, his father returning Friday afternoon. His mother is still in Chicago. There was no one at home at the time of the shooting but the two boys. Officer McCarthy went to the Fleischer home at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night and sent the boy to the station, where later his father appeared and signed a bond for his son's appearance Monday morning in police court.
Arthur Crosby the injured lad was resting easily last night at a late hour. It is thought he will pull through without any serious effects. Dr. Ross was called immediately after the shooting and dressed the boy's wounds, after which he was removed to his home. The father of the Crosby boy is a laborer.

HUNG JURY FOR BRECKNER

Disagreement in Case of Young Man on Trial in District Court for Manslaughter.

The Odd Fellows and the Rebekah lodges held memorial exercises here Sunday morning and at Benson in the afternoon.

Dr. Tracy, a charter member of the lodge here, is buried at Forest Lawn cemetery, and Mrs. Elmer Guy, a late member of the Rebekah lodge, is also buried at Forest Lawn. The members met at the hall and went from there to the cemetery, where services were held. Noble Grand John Finkenkeller and Chaplain Karl Foellmer conducted the services.

At the city council meeting Monday night the hose recently bought from Fairbanks, Morse & Co. was ordered tested. There is 50 feet of it and it cost $130 per foot. An offer by Orchard & Wilhelm to put seats in the park, such seats to carry advertising matter for a couple of years, was turned down.

The annual levy ordinance was passed, providing for a 10-mill levy for general purposes and 5 mills for water and electric light. The amount required for the estimated running expenses for the year is $5,330. A resolution was passed ordering a special meeting on July 17 for the purpose of equalizing taxes on certain pieces of property on account of the laying of sidewalks on Main street between State and Harrison.

The Florence Improvement club held its regular meeting Wednesday night, with all the officers present and a large number of members. A special committee on building, J. B. Brislin chairman, reported that very soon there would be some houses under construction. The time of the committee was extended. The telephone committee, H. T. Brislin chairman, has been busy the past week, having met with a committee from the Nebraska Telephone company, Mr. Belt and Mr. Harding. The new exchange will be put in as soon as possible. The telephone people have solicitors here getting contracts for telephones. They have been fairly successful so far, but need several more to make the exchange work. They will go into the country next week. Under the new rates of $2 for four-party lines for residences and $3 for individual lines a good many are subscribing. The country people will be given a rate of $3 for a ten-party line. The committee has received some communications from outside parties in reference to the independent line talked of, but so far the Nebraska Telephone people have treated the citizens fair and it is thought if they keep it up that the independent line will be dispensed with, both in the country and town, and the new exchange will give the subscribers access to the Omaha lines without extra toll.

DISEASES and WEAKNESSES of MEN

The Men's True Specialists

CURE

Hydrocele
Varicocele
Stricture
Emissions
Impotency
Gonorrhea
Blood Poison
Syphilis
Rupture
Nervous Debility

KIDNEY and URINARY diseases and all Diseases and Weaknesses of Men due to evil habits of youth, abuse, excesses or the results of neglected, unskilled or improper treatment of private diseases.

Men of all ages, no matter in what walk of life, whose weakened vitality, exhausted energies and shattered nerves tell a pitiable story, and who are tottering on the brink of an abyss that means destruction of their physical health and happiness unless promptly rescued, caused in many cases by ignorance, excesses or contagion, are the very persons we want to talk to and help.

If this be your unfortunate condition and you find yourself on the verge of social ruin and there is some private disease lurking in your system; if you are staggering under the depressing burden of some secret weakness or wasting disease, or you are contaminated with some poisonous private disease, or menaced by weakening drains, which are sapping the vital forces and undermining the very foundation of manhood, destroying your health and strength, leaving you a physical, mental and sexual wreck, then there should be no apathy, no indifference, no neglect, no delay. When you are first aware that some private disease or weakness is making serious inroads upon the system, then you should realize that you are in the clutches of a man's most deadly enemy. It is then the best treatment medical science affords should be sought for, because such troubles produce startling weaknesses, cause debilitating drains and great physical and mental torture. If allowed to progress they destroy sexual instincts, cause agonizing urinary troubles and deprive men of their happiness and strength.

Call and consult with us and we will help you to escape from the slavery that is holding you captive and depleting your manhood. We will make a searching and scientific examination of your ailments; an examination that will disclose your true physical condition, without a knowledge of which you are groping in the dark, and without a thorough understanding of which no physician or specialist should be allowed to treat you. We have devoted many years exclusively to treating this class of troubles, attended with the greatest success, and have evolved and perfected a system of treatment that is an absolutely safe and certain cure where men's characteristic energies have become weakened or debilitated, to which thousands of men owe their sturdy health and happy condition in life.

We point with pride to the endless number of cures we have made. Specialists, such as we are, who have devoted many years to the treatment of this class of troubles exclusively and enjoy an immense practice, are better qualified to advise, direct and treat such cases than the general practitioner, who scatters his faculties over a whole field of medicine and surgery. We have gladdened the hearts of thousands of young and middle-aged men, who were plunging to the doom of their manhood, restoring them to perfect specimens of physical manhood.
