WORRIED ABOUT REVENUES

Anti-Saloon Crusade May Leave the City in a Bad Way Financially.

TAXES INSUFFICIENT TO PAY THE BILLS

City Officials and Business Men Have a Meeting at Commercial Club Rooms to Discuss the Situation.

The possible loss of much needed revenue, owing to the activity displayed by certain ministers of the city representing the anti-saloon league, is causing the municipal authorities considerable concern these days. A conference was held yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Commercial club, at which several of the city officials, including the mayor and chief of police, a number of business men and the members of the executive committee of the Commercial club were present.

The city's revenues from the regular taxes are insufficient to maintain the various municipal departments, and the income derived from saloon licenses and other similar sources practically a necessity. To maintain efficient police and fire departments and to meet the expenses of keeping the streets clean it is necessary that the city look to other sources of revenue besides that derived from the levy for the general fund, which is limited by statute.

The campaign inaugurated by the ministers, if persisted in, will, it is expected, seriously affect this source of the city's income and the result, city officials state, will be that both the police and fire departments will have to be reduced.

The conference yesterday afternoon was behind closed doors and the decision arrived at by those present was not made public. It is stated, however, that the situation was deemed sufficiently alarming to warrant some action on the part of the business men, but what this will be was not announced.

It is understood that Mayor Macrae is prepared, if the ministers insist on it, to close the lid down tight, but that if he is forced to go this far, he will see to it that no privileges are allowed at Lake Manawa or Courtland beach, which are not permitted in the city proper. On the other hand, it is stated that the saloonmen are willing to make certain concessions and conduct their places more in conformity with the moral law, provided the latter is not enforced to the letter.

Important developments are looked for in the next few days, as it is understood that the ministers, if their demands are not heeded, will call upon the county attorney to take up the matter and enforce the moral law in all of its provisions.

MEETING OF COUNCIL GOES OVER

Animal Show Proves Greater Attraction to the Members.

The aldermen could not resist the temptation to attend the Hagenbeck wild animal show, so the special meeting of the city council, called for last night, had to be postponed until this evening. Some of the aldermen are questioning the legality of the call for the meeting owing to the absence from the city of Alderman Maloney, who consequently was not served with notice of the call.

In the event of the water works committee recommending that Attorney C. M. Harl be retained to assist City Solicitor Snyder in the negotiations with the water works company there will be opposition. With the exception of Alderman Olsen, the members of the city council are democrats and several of them insist that an attorney of their political faith should be given preference. Alderman Younkerman, who is leading the opposition to the appointment of Mr. Harl on account of him being a republican, says that John P. O'Grady be retained. If he fails to carry his point Alderman Younkerman will try to have consideration of the committee's report deferred until the return of Alderman Maloney.

Police Raid the Beer.

With the Hagenbeck show on the lot adjoining his grocery John Crow yesterday decided to make hay while the sun shone, and he accordingly turned part of the store into a saloon. The day was warm and the crowd on the show grounds was large and thrifty, and Crow was doing a rushing business when the police swooped down on him last evening. Crow and several kegs of beer found on the place were taken to police headquarters, where Crow gave bonds for his appearance in police court this morning. Crow's license and permit to sell liquors only covers his saloon at

DONATIONS FOR THE ORPHANS

Ten Thousand Dollars to Start Home for Them Under Christian Control.

INSURANCE MAN THREATENS COAL MEN

Presbyterian Minister Denounces the Sunday Chautauqua, Claiming Its More of a Holiday Than a Religious Service.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, June 26.—(Special.)—A $10,000 donation for the erection of a state orphanage for the Iowa Christian church was announced today at the jubilee convention of the denomination. The name of the donor is withheld from the public. The school will be for all orphan children and will be under the direct supervision of the Christian denominations of the state. The location of the home will be decided later, though there is strong sentiment among the delegates to the convention to locate the home in Des Moines. A move has been started by the University Place people to have it located there, near the college and church. Yesterday a donation of $3,500 for the erection of the home was announced, and the delegates are expected before the convention closes.

Rev. George B. Ransom, assistant secretary of home missions, gave the principal address this forenoon, and the afternoon was devoted to the minister's hour and the discussion of topics pertaining to the subject. The address by the president, J. C. Mabry, was delivered this evening.

Threatens Other Trusts.

W. V. Wilcox, a prominent Grand Army of the Republic and insurance man, and one of the four insurance men arrested under the state anti-trust law, said today in the sheriff's office that if the law was held against him in the prosecution against him, he would be a whole sale dealer in coal.

Rev. Charles Lee Reynolds of the Sixth Presbyterian church of this city, in a sermon Sunday, attacked the Sunday Chautauqua and said that in the Chautauqua professed Christians pay fees and make a holiday of a holy day. He claimed that the advertising of excursions on that day by the Chautauqua proved that the day was considered a harvest day for the financial side of the Chautauqua.

START OF THE CHAMBERLAIN CASE

First Day Devoted to Preliminary Legal Sparring.

TECUMSEH, Neb., June 26.—(Special Telegram.)—Today has been devoted to preliminary sparring in the case against Charles M. Chamberlain, cashier of the failed Chamberlain bank of this city, in the district court here, on charge of embezzlement. Upon request of the defense, the case was set for the afternoon of the 27th for the reason that Judge W. H. Kelliger had had something to do with some cases in his law practice before he was elected judge. Judge Paul Jensen of Nebraska City was pressed into service to try the case in the afternoon.

Upon the convening of the court the defense filed a motion to quash the penal of petit jurors as it now stands. The claim was made that County Attorney J. C. Moore had been in consultation with one of the commissioners upon the matter when the jury was selected. Upon the witness stand Mr. Moore did not deny having told one of the commissioners that a certain man proposed for jury service had served within two years and was not eligible. The defense endeavored to show that the jury had not been drawn according to law, but the clerk's records showed it to have been drawn sixteen days prior. After arguments on the motion the judge overruled the same.

The defense filed an application to create a compulsory process in regard to witnesses. Mr. Chamberlain claiming his inability to pay for the service the witnesses might render. He said he was out of funds. The application was granted. At 6 o'clock court adjourned until morning, when it is presumed the work of securing a jury will be taken up.

Farmer Killed in Runaway.

TEKAMAH, Neb., June 26.—(Special.)—F. E. Lange, a farmer living ten miles north of this place, died this morning from injuries received in a runaway last night. Mr. Lange was driving a team and a wagon in crossing a bridge the team came unhooked, letting the tongue down, throwing Mr. Lange out of the wagon and rendering him unconscious, from which he never recovered. Mr. Lange was 78 years old and was the oldest settler of Hart county, coming here in 1854. The deceased leaves a wife, two daughters and two sons.

BOY RESCUED FROM RIVER

Youth Pulled Out of Water by Sam Wilson, Employed on City Dump.

Sam Wilson, an employe at the city dump at the foot of Jones street on the river, rescued a boy from drowning yesterday. The boy, Fred Kolos, 7 years of age, was in a watery grave Monday afternoon. The boy was taken to the police station in the ambulance and attended by the surgeons. Just whether Kolos fell into the water or whether he jumped in with suicidal intent could not be determined. Kolos would not give any information regarding his tragedy. He was able to go to his home at Eighteenth and Hickory streets in a few hours after being rescued.

For Iowa—Fair Tuesday; Wednesday, fair and warmer. For Missouri, Colorado, Wyoming and Kansas—Generally fair Tuesday and Wednesday. For South Dakota—Showers Tuesday; Wednesday, fair.

DEATH RECORD

GEORGE E. MACKLIN. PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—George E. Macklin, general manager of the Pressed Steel Car company of Pittsburgh, died today at St. Joseph's hospital of consumption. Mr. Macklin was brought to the hospital early in October. He gradually grew weaker until death ended his suffering today.

J. A. Lusk. LOGAN, Ia., June 26.—(Special.)—James A. Lusk, Harrison county's pioneer horse breeder and prominent owner of the Lusk house, died Sunday morning. He was born January 28, 1824. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the hotel, with a funeral address by Rev. H. Kremer of the Logan Presbyterian church.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

Thanks to the enthusiasm aroused by Miss Anthony and her associates Saturday afternoon, there will probably be a reorganization of the Omaha Equality club next fall. The members of the association which disbanded last fall are almost all members of the other women's clubs of the city, and as both the Woman's club and the Woman's Christian Temperance union were carrying on the same work as the Equality club, it was thought best to centralize the effort in organizations against which there was not so much prejudice. Miss Laura M. Anthony, of the Equality club, was very decidedly Saturday afternoon to some of the local women regarding this disbanding. She counts opposition no excuse whatever, and asked what they imagined would have become of the woman's movement, at its very beginning, if Miss Anthony, Mrs. Stanton, and the rest had been afraid of opposition.

One of the most interesting members of the delegation of suffragists that passed through Omaha Saturday enroute to the convention of the American women's suffrage association at Portland, Me., was Henry Blackwell, the husband of Lucy Stone and the father of Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, the editor of the Woman's Journal of Boston. In 1887 Mr. Blackwell joined himself with the cause of woman suffrage and has been one of its staunchest advocates since. When the national organization was formed in 1893 he was present, and he has attended every one of its annual conventions since. For years Mr. Blackwell has been associated with his daughter in editing the Woman's Journal.

The enfranchisement of women will furnish the topic for the next educational meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance union which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. A. Taggart, 1125 North Twenty-fourth street. Mrs. Fred Patterson, superintendent of franchise of the Nebraska Women's Christian Temperance union, will lead the meeting. The meeting will be open to all women interested.

The club women of Georgia will make another attempt at the next meeting of their state legislature to secure some badly needed legislation governing child labor and the conditions of children. Year after year the women and philanthropists have continued to importune the Georgia legislature, but public sentiment has been aroused until the manufacturers, fearing it, not long ago promised that the desired result should be secured through voluntary agreement on their part. They promised that no child under 16 years of age should be employed or no child under 12 years of age should be permitted to work in a factory, unless its labor was necessary to dependent parents, or unless it was attending school four months of the year or could read and write. An investigation recently developed that this agreement has been flagrantly broken, particularly in the case of the Atlanta Mills. The child labor committee, after pointing out that the present system only puts a premium upon ignorance, continues as follows:

We are now prepared to show that even the poor protection of the child will not avail so long as it is merely an agreement of the manufacturers, and not a law of the state. The child labor law is immoral, it is only law-breaking that is criminal.

One of the mills investigated it was found that there was only one widow dependent upon the labor of the child. The experience of the country teaches that this class constitutes only 2 per cent of the child labor force. The child labor law is immoral, it is only law-breaking that is criminal.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Council Has Busy Evening with Some Accumulated Matters.

WORKMEN MAY HOLD THEIR CARNIVAL

Architect Will Draw Plans for New Fire Station and B Street Jog in Ward Boundary is to Be Straightened Out.

It was decided by the city council last night to advertise for bids for an architect to draw plans for the proposed fire hall to be erected at Twenty-fifth and L streets. Several architects have offered their services, but the council did not seem to be able to reach any agreement and now the intention is to give the work to the lowest responsible bidder.

A communication was received from C. M. Harl of the Ancient order of United Workmen, a committee asking that Twenty-fifth to Twenty-sixth streets be set aside for carnival purposes this fall. The Workmen agree to construct and take down the fence without expense to the city. A promise is made that objectionable features will be eliminated. The request was granted.

An ordinance was read for the first time restricting the Fifth and Sixth wards. Under the ordinance introduced last night the boundary line on the west between the Fifth and Sixth wards will extend along Twenty-seventh street from K street north to the city limits. This cuts out the B street jog.

A petition asking for the curbing and guttering of Twenty-third street from Missouri avenue north to the city limits was presented and having the signature of every F. Harman for the curbing and guttering of property owner on the street. The petition was referred to the city attorney and the city engineer.

City Engineer Beal was instructed to establish the grade on P street between Eighteenth and Twenty-third streets. The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the grading of K street from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-seventh streets.

The fire and water committee purchased 100 feet of Eureka hose, the price quoted at 90 cents per foot. A petition signed by A. J. Caughey and twenty-five others was presented asking that Twenty-third street be declared a boulevard from the city limits on the north to Missouri avenue. The committee on streets and alleys will consider the petition.

Armour's Big Smokestack

The building of Armour's big brick smoke stack is progressing rapidly. When work stopped last night the stack was sixty feet above the foundations. When completed the stack will be 250 feet in height. This mammoth smoke stack is being built on a concrete foundation twelve feet deep and forty-two feet square. Material is being hoisted by means of an elevator operated on the inside of the stack. When this improvement to the plant is completed the eight big iron stacks will be taken down. General Manager Howe says that he expects the new brick stack will be ready for use about September 1. When this high smoke stack is completed there can hardly be any complaint about smoke from the Armour plant. In the past residents living south of Armour's have frequently complained about the dense volume of smoke, especially when the wind was from the north.

Omaha Plant Improvements.

Parks, Johnson & Parks started yesterday setting up two new Sterling boilers at the Omaha Packing plant. Only recently two Sterling boilers were placed to take the place of some old boilers, and now two more are being put in. Urquhart says that the locating of these boilers is in the nature of improvements. When completed this work will cost about $25,000. Some other improvements are also being made at this packing house.

Library Board Appointments.

Last evening Mayor Kossuth sent to the council the names of Bruce McCulloch, Rev. James A. Harl and Mrs. C. L. Talbot for reappointment. These appointments were confirmed. The board is composed of those reappointed and Dr. W. S. White, Mrs. W. J. McCann, Ella M. Sloan, Rev. J. Chubbuck, W. B. Cheek and W. S. Kink. Mayor Kossuth stated that the matters of the library are being conducted to his satisfaction and he does not see any necessity at this time for making a change in the membership. Shortly after July 1 the members of the library board will meet and reorganize for one year.

Departure for Germany.

The most distinguished of the lunch in honor of Henry J. Brock last evening. Besides the members of the club a few intimate friends of Brock were present. The members of the club presented Mr. Brock with a handsome diamond stud. Mr. Brock will sail within a week from New York for Germany, where he intends studying music for a couple of years. Until the close of the public schools Mr. Brock was a teacher of German at the high school. He leaves South Omaha with the best wishes of a large number of friends.

Board of Review Figures.

Last evening City Commissioner T. J. O'Neil gave out the totals showing the valuation of property in South Omaha for 1905. The total valuation, as fixed by the Board of Review, is $2,125,000. For 1904 the valuation was $1,755,000. An increase of $370,000 is shown. As soon as the tax commissioner makes his official returns to the mayor and city council the amount of the 1905 levy will be determined. It is the intention of the city authorities to keep the levy this year down to eight mills. About $700,000 will be needed for municipal expenditures for the coming fiscal year, which commences August 1.

Police Enforcing Orders.

Last night Officer Coulter arrested William Alfson for shooting fire crackers on the streets. Strict orders have been given the police by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to prevent shooting of fire crackers before July 4. The arrest of Alfson last night was the first since the order was issued. Chief Briggs stated that the police would pay particular attention to this order and on July 4 would prevent as far as possible the exploding of cannon.

CUPID WINS AFTER LONG WAIT

L. A. Goldsmith Will Marry His Old Sweetheart and Widow of His Brother.

Leo A. Goldsmith, a saloon keeper for many years in Omaha, has been on July 13 his sister-in-law and a sweetheart of former days. The prospective bride is Mrs. A. Goldsmith of Louisville, Ky., the widow of a brother of the groom-to-be. Mr. Goldsmith will go to Louisville in a special car with a party of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Goldsmith will be temporarily at 808 Sherman avenue until their new home on West Farnham street shall have been completed. Mr. Goldsmith has just let a contract for a $20,000 home in the West Farnham district. The groom is 42 and the bride 44.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Superintendent Davidson will lecture tonight on "The Problem of the Schools" before the Saunders County Teachers' institute at Wahoo.

Judge Redick has given judgment by default in favor of E. F. Smith and against the Weber Gas and Gas Engine company for $1,000 interest at 7 per cent from May 1, 1905.

Charles A. Goss, receiver and trustee of the Omaha Trust company, has secured from Judge Beal an order authorizing him to compromise with any and all of the stockholders of the company if he considers such action in the interest of the creditors.

Judge Kossuth has on trial the suit of Gustave M. Hultman against William C. Grinstead, an action for slander. Plaintiff alleges that in July last the defendant published the story that Hultman had robbed the bank which he asks a claim in the sum of $5,000.

WHY DOCTORS FAIL

AND MRS. PINKHAM SUCCEEDS

Plain Reasons Are Here Given to Explain Why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures When Doctors Are Powerless

A woman's sick, some disease peculiar to her sex is fast developing in her system. She goes to her family physician and tells him a story, but not the whole story.

She holds something back, loses her head, becomes agitated, forgets what she wants to say, and finally conceals what she ought to have told, and thus completely mystifies the doctor.

Is it any wonder, therefore, that the doctors fail to cure the disease? Still we cannot blame the woman, for it is very embarrassing to detail some of the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.

It was for this reason that years ago Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., determined to step in and help her sex. Having had considerable experience in treating female ills with her Vegetable Compound, she encouraged the women of America to write to her for advice in regard to their complaints, and being a woman, it was easy for her to tell the truth, to pour into her ears every detail of their suffering.

In this way she was able to do for them what the physicians were unable to do, simply because she had the proper information to work upon, and from the little she knew of the disease she sought her advice years ago a great army of her fellow-beings are today constantly applying for advice and relief, and the fact that many thousands of them have been cured by the little Vegetable Compound of Mrs. Pinkham during the last year is indicative of the grand results which are produced by her unexcelled experience and training.

No physician in the world has had such training, or has such an amount of information to draw upon in the treatment of all kinds of female ills, from the simplest local irritation to the most complicated womb diseases. This, therefore, is the reason why Mrs. Pinkham, in her laboratory at Lynn, Mass., is able to do more for the ailing women of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own suffering who will not take the trouble to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice.

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

DIGGING HIS OWN GRAVE

Patron of Dreamy Drug Selects Alley for His Resting Place.

John Welby of the Royal hotel created considerable excitement in the alley at the rear of the "Rusty Shovel" rooming house, Sixteenth and Davenport streets, Monday afternoon. The patrol wagon, with Officers Baldwin, Vanous, Haltemann and Dillon, made a hurry call and took Welby into custody. As the city's premier is charged with being a suspicious character and carrying concealed weapons. Fortifying himself with a .38-caliber revolver, Welby was digging a hole in the ground when noticed by several roomers of the "Rusty Shovel." On being questioned Welby grew defiant and said he was digging his grave and intended to bury himself in the excavation. The police surgeons made an examination of the man and found him to be suffering from the excessive use of cocaine, a quantity of which drug was found on him. Welby was arrested a few weeks ago for the theft of a stick from Joseph Ott.

BERGE HAS CASE IN OMAHA

Former Fusion Candidate for Governor Appears in Foreclosure of Mortgage Suit.

Attorneys George W. Berge, former fusion nominee for governor, and William Morning, of Lincoln, were engaged in Judge Sutton's court Monday in presenting arguments in the suit of Byron Reed company to foreclose a mortgage on property owned by August and Ernest Klauhand. One Mangold also claims an interest in the property as purchaser under a mortgage. Mr. Berge argued that the property in question is inalienable under the law, that neither August or Ernest Klauhand could mortgage the property, and that the instrument is void. Attorneys Stout and O'Connor, representing the plaintiffs, argued directly to the contrary of Mr. Berge's contention, and several hours were consumed in the talking, after which Judge Sutton reserved his decision.

EIGHT SCALES CONFISCATED

Ice-men's Scales Are Weighed in Mahammit's Balances and Found Wanting.

Inspector of Weights and Measures Mahammit got up bright and early Monday morning and, affixing his eagle wings worth to observe weighing machines that dangle on the business end of ice wagons. Before the dew was well gone from the fresh and tender grass Mr. Mahammit had critically observed the weighing of thirty scales. Of this number eight were found wanting—from ten to twelve pounds. The deficient scales will make a nice pile of junk. They are put out of business and the ice-men told to sin no more or incur certain penalties.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

James Nevels of Columbus, president of the State Liquor Dealers, is at the Merchants.

Judge F. G. Hamer of Kearney, attorney in the Little and Barker cases, stopped over night at the Merchants, leaving this morning for Lincoln. He expects to return to Omaha tonight.

R. B. Latta of Tekamah spent Sunday at the Merchants. He is president of the Central Nebraska Farmers' Union and has been in Wisconsin and Illinois for two weeks in the interests of a tournament to be held at the Merchants. Mr. Latta's efforts have been secured and an interesting affair is anticipated.

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much as as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.
