Unconfirmed Report that Mogi Has Cut Off Part of Csar's Army.

JAPANESE ADVANCE CONTINUES STEADILY

Report from Linevitch Indicates that Muscovites' Van Posts Are Being Pressed Backward.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 28 .- 2 a. m .-A rumor spread throughout the city last night that General Kouropatkin had been killed. This rumor was connected sometimes with a report that 70,000 Russians had been cut off by General Nogi's army and that General Kouropatkin had been taken prisoner.

Nothing confirmatory of these rumors has been received by the general staff or in press dispatches,

The members of the general staff say that no reports of special importance have been received.

A report received from General Linevitch indicates that the Japanese advance continues steadily, and that the Russian van posts, under pressure, are retiring fight-

Linevitch's Case Desperate. ST. PETERSBURG, June 27 .- The military experts take anything but a hopeful view of General Linevitch's situation. They do not believe he can be surrounded, but apparently the experts do not consider the possibility of a Russian victory. Linevitch's retirement to Harbin and the isolation of Vladivostok seem to be regarded as foregone conclusions when Field Marshal Oyama strikes. According to the latest news from the front, which is thirty-six hours old. Oyama, after forcing back the Russian right and center, transferred his weight against the west, compelling the Russians to give ground there also. The military critics, however, agree that the frontal movement is merely a ing and wandered about the corridor for feint for the envelopment of one or both of the Russian wings, without which nothing in the shape of a decisive victory is her to ask him for a little information, as possible. The impression is that Oyama, profiting by past experience, is more carefully preparing his turning operations, but by the same token, the Russian staff declares. Linevitch has taken ample precautions to keep in touch with flanking movements and that it is not possible

PETERMAN'S ROACH FOOD

The most improved method to free a house of large or small roaches is to use the contents of a box of "Peterman's Roach Food" at one time. Shake it on joints so some of it will penetrate and remain to keep the premises continuously free. Roaches eat it as a food; it is the most destructive remedy on this earth to them, and it will not scatter them to other places to live on and multiply.

BEDBUGS.—"Peterman's Discovery" if thick), a quicksilver cream, is invaluable to kill bedbugs. Apply slightly with brush on beds when apart, on beds when apart, on backs of picture frames, mouldings, etc. It will remain permanent, and is the only renedy that they absorb and kills those that go over where it has been lightly brushed on. It will not rust from, harm furniture or bedding. "Peterman's Discovery" (Iquido), in flexible cans, handy to force in joints for quick application, will kill bedbugs and their eggs instantly.

All of what is called the trust elevator men, nearly thirty in number, in the county, have been subpoensed and are expected to appear here within the next hree days. An interesting time is prompendent grain dealer of Wahoo, and as he was at one time agent here for the Updike people, seemed to be well posted as to the CHINESE BOYCOTT IN EARNEST ousiness methods of the association eleva-Newspapers Refuse to Accept Adver-

At the afternoon session the same witness continued naming the parties that put up the forfeits. He also, in great detail, described what is called irregular dealers of the Chinese. The extent and depth of in grain, being grain dealers not owning an elevator or a side track or a person the feeling astonishes foreigners and is operating what is called a scoop shovel regarded as an evidence of the growth of house, and persons or organizations having an elevator on a side trick, but who ceivuble. Among many instances cited as are unwilling to be bound by the agreeevidence of this, it is said that a Chinese | ment promulgated by the Nebraska Grain Dealers' association.

The witness then explained the card systo be refused by the native newspapers lated his experience along the line of tryand letters and telegrams from all parts ing to sell grain and get bids from some houses, among them Armour & Co. of Chiing received urging the central government | cago. He made a photograph of his elevator, had it taken from a point where it looked as if a railroad track ran to his exclusion of coolies from Hawaii and the elevator, and the ruse worked for a few Philippines. It is urged that there is no shipments, until Armour & Co. learned reasonable objection to the landing of that he was not what was termed "a regu coolies in Hawaii, where they do not com- lar," and his business was refused. He pete with American labor, while Chinese tried Councilman of Chicago and others in immigration has long been established in Kansas City, but they soon refused his business. A representative from Armour & Co. was sent to Wahoo to really see sential, but it is thought unlikely that whether his elevator was on the track or not, and when they found it was not they notified him they could not do any more business.

Another ruse the witness resorted to was to ship the grain through some of the regulars, but the association "got onto" that and "the jig was up."

Some Personal Experience, Then the witness described a series of persecutions, through which he went briefly, as follows:

In the spring of 1903 I owed one of the banks in this city aggregating $1,500 to $2,000, due on demand, secured by a mortgage on my cievator. It was understood between them and me that this was a permanent loan, and this money was invested in grain, coal and other materials with which I was doing business. The bank knew exactly the condition of my business, whether I was gaining or losing, and I never lost money on but three cars of grain in my life. One day this money was all demanded at once; they knew I could not pay that day, and in a few days that paper came through the First National bank of this city for collection from a bank in Omaha. I told them I could not pay it then, but would do so in a short time. The paper went back and in a few days it was presented to me again through Saunders County bank of this city for collection. It came through another bank in Omaha, and the cashier told me it was sent through the Westbrooke-Gibbon Grain company, with instructions that if I did not pay at once to get in the structions of the lost leaves to the day of the lost leaves to get in the barbane of the lost leaves to get in the structions. briefly, as follows: on one of them little boxes, but, goodness me, they ain't any names on 'em; they are all just numbers."

"Maybe you had better ask at the general delivery window up there, or the postmaster probably could help you find his name."

So the bewildered woman went to the general delivery window and asked for Mr. Smith.

"His name is Bill Smith," she said. "It seems to me that you'ns ought to know Bill Smith. He's lived here ever since I can remember."

Disappointed at not finding any one who knew her Bill Smith she went back to Watchman Shugart.

"You see, it's sorter strange to me here. I haven't been here for a good many years and the town has growed so. Who'd ever thought that Florence would have growed this big?"

"Why, bless you, madam, where do you think you are?"

"Maybe you had better ask at the general delivery window up there, or the pestmaster in the hands of the best lawyer in town and start foreclosure. After a while a man called me up from Holdrege and wanted me to meet him in Lincoln and talk over some trivial matter. I found out who he was and was "leary" of him. I told him if he wanted to see me to come to Wahoo. He tien said he had some demand paper and he wanted it paid at once or he would start foreclosure. These things dragged along for a few days, and in the money to pay it, and I told him I would meet him in Lincoln not sunday at the Lincoln hotel, which I did. He wanted me to go to a room where he had a friend. If told him no; I would talk to him in the parlor, where I had a friend, If at all, and he went to the parlor with me, where my wife was. We computed the amount I owed him, and I told him, "If you sign this big?"

of International President C. P. Shea of the Brotherhood of Teamsters has been upon by the international executive board. The anti-Shea leaders in the committee practically voted to depose the leader. A "trial" has been held and President Shea has been found guilty of violating the constitution and bylaws of the teamsters' organization. There is no appeal from the action of the international committee. It is planned promptly to announce the finding of "guilty" and to declare the office of president vacant until Shea's successor shall be elected in Philadelphia in August. For weeks the international board has been opposed to Shea and his methods. Fear that the move to depose the leader would make him a "martyr" among the rank and file and insure his re-election as president caused members of the board to postpone their action. Last night's unequivocal vote of the department store drivers and the striking express wagon drivers against accepting the latest settlement offers of the employers and the palpament of the general condition of the crop is promising. The weather has been unfavorable for haying in the middle Atlantic states and Ohlo valley and on the north Pacific coast where considerable hay has been spoiled. In portions of the central Mississippi vatilities are regions, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas a good hay crop is promised. ### SUMMARY OF CROP CONDITIONS Rains and Drouth Affect Wheat in Different Sections. WASHINGTON, June 27,-The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions issued today is as follows:

tions issued today is as follows:

The region from the upper lakes westward to the north Pacific coast received insufficient heat, lack of sunshine being especially unfavorable in Washington and Oregon but elsewhere the temperature conditions were favorable. Excessively heavy rains occurred in the central and west guif districts and in portions of central Missouri and Ohlo valleys, lower lake regions and New England, while portions of south Atlantic states and central and eastern Missouri valley continue to suffer from drought. Sunshine is generally needed in the central guif state. Tennessee, Ohio valley and lower lake region.

Sunshine is generally needed in the central gulf state. Tennessee, Ohio valley and lower lake region.

Except in the upper Missouri and Red river of the north valleys where as a result of low temperatures, the growth of corn has been slow, this crop has made good progress, although spifering somewhat from lack of cultivation in portions of the Ohio valley and middle Atlantic states and in central and western Nebraska. In Jowa corn has made vigorous growth and is well cultivated, with better stands than previous reports indicated and the outlook in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas where early corn has reached the silk and tassels is very favorable. Recent rains have greatly improved the conditions of corn in Texas. Heavy rains have interrupted the harvesting of winter wheat in the Ohio valley, Tennessee and portions of the middle Atlantic states but elsewhere work has progressed favorably and is near completion in Missouri and southern Kansas. Harvest is now in progress in the northern portion of the winter wheat region. Some complaints of rust and weevil in central and western Ohio and of smut in New York are received and some grain in shock has been damaged by rains in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Spring wheat on lowlands in the Dakotas—

Spring wheat on lowlands in the Dakotasand Minnesota is suffering somewhat from rust but as a whole this crop has made vigorous growth and continues in promising condition throughout the spring wheat region and also on the north Pacific coast. Exception in lowlands, in southern lowa and portions of the Dakotas and Minnesota, the oat crop has advanced favorably and continues in promising condition. In Texas rains interfered with harvesting and in Tennessee caused some injury to oats in
