BOYCOTT BY CHINA GROWING

Former Consul General to Japan Speaks of Boycott of Oriental Merchants.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Edward G. Bellows, former consul general of the United States in Japan, has returned in San Francisco from a tour of the Pacific coast.

Mr. Bellows renewed confirmation of the boycott of the merchants of China upon goods and merchandise from this country. He adds a new note to the condition of affairs by bringing the information that the Oriental have carried the boycott to the extent that in many instances importers are having great difficulty in the unloading of American products.

"There can be no doubt that there is a determined effort afoot in China whereby it is hoped to bring pressure to bear upon the United States through the medium of a boycott," said Mr. Bellows. "The object is to bring about the desired effect by forcing this country to grant more liberal treatment to merchants and other Chinese who travel in the United States.

"All over China the guilds, which are similar to our boards of trade, are using their utmost efforts to bring about the desired effect. Many are harkening to their teachings. In the several ports the hands who are accustomed to unload the imported goods have been taught to leave untouched the merchandise brought from our country. This condition of affairs is likely to grow.

"Of course I am not saying how effective this mode of procedure may prove. In fact, I think that there is no great prospect for it. Still, we must remember that in Germany and other nations we have worthy competitors in the Chinese trade, and what we lose is bound to be their gain to a certain extent at least."

Henry B. Miller, consul at New Chungking, advised.

SOCIETY MUST FIGHT CRAFT

College Speaker Proposes Social Boycott Against Men Who Misuse Power.

SEEDS OF ANARCHY ARE BEING SOWN

Men Who Depart from Old-Fashioned Honesty Are Responsible for Presence of the Political Demagogue.

BERLIN, O., June 28.—James B. Dill of New York, in the course of an address to the graduating class of Oberlin college today, delivered a scathing rebuke to men who misuse positions of honor and trust for purposes of personal gain. In urging his hearers to be true to the principles of honesty and integrity, Mr. Dill contended that "grafting," which was foreign to the true American character, had been developed by the mad rush for wealth and the recognition of false standards by educated men in the competitive struggle for business power and social prominence.

"A large part of our modern prosperity," he said, "is to a perilous large extent based upon an over-production of fraud and graft. The crisis is acute. A feeling of distrust is growing throughout the country. Many branches of financial business have been in one way or another taken possession of by unscrupulous men for the purpose of deceiving the unwary. Trust companies have been made the mediums of the most specious and fraudulent promotions.

"Some companies in the field of life insurance, the highest and in a sense a sacred form of investment, are, as we all know, conduits through which the savings of the policyholders are diverted into operations for speculative purposes.

"Credit and good faith not money, are the basis of business. Good or bad modern property is founded on public confidence. Take that away and the whole fabric falls.

"The fact is that the unprecedented material growth of the country, the resulting creation of immense private fortunes, the massing of social position and power, the industrial combinations and railroad mergers, all have tended to concentrate the attention of the people upon the great financial achievements and to establish in the highest place in the popular estimation the captains of industry and the powerful financiers, little regard being paid, in making up the judgment, to the financial virtues of private individuals.

Public is at Fault.

"Now, whose fault is this? It is ours. It is the fault of public opinion, and public opinion is our opinion, yours and mine—ours of me, mine of you, only of all the opinions we should strive to learn to recognize graft and the grafters, however respectable their disguise, and to punish them, not alone by imprisonment and fine, but with all the might of the terrible force of society. We have to recognize that the seeds of social revolution are being sown by the man of our own class and kind, who pretends to be what he is not; these seeds are cultivated by the grafting bank officer, insurance officer, man in power in financial organizations, in short, by every grafter who is also a stander of the public departments, openly or secretly, from old-fashioned ten commandment honesty.

"This indictment of our business life is not based upon an inherent, incurable defect in our American character, but, on the contrary, these evils are an outgrowth of our American character in the retrograde race for the easy dollar and the many dollars. In the hearts of the genuine men and women of our country there is an appreciation of the importance of character; the rank and file of the American people not only believe in, but also stand for, the highest and noblest of the virtues of the man of character."

ILLUMINATING GAS IS FATAL

R. C. Cleveland Found Dead in His Room Late Last Night.

R. C. Cleveland, for many years a resident of Omaha, committed suicide by turning on the gas at his home, 204 Burt street, at midnight Wednesday. Mr. Cleveland has not been in good health for several months and went to his room a little after 12 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was not seen alive. His housekeeper, the door and the family, thinking that he was sleeping, did not disturb him. A little before 12 o'clock, when Mrs. Cleveland went to the room, she noticed the odor of gas coming from the room, which was open. Trying the door she found it securely fastened, and, calling Mrs. A. B. Gilbert, who lives in the house with the Cleveland family, they succeeded in opening the door, only to find Mr. Cleveland lying on the bed, apparently lifeless. Dr. S. M. Holt was immediately called, but all efforts to revive him were fruitless.

Deceased has been living in Omaha for nearly twenty years and at one time was engaged in the wholesale feed business at Thirtieth and Nicholas streets. Later he was engaged in the drug business, and was engaged in this work up to a short time ago when his health failed him.

A son, about 12 years of age, and his wife is all the family that survive. His wife is now on a camping trip at Arlington Heights, near Chicago, and is at the First Methodist church some weeks ago.

Coroner Bralley was notified and at once took charge of the remains. It is likely that an inquest will not be held.

TWO MILLIONS FOR YALE

John D. Rockefeller Gives Million Dollars to General Endowment Fund.

LIKE SUM CONTRIBUTED BY ALUMNI

President Hadley Says these Gifts Must be Duplicated if the University Maintains its Standing.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 28.—President Hadley yesterday announced that a gift of $1,000,000 had been recently made by John D. Rockefeller. President Hadley also said that $2,000,000 in all have been given to the university within a comparatively recent time, the other million being subscribed by graduates in sums varying from $20,000 to $250,000. The names of the latter donors were not made public.

For General Endowment Fund.

President Hadley said that the only condition of this kind underlying Mr. Rockefeller's gift is that the money is to be invested in income producing securities and preserved inviolate as endowment for the institution, the annual income only to be used for current expenses. He added that these two millions already subscribed were to be considered merely the beginning of an endowment fund which must at least be doubled in the next year, if Yale is to maintain her position in the educational world.

The announcement of the gifts was received with loud applause.

Largest Single Gift.

The gift is the largest single donation ever made to the university. President Hadley presided as toastmaster of the dinner and the speakers were Henry W. Taft of New York City of the class of 1880, brother of Secretary Taft; former Judge Henry E. Howland of the class of 1864, a member of the board of trustees; Hon. W. Keator of Washington and Prof. Edwin Alderman of the University of Virginia.

Degrees were awarded to 600 candidates at Yale today in connection with the formal exercises which annually mark the closing day of the week's festivities in New Haven.

RED FLAG ON WARSHIP

Mutiny on Russian Battleship Kniaz Potemkin in Black Sea.

BODIES OF OFFICERS THROWN OVERBOARD

Guns Trained on Odessa in Support of Strikers.

NAVAL BATTLE IS EXPECTED TODAY

Four Battleships and Two Cruisers on Way From Sebastopol.

STRIKE NOW GENERAL IN THE CITY

Rioters Erect Baricades and are Hourly Growing in Boldness and Numbers—Many Fights During Day.

ODESSA, June 28.—The red flag of revolution is hoisted at the masthead of the Kniaz Potemkin, Russia's most powerful battleship in the Black sea, which now lies in the harbor in the hands of mutineers.

The captain and most of the officers were murdered and thrown overboard in the open sea and the ship is completely in control of the crew and a few officers who have thrown in their lot with the mutineers.

The guns of the boat are trained on the city and on the streets masses of striking workmen, who yesterday fled before the volleys of the troops, are now inflamed by the spectacle of open revolt on board an imperial warship and are making a bold front against the military.

All day long firing has been heard in many quarters of the city. A number of baricades have been erected and tumult and disorder reign.

Naval Battle Expected Today.

The main squadron of the Black sea fleet, consisting of battleships George Pobedonozets (George the Victorious), Tri Sviatitsa, Rostislav and Ekaterine II, with two cruisers are expected to arrive here tonight and a regular naval battle is in prospect.

The rioters are in a most defiant mood and are not inclined to surrender without fighting.

Reports of the mutiny, which occurred while the battleship was at sea, are difficult to obtain, as the mutineers refuse to allow communication with the shore; but it is ascertained that it arose over the shooting of a sailor who was presenting on behalf of the crew a complaint against the bad food. According to one version this sailor, whose name was Omilchuk, was objected to the quality of the "borsch" or soup and was immediately shot down by a mess officer. The crew then rose and seized the ship and the officers, eight of whom were spared on condition that they would join the mutineers. The other officers were killed and their bodies thrown overboard.

Body Brought Ashore.

After a period of vacillation the Kniaz Potemkin headed for Odessa and arrived here last night, accompanied by two torpedo boats. Early today the body of Omilchuk was brought ashore in one of the battleship's boats and was landed on the new mole, where it has been exposed in semi-state all day. It was visited by thousands of persons, many of whom placed coins in a basket at the head of the body toward the shore, a custom which is held to be a just complaint of the crew. The authorities have made no attempt to remove the body, the sailors having served notice that the ship would open fire on any one seeking to interfere with it. A police agent visiting this place was killed by a bullet.

During the day a red flag was hoisted on the Kniaz Potemkin and members of the crew rode by ship to ship in the harbor, forcing the stoppage of all work thereon. Food was supplied them by sympathizers on shore, who pillaged the maritime stores.

Strike is Now General.

The strike is now general in the city and the rioters are growing in numbers and boldness. There were exchanges of shots all day, but the number of victims cannot be stated. This evening a bomb was thrown into a crowd, killing its thrower and a policeman.

A telegram from the mayor of Odessa, who is in Moscow, imploring the citizens to restore order, has been posted throughout the city.

During the day one of the torpedo boats which accompanied the Kniaz Potemkin came into the harbor and seized the Russian steamer Esperanza. The steamer was laden with 2,000 tons of coal, which the other ships are taking on board.

The governor has telegraphed for a squadron to be sent from Sebastopol.

OFFICIALS IN STATE OF PANIC

Fear that Black Sea Region is on Eve of Great Revolt.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 28.—A Moscow wire in its possible effects than all the defeats in Manchuria or the destruction of Rojostevsky's fleet was the news which reached St. Petersburg early last evening, that the standard of open rebellion was floating on board one of the emperor's battleships in the harbor of Odessa and that with shotguns and revolvers the mutinous crew headed by eight officers was holding the ship against all comers. The authorities are in almost a state of panic, and the Admiralty consternation reigns. Admiral Wierens, chief of the general staff of the navy said to the Associated Press that the Admiralty had given orders regarding the mutiny but he was unable to give details. He frankly confessed that the situation was very grave and that he did not know what to expect.

The Black sea squadron, which left Sebastopol Tuesday, is expected to arrive at Odessa last night and battle with the mutineers may occur at any moment.

The Kniaz Potemkin is a more powerful ship than any in Kruger's squadron and the gravity of the situation is increased by the fact that the city is practically in the possession of the strikers, who according to dispatches had already been encouraged to open resistance by the mutiny of the sailors and were erecting baricades and fighting the police and the troops in the streets.

The body of Omilchuk, lying exposed on the quay in view of thousands and the story of his cruel death evidently fired the imaginations of the workmen.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 28.—

Although nominally celebrating with his class-mates the twenty-fifth anniversary of the class of '80, from Harvard university, President Roosevelt was today the honored guest of America's most ancient seat of learning, where degrees of honor were conferred upon him as he already holds the highest degree the university is empowered to bestow, but the welcome accorded him by Cambridge citizens, alumni and college officials was most cordial.

The president entered heartily into the spirit of commencement day and played a leading part in all the functions incident to the occasion. It was scarcely 9 o'clock this morning when the lieutenant governor representing the commonwealth, called at the home of Bishop Weymouth, where the president spent the night, to escort him to the Harvard yard, where the academic procession was to form for the march to Saunders' theater, the scene of the commencement exercises. The number receiving degrees from Harvard today aggregated 29, and included seven honorary degrees.

Makes Three Speeches.

Following the commencement exercises the president made three public addresses, one at the Harvard union, a second and the principal one of the tour, at the alumni dinner in Memorial hall, and a third from the steps of Memorial hall to the members of the alumni who could not gain admittance to the Memorial hall exercises.

The speech in Memorial hall, which was a general discussion of the mission of the college, evoked the greatest enthusiasm.

Besides the more pertinent events today, the president visited the Panama canal, and also to give attention to certain cipher messages which had been received from Washington. It was arranged that the president should go to his car before midnight, although the train would not leave until 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. The train goes to Burlington, where the party will board the yacht Sylph for Oyster Bay.

Address by the President.

At the alumni exercises President Roosevelt was the principal speaker. He said:

A great university like this has two special functions. The first is to produce a small number of scholars of the highest rank, a small number of men who in their lives will be distinguished by their productive work of the first class. The second is to contribute to the growth of a very large number of men who never could achieve, and who ought not to try to achieve, such a position in the field of scholarship, but whose energies are to be put to use in the world of business, where they should go out from our doors with the balanced development of body, of mind, and of character, and with the ability to do work both honorable and efficient.

Much of the effort to accomplish the first function, that of developing men capable of the highest scholarship, is to be distinguished from merely imitative, annotative, or pedagogic scholarship, must come through the liberal studies, where the school and medical school do admirable work in fitting men for special professions, but in no degree of any special shortcoming in the graduate school any more than does the college of the undergraduates. The ideal for the graduate school and for those undergraduates who are to be distinguished by their scholarship, is the ideal of high scholarly production, which is to be distinguished by the student from the mere transmission of ready-made knowledge without adding to it. If America is to contribute to the progress not alone of knowledge, but of wisdom, then we must put ever increasing emphasis on the work done along the lines of the graduate school. We must have the best of American scholarship by seeing that as a career it is put more on a level with the other careers open to our young men.

Make It Remunerative.

The scholarly career, the career of the man of letters, the man of arts, the man of science, must be made such as to attract those strong, vigorous, and able men who feel that they can only turn to business, law or politics. There is no more important thing which will bring about this desired change, but there is one thing which will materially aid in bringing about this desired change, and that is to secure the chance of getting one of the very brilliant positions as prize money, or as a reward for exceptional achievement. Every such brilliant position should have an accompanying stipend, which will help indicate how high the position really is, and it must be the effort of the government to care for the secure salaries for such positions.

As a people I think we are looking up to the fact that there must be better pay for the average man and average woman engaged in the field of education than that of the average educator, I am speaking of the desirability of giving to the exceptional man just as he has the chance to go in law and business. In business at least, nothing could be more healthy than an immense reduction in the money value of the exceptional scholar, and a corresponding increase in scholarship which is needed in the reverse. In this country we rightly go upon the theory that it is more important to care for the welfare of the average man than to pay a premium upon the exertions of the exceptional. It is more important to care for the establishment of such a premium for the exceptional, though of very great importance, is nevertheless of very great importance. It is important even to the development of the average man, for the average of us is raised by the work of the great men.

Compensation Not Everything.

It is not, of course, unnecessary to say that I appreciate to the full the fact that the highest work of all will never be affected one way or the other by any question of compensation. And much of the work which is really best for the nation must be done in the line of things which are non-remunerative as compared with the work of the average man. It is not possible or desirable that the rewards of transcendent success should be made so great as to tempt men from a monetary standpoint, the rewards in other vocations. But it is also true that the effect upon ambitious minds cannot be bad if, as a people, we

LAYS THE BLAME ON BRITAIN

St. Petersburg Newspaper Sees the Hand of London Government in Moroccan Affair.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 28.—At Great Britain's door the Novoye Vremya lays much of the responsibility for another German crisis, saying it is pursuing its traditional policy of encouraging a conflict between its competitors in order to profit therefrom.

"Great Britain," the paper adds, "pushed France into the Moroccan adventure, sustaining M. Delecluse, the foreign minister, in his resistance to Germany's claims. For decades Great Britain's hostility has been directed against Russia, at last succeeding in having another country accomplish a task from which it itself shrunk. With Russia no longer dangerous for the present, all Great Britain's machinations were set in motion against Germany, now its chief competitor in Europe."

The Novoye Vremya thinks it quite conceivable that in case of a conflict Great Britain would aid France to the extent of destroying the German fleet, and that with both France and Germany weakened its policy would be assured for another half century. The Novoye Vremya, however, believes that, with Premier Rouvier in charge of the negotiations for France, Great Britain's plans will be defeated and the Moroccan affair will be satisfactorily adjusted.

The Associated Press learns that France is consulting its ally in the negotiations with Germany. Premier Rouvier's note was submitted to Russia before it was transmitted to the Berlin government. Foreign Minister Lamedoff was apprised of every step taken. The statement that France had already called upon Russia to mass troops on its western frontier, however, is denied. Russia is believed to be advising its ally to meet Germany half way.

PARIS, June 28.—The Franco-German complications have been so far overcome that a complete agreement is considered only a matter of time. The improvement in the situation was further manifested in official and diplomatic quarters today and the Bourse again showed a marked advance. Rents and a general firmness throughout.

EMPOURIUM, Pa., June 28.—Nine men were killed and twelve to fifteen others were injured by an explosion of ton of dynamite today at the plant of the Emporium Powder company, three miles west of this place. The dead men were all employed at the works. Several buildings were wrecked. Although some of the injured were seriously hurt, all are expected to recover.

PATRICK STABLE DESTROYED

Ten Thousand Building is Wiped Out by Fire—Horses and Vehicles Are Saved.

The costly stable at the Patrick home, known as "Happy Hollow," half a mile west of Dundee, was completely destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon.

The stable was erected at a cost of $20,000 and was fully covered by insurance.

Three valuable horses and several fine carriages were taken from the burning building without injury or damage. The fire was caused by the cook, John Murtath, at 1 o'clock, in the cupola of the stable. The heat soon was so intense that it was impossible then to make any efforts to learn the origin of the fire, and in a short while the whole structure was a mass of ruins. No one at the Patrick home could give any idea as to the origin of the fire.

A telephone message from the Patrick home conveyed the news of the fire to Dundee and Omaha. Several fire companies responded, but the distance of Happy Hollow from the nearest water hydrant rendered the apparatus practically useless. The Patrick residence was at no time in danger, the house being some 100 feet from the burning stable. A little or no wind at the time of the fire. The burned stable was 60x90 and of generous height. It was considered one of the best maintained stables in or near Omaha.

PRATT WANTS CLOSER UNION

Organizer of Street Railway Men Pleads for Better and Permanent Organizations.

O. C. Pratt of Cleveland, national organizer of the street railway associations, addressed the members of the local union yesterday afternoon at evening. The great plea of his address was for a better and more permanent organization among the men in general. His argument was based on the work that already had been accomplished.

"Since the great organization in 1892 wages in all cities have been increased from 50 to 100 per cent; from 10, 12 and 14 cents to 20 and 25," he said. "Butte having the highest wage, that of 35 cents to start, with a rise to 37. Twenty-five cities have a nine hour work day, fifty-eight have ten hours, and twenty-five have eleven hours. There is no antipathy against honest labor. Hard feeling exists only toward the professional strike breakers."

Speaking of his visit to Colorado Springs and Colorado conditions, he claims a great and favorable reaction has begun in favor of organized labor. People have begun to realize they must look after the interests of their own working people. He says the statement that the unions keep a needy man from work is entirely false.

OHIO DEMOCRATS NOMINATE

John M. Pattison Named for Governor—Mention of Bryan's Name Causes a Demonstration.

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—After a continuous session lasting several hours, with several striking features, the Ohio democratic convention today named the following state ticket to be voted on at the state election in November:

Governor—John M. Pattison of Clermont county.

Lieutenant Governor—Louis B. Houck of Knox county.

Supreme Judge—Hugh T. Mathers of Stark county.

Attorney General—James A. Rice of Stark county.

State Treasurer—Charles F. Mason of Butler county.

After the temporary officers were elected and the permanent officers of the committee, Chairman Daugherty sprang a sensation by reading a communication from National Committeeman McLean, who wrote from Washington offering his resignation, which was at once accepted.

In the way of demonstrations, the greatest came at the close of Chairman Daugherty's speech when an impromptu tribute to W. J. Bryan as the party leader in the nation brought out a storm of cheers that lasted fully a minute and it was repeated later in the convention when others referred to his former candidacy.

The democracy of Ohio in convention assembled announced the following declaration of principles:

We vote with satisfaction the determination of the national administration to purchase supplies for the Panama canal in the market of the world and not to favor the protected monopolies. We trust that the day may come when we may enjoy the same privilege and not be compelled to pay the manufacturers for the necessities of life at higher prices than these same articles are sold for by the same manufacturers to foreign nations. We demand of our representatives in congress to aid in the enactment of such laws as will prevent rebates and secret contracts by railroads and will guarantee the same service to every citizen.

We favor the construction of the Interstate Commerce commission the power which will fix a rate unreasonable and a reasonable rate.

We favor the election of United States senators by the people.

We favor the initiative and referendum, especially with reference to the granting of public franchises.

Missouri Supreme Court Denies Writ of Prohibition Aided by Pool Sellers.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 28.—The supreme court en banc today denied a writ of prohibition against Judge McElhinney of the St. Louis county circuit court to prohibit him from starting the case of persons arrested at Delmar race track on charges of violation of the anti-betting law.

The petition for the writ was presented by counsel representing the Central Trust association of St. Louis and alleged the unconstitutionality of the law. The court took the application under consideration for a short time and then denied it.

NEW SIX-STORY WAREHOUSE

Count Creighton Has Plans Drawn for One for Immediate Construction.

J. A. Creighton will erect a $50,000 warehouse on the south side of Jones street between Tenth and Eleventh, just west of the Burt-Saitley company's building. Plans are now being drawn by Charles Cleves, and bids will be asked for when they are finished. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by December 1.

The structure is to be six stories in height. The first story will be 12 feet high and the upper stories 10 feet high. It will be of mill construction, very substantial and suitable for any wholesale business. The design is plain, but well proportioned, the Renaissance style of architecture being followed.

A deal is about to be consummated for the lease of the building, but Mr. Creighton is not ready to give the name of the man with whom he is negotiating. Other firms are said to be looking for a lease of the property.

ARGUMENT IN MITCHELL CASE

District Attorney Hensley Merely Arranges Aged Defendant for Subornation of Perjury.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 28.—The case of United States Senator Mitchell will not go to the jury before tomorrow night at the earliest and probably not until some time Friday. Today was consumed by District Attorney Hensley in finishing his argument for the prosecution, and when he completed it court adjourned until tomorrow. Judge Bennett will commence to speak in behalf of Senator Mitchell tomorrow morning and will be followed by ex-Senator Thurston. Mr. Hensley will then make his final argument. If time remains Judge De Haven will give his charge tomorrow. This, however, seems unlikely, unless the lawyers for the defense consume much less time than it is believed they will.

Mr. Hensley in his argument to the jury traced the transactions of the firm in relation to land matters from the time the senator asked for a copy of the firm's books covering the period from November, 1901, until June, 1902. His arraignment of the defendant, who he said had been the son, and whom he charged with an attempt to suborn his private secretary, Harry Robertson, to testify in accordance with the false defense outlined, was meretricious and caused the face of the defendant to flame and pale with passion.

FAILURE GROWING GREATER

Three Million Dollars Said to Be Owing by Knight, Donnelly & Co.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The failure of the grain and stock brokerage firm of Knight, Donnelly & Co., which occurred several days ago, has assumed gigantic proportions. Although Receiver Potter has not yet finished examination of the books of the firm, enough was learned today to approximate the extent of the loss. It is not far from $3,000,000. The assets may amount to $2,500,000, although these may dwindle considerably owing to the character of many of the loans made by the firm.

Railroad Mortgage Renewed.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 28.—A renewal of a $5,000,000 mortgage has been filed in the district court here by the Western Pacific Railroad company. The document is executed in favor of the Bowling Green Trust company of New York, who also held the original mortgage, and covers all rolling stock and real estate owned by the company. The renewal was made necessary by certain objectionable features contained in the old mortgage.

NEW SIX-STORY WAREHOUSE

Count Creighton Has Plans Drawn for One for Immediate Construction.

J. A. Creighton will erect a $50,000 warehouse on the south side of Jones street between Tenth and Eleventh, just west of the Burt-Saitley company's building. Plans are now being drawn by Charles Cleves, and bids will be asked for when they are finished. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by December 1.

The structure is to be six stories in height. The first story will be 12 feet high and the upper stories 10 feet high. It will be of mill construction, very substantial and suitable for any wholesale business. The design is plain, but well proportioned, the Renaissance style of architecture being followed.

A deal is about to be consummated for the lease of the building, but Mr. Creighton is not ready to give the name of the man with whom he is negotiating. Other firms are said to be looking for a lease of the property.

ARGUMENT IN MITCHELL CASE

District Attorney Hensley Merely Arranges Aged Defendant for Subornation of Perjury.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 28.—The case of United States Senator Mitchell will not go to the jury before tomorrow night at the earliest and probably not until some time Friday. Today was consumed by District Attorney Hensley in finishing his argument for the prosecution, and when he completed it court adjourned until tomorrow. Judge Bennett will commence to speak in behalf of Senator Mitchell tomorrow morning and will be followed by ex-Senator Thurston. Mr. Hensley will then make his final argument. If time remains Judge De Haven will give his charge tomorrow. This, however, seems unlikely, unless the lawyers for the defense consume much less time than it is believed they will.

Mr. Hensley in his argument to the jury traced the transactions of the firm in relation to land matters from the time the senator asked for a copy of the firm's books covering the period from November, 1901, until June, 1902. His arraignment of the defendant, who he said had been the son, and whom he charged with an attempt to suborn his private secretary, Harry Robertson, to testify in accordance with the false defense outlined, was meretricious and caused the face of the defendant to flame and pale with passion.
