A very board and admir-able charter was secured from congress and signed by President Roosevelt on January 2, 1908. A gift of $1,000,000 from Mr. John D. Rockefeller was immediately passed over to the board, especially designated for educational work in the south. Other funds have ben added by other philanthropists since that time and the board has confined its work hitherto mainly to educational work in the southern states. The present gift differs from Mr. Rockefeller's first gift to the board in the following particu-lars: in the Big Horn valley west of the Big HOP GROWERS ARE TO COMBINE FATHER IS DENIED CHILDREN MILLIONS FOR EDUCATION Horn river. The pres-ent gift is for use not only for southern states but throughout the United States, without distinction of section. The first gift could be used for common schools and secondary education. The sec-ond gife is confined to higher education and is designed specially for colleges as distinguished from the great universities, although there is no prohibition in the letter of gift against making contributions to universities, for both gifts are alike available for denominational schools as well as for those which are nonsectarian. While the funds may be employed for de-nominational schools, they will be em-ployed without sectarian distinctions. No special denomination will be particularly favored, but the funds will be open to ap-proved schools of all denominations, al-though they cannot be employed for giving enecifically the theological instruction. proved they cannot be employed for giving specifically the theological instruction. In distributing the funds the board will aim especially to favor those institutions which are well located and which have a local constituency sufficiently strong and able to insure permanence and power. No attempt will be made to rescusicate mort-bund schools or to assist institutions which are so located that they cannot promise to be permanently useful. Within these limits there are no re-strictions as to the use of the income. assembled in the ambassador's room and thence were ushered into the throne room, where the king welcomed the Americans. Among the others present were Ambassador Reid and Major J. H. Beacom, the American military attache. The Americans wore their side arms.

The king expressed his pleasure at seeing the Americans and congratulated them on their appearance. He said he was glad to hear they had found the British regiments hospitable, as he knew the Americans to be in the case of a visit from British marksmen. The king shook hands with each of the visitors on their departure. Most of the reviews, naval and military, in honor of the king's birthday had to be postponed on account of rain. The usual salutes were fired at the garrison towns and at the ports. The warships were dressed.
