

Sanitary Schools. The question of cleanliness in our school houses is constantly enforced to the attention of every parent. It is one of prime importance to every home where children are found. The germs of scarlet fever and diphtheria are especially prolific where deposits of foreign matter are allowed to accumulate on floors, walls or woodwork and the epidemic of scarlet fever in some of our schools the past season shows the danger that exists. School houses as well as homes should be cleaned with an article that is a perfect germicide as well as a perfect cleanser.

The following letter tells of experience in the Pittsburg, Pa., schools: The Gibson Soap Company, Omaha, Neb. Gentlemen: When I took hold of the Franklin School at Pittsburg I ordered a barrel of Gibson's Soap Polish. In cleaning the window frames we first tried soap and water but we could not get any results and I used Gibson's Soap Polish on all the woodwork in and outside and the directors and all connected with the school said it had never looked so clean before. I will always use it as long as I follow this kind of work, as in my opinion it has no equal.

Gibson's Soap Polish does all you claim for it and does it well and when I use my present stock will order another barrel. Respectfully, GEORGE EYRICH. Gibson's Soap Polish is an antiseptic chemical cleanser without grease or resin of soap and therefore does not leave a sticky coating to catch the dust and breed disease germs. For home use it is put up in one-pound cans with perforated cover. Telephone to Gibson, No. 1520, and he will tell you all about it.
