FUNERAL OF SECRETARY HAY

needs Austria and Austria needs it. Big Body of Distinguished Statesman Will Be Buried in Cleveland, O.

FUNERAL SERVICES WEDNESDAY MORNING

President Roosevelt Will Attend and Members of the Cabinet Will Act as Pall. bearers.

NEWBURY, N. H., July 1 .- The body of Secretary of State John Hay, whose uncaused sorrow throughout the land and evoked expressions of sympathy and regret the world over, lies tonight in a room of "The Fells," the quaint gamberel-roofed mansion which for fourteen years had been the summer home of the Hay family. Just one week ago Secretary Hay arrived at this village from Washington, wearled with the cares of state and anticipating a "long summer rest." Tonight the same launch in which Mr. Hay made the short trip from Newbury to the landing at "The Fells," conveyed relatives of Mrs. Hay to the cottage where they brought sympathy and help to the stricken woman and her only son. In that week came first the news that the secretary had been seized with a sudden and alarming attack calling for expert medical treatment, then that he had passed through the early stages of recovery and had reached a condition promising in every respect ultimate recovery. Then the crushing blow fell. At "The Fells" there is deep grief, where there was welcome; at Newbury there is silence and sorrow where there was pride that the distinguished summer resident had again come among the plain townspeople, and throughout the nation there is sadness and regret at the loss of one of its greatest statesmen

It was the middle of the forenoon before there was any evidence at "The Fells" that the prostration caused by the sudden and terrible experience was abating It was then that Clarence Hay and the attending physician issued a statement reviewing the last illness and giving the circumstances attending the death.

The only members of the secretary's family at "The Fells" when the end came were Mrs. Hay and Clarence. Mrs. James cars were added and other members of ney streets and some fine residences and A. Wadsworth of Geneseo, N. Y., a daughter, has been III recently and had not been at Lake Sunaper this season, Mrs. Payne Eldredge for a $6,000 frame dwelling at Whitney, another daughter, is on her way to Europe

Official Statement of Case Dr. Scudder today gave out the followng official statement:

Mr. Hay's recent illness was occasioned by acute retention of urine caused by enlargement of the prostate gland. This retention was relieved. No operation was performed. In view of Mr. Hay's previous general condition he was most carefully watched lest any complication should arise. It was determined that his heart and kidneys were doing their normal work. He responded with the local conditions. Everything was progressing satisfactorily. Friday was the most comfortable day he had during his filness. At 10 o'clock in the evening he was examined by the attending physicians and his condition was found to be good. He said he felt as if he would have a comfortable night. At 11 o'clock Mr. Hay was sieeping quietly and naturally. The nurse lay down on a couch near the bed. At about a quarter past 12 Mr. Hay called the nurse because he was having difficulty in breathing. She summoned the doctor, but their efforts were of no avail. Mrs. Hay was called and reached the bedgide before Mr. Hay died. Death was due to pulmonary embolism. Mr. Hay's recent illness was occasioned statesman and diplomat, whose official ac tivities brought him conspicuously before public for many years, the news of the death of Secretary Hay at his summer home on Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire, was received here with evidences of the Bonaparte of Maryland was sworn in as most profound regret. Although aware of the delicate condition of Mr. Hay's health there was a general expectation that he would again rally and that a long stay in the New Hampshire mountains would in a measure restore his health. The latest reports received here yesterday from Mra Hay and from other sources were of a reassuring nature, and for this reason the announcement of his death came as a sudden and painful surprise to Washington Mr. Hay never was of robust constitution. but by scrupulous care he was able to keep in fairly good health. Every summer he sought partial relief from official duties by spending several months at his New Hampshire home, "The Fells," on the shore of Lake Sunapee.

Regret at Washington. WASHINGTON, July 1.-Notable as

While Mr. Hay's official duties were congenial to him, yet because of his somewhat mpaired physical condition, he was reluctant to remain in the cabinet, and did so only at the urgent solicitation of President Roosevelt. Record in Office.

An unusually large number of questions affecting the foreign policies of this government characterized Secretary Hay's tenure of the State department. Among them were the complications arising out of the Boxer troubles in China, the release of Miss Stone, the missionary, from her captors in Turkey; the Moroccan affair, when the secretary issued his famous ultimatum "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead;" the asphalt controversy in Venezuela, the Santo Domingo affair, the secession of Panama

The flag on the State department has been half-masted and later in the day a proclamation announcing Mr. Hay's death will be issued from the State department. Though fond of society, Mr. Hay of recent years, and especially since the tragic death of his son, Adelbert, at New Haven Conn., some years ago, had participated but little in social affairs, except where the demands of his official position required it. Mr. Hay is survived by a widow, who was the daughter of a wealthy Ohloan; two married daughters, Mrs. Payne Whitney and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, jr.,
