FORTY-NINE ARE INDICTED

Grand Jury Makes Its Report on Chicago Labor Situation.

CHARGES AGAINST UNION LEADERS

President of Illinois Brick Company and Teamsters' Officials Accused of Conspiracy—Graft in Settling Strikes.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The Cook county grand jury, which for a month has been investigating the causes and conditions of the present teamsters' strike, returned its report tonight and with it forty-nine indictments against men connected in various ways with the recent labor troubles in Chicago. The following are the men indicted:

George C. Prussing, president of the Illinois Brick company.

John Gray, general purchasing and distributing agent of the Illinois Brick company.

tributing agent of the Illinois Brick company, Charles Hank, president of the Brick, Stone and Terracotta Workers' union.

F. J. Mahon, president of the Teamsters' union.

These four indictments are based on charges of conspiracy to injure the business of independent brick concerns whose interests lay in directions opposite to that of the Illinois Brick company, which is the so-called "brick trust."

A number of officers of independent brick companies testified that $3,000 had been paid to Gray for expenses in connection with calling strikes against their plants.

The following were indicted for conspiracy to injure the business of Montgomery Ward & Co.:

Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, two counts.

Jeremiah McCarthy, business agent of the Truck Drivers' union.

John Smythe, president of the Coal Teamsters' union.

George F. Golden, business agent of the Packing House Teamsters' union.

M. F. Kelly, ex-business agent of the Market and Grocery Teamsters' union.

W. J. Kelly, secretary of the Coal Teamsters' union.

James B. Barry, business agent of the Express Wagon Drivers' union.

Harvey Lapp, president of the Baggage and Parcel Delivery Drivers' union.

Stephen Sumner, business agent of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union.

Joseph W. Young, business agent of the Baggage and Parcel Delivery Drivers' union.

W. J. Gibbons, president of the Teamsters' joint council.

Albert Young, ex-president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

In addition to the indictments against the above true bills charging intent to commit bodily injury and assault to kill were returned against thirty-two members of the Teamsters' union and sympathizers with that organization who have at different times participated in the rioting incident to the teamsters' strike.

Labor Conditions in Chicago.

In addition to returning the indictments the jury submitted a long and scathing report dealing with the labor conditions in Chicago.

Following are a few extracts from the report:

That the city of Chicago for years past has been infested with moral lepers, who have preyed upon its financial and social strength, is known to most informed citizens. That reputable business men and respectable citizens, employed in all fields of labor, have been subjected to blackmail and the greed of these vampires is also a well known fact.

We beg to inform the court that we have positive evidence that an "understanding" existed between one John C. Driscoll, now recently known as "the mediator" between capital and labor, and one Albert Young, the first president of the Coal Teamsters' union, organized about 1902.

That Albert Young was a beneficiary in the settling of these many strikes is evidenced by the fact that for the six months ending May 20, 1903, Driscoll paid to Young $120, and this money in labor letters benefited in proportion by reason of Driscoll's munificence, is also evidenced by the fact that the following men received from him the following sums:

Hugh McGee, president of the Truck Drivers' union, $50; James Baines, president of the Elevator Conductors' union, $50; J. B. Barry, business agent of the Express Drivers' union, $50. A list of more than a dozen others is given, all of whom received amounts ranging from $100 down to $25.

The report then turns to Cornelius P. Shea and says:

That Cornelius P. Shea in one week's time forwarded $1,000 in three respective amounts has been established by the party who sent this money to Shea's wife, then living in Boston. That by this act Shea's conservatism and thrift is shown to be exceptional, when it is known that his only source of income is derived from his office as president of the Teamsters' union, which pays him $10 a month in salary, and in the event of a strike $2.50 a day for his individual expenses.

That not alone Shea, but the other leaders indicted have lived on the fat of the land, spending more money in dissipation than many an honest member of the labor union is able to earn for the support of his wife and family, has been established beyond question.

Coming down to the teamsters' strike in Chicago, the grand jury report is as follows:

We believe the present teamsters' strike to have been born in iniquity and that though many honest laborers in disaffection to believe a so-called sympathetic strike was advisable and just, we feel satisfied from evidence presented to us that a very few of the principals at the head of the Teamsters' union were and are responsible for its inception and continuance, that their pockets might jingle with unholy gain.

Condition of E. W. Naah.

No important change in the condition of E. W. Naah was reported last night. He was, however, somewhat more rational than he has been for several weeks, and for this reason the family is hopeful.

PROGRESSIVE HOME MAKERS

Notable Record of Prosperity Shown by the Omaha Loan and Building Association.

The semi-annual report of the Omaha Loan and Building association just completed presents flattering evidence of prosperity among the home makers of Omaha and South Omaha. During the six months period the association's business increased $121,000, bringing the total assets up to $245,000. Earnings amounted to $2,100, out of which a semi-annual dividend at the rate of 6 per cent per annum was declared. The net surplus for the half year is $3,500, which swells the fund for contingent losses to $25,000.

A feature of the report showing the prosperity of the people hereabouts is the notable increase in the item of loans repaid. The total is $99,849, against $77,360 for the last half of 1904. Supplementing this favorable showing is a decrease in withdrawals and an increase in savings deposits, resulting in a sharp increase in the cash balance. Receipts for six months amounted to $302,567.

For the third time in its business life the Omaha association reduces the interest rate for loans. The present reduction is from 39 to 35 cents per month on each $100, bringing the rate under 8 per cent. Besides this, borrowers are given the right to have each $100 paid in on pledged shares credited directly to their loans, reducing the principal to that amount. These changes are substantial gains for home getters justified by the steady growth of the association, and are calculated to greatly stimulate home building in the twin cities.

Carter Cut in Arm.

Jack Carter, a blacksmith, went to the White Elephant saloon, North Sixth street last night and before he came away he received a cut on the left arm from a knife in the hands of an unidentified man. The two had been drinking together and when they both started out the door Carter's assailant drew a knife and began slashing promiscuously. A slight flesh wound was the extent of the injuries. The stranger has not been located.

EVENING WITH J. P. O'BRIEN

New Establishment on Farnam Street Is Opened With Aid of Many Guests.

The new cafe of J. P. O'Brien at 113 Farnam street was dedicated last night with considerable eclat. The grill room on the first floor, which has been open for some time, took on more than the usual aspect of vivacity, while the men and women's dining rooms on the second floor were the scenes of many paltry parties. Orchestra music, the strains of which could be enjoyed in all parts of the building, was rendered here throughout the evening. On the third floor, where the banquet hall and private dining quarters are located, a special party, consisting of heads of the various departments of the Storz Brewing company and a few newspaper men as invited guests, partook of a banquet.

The first of this party was: George W. Tierney, city salesman for Storz; John Buck, master brewer; M. Frotz, traveling salesman; F. Austerlitz, traveling salesman; W. E. Weymiller, bookkeeper; C. F. Weymiller, secretary and treasurer; W. P. Weber, bookkeeper; E. A. Higgins, advertising manager; J. E. Darragh, manager bottling department; Richard Egan, chief engineer; Henry Voss, architect of the new cafe; J. D. Weaver and J. E. Wootan, The Bee; Hal Pink and George Gillespie, The News; Max Goldsmith, World-Herald; and Mogy Bernstein, probate officer of the juvenile court. Mr. Tierney's presence of course had a natural restraining influence. Mr. Tierney acted as toastmaster.

Cook Dies Suddenly.

Charles W. Kearns of 1623 Jackson street, a cook who has lived in Omaha for several years, died suddenly at his home Friday night about 11:30 o'clock. Mr. Kearns had been in poor health for a number of weeks, but recently had been feeling as well as usual. He came home about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and remained until after supper time, when he went out and was not seen until about 9 o'clock, when he was brought home by some friends in a dying condition. He was walking along Harvey street in front of the Board Dealer when he was stricken. Heart trouble, brought on by a chronic stomach trouble, is thought to have been the cause of his death. The funeral will be held from

ARRANGE FOR PURE FOOD SHOW

Officers of Circuit Organization Open Headquarters in Omaha for August Exhibition.

Messrs. E. Mark, president, and J. W. Dean, secretary-treasurer, of the Merchants Pure Food Show circuit, have arrived in Omaha and are located in room 322 New York life building. They are here to arrange the preliminaries for the pure food show and industrial exposition to be given in the Auditorium August 10 to 24. They promise that this show will be worthy the reputation Omaha has attained as the scene of large affairs in the commercial line. Besides the exhibits to be placed by merchants and manufacturers, the managers have arranged for vocal and instrumental music of a high order to be rendered daily during the continuance of the exhibition.

Starts Fourth Early.

The first of the usual series of Fourth of July accidents was reported last night at 1000 Francis, a young man residing at 1013 South Thirteenth street, in company with a crowd of other young men, attempted to light a small can of powder in a vacant lot at Thirteenth and Center streets. While

NOVELTY THEATER REOPENS

Douglas Street Vaudeville House Resumes Giving Four Performances a Day.

The Novelty theater reopened its doors yesterday afternoon after its month's inaction, being greeted by three large audiences. The bill this week is of extraordinary merit considering that a recent admission prevails for every seat in the house. The head-line, Miss Nelly Clayton, known as the "South African Zanzibar," proved the most attractive feature on the bill, possessing a voice of great strength and sweetness and a charming personality. Miss Jenny Clayton and her illustrated songs also proved a meritorious number, as did Bates and Ernest, the German comedians. Madge La Verne is a charming little comedienne, singing several songs in a capable manner, while Tim Marlin, the black-face comedian, kept his audience in a roar of laughter. The motion pictures closed the bill. There will be four performances every day, including a matinee.
