City, where they were hastily filed with the secretary of state. Yesterday a control STARTS FOR ODESSA peka bankers interested in Mr. Devlin's affairs was held at Kansas City. The conference lasted several hours and at its close late last night it was announced that the question of raising a large sum of money needed by the holding company to keep the Deviln properties going was dis-

The following named banks were represented at the conference: The Corn Exchange bank of Chicago, the Continental bank of Chicago, the Central Trust company of Chicago, the American National bank of Kansas City, the City National bank of Kansas City, the Central National bank of Topeka and the First National bank of Topeka.

Mr. Devlin's wealth is largely in coal mining properties in southern Kansas in the vicinity of Marceline, Mo., and in Illinois. These properties include the following: Mount Carmel coal mines, Toluca coal Devlin Coal company, the Devlin-Miller Coal company, the Crawford County Mining the Wiley Coal company and the Marceline Coal company.

Creditors Will Advance Funds. All the money needed to make it possible to turn over Devlin's properties to the corporation formed here last Saturday to handle the estate will be raised by a creditors' committee, formed here today, according to a statement given out tonight by attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Devlin. The Gleed, president of the Missouri and Kansas Telephone company, who is to be president of the corporation formed to operate the Devlin properties.

The committee was agreed upon by Devlin's chief creditors. The formation of this committee, it said, removes all obstacles in the way of the successful carrying out of the intent of the Devlin corporations. The Journal tomorrow will say:

A Kansas City bank tonight received an inquiry from Baltimore indicating that Devlin owes $710,000 to a trust company of that city.

It is known that Devlin and his corporations owe the First National of Topeka $1,100,000; also owe other banks in Topeka something like $500,000. They also owe Kansas City banks nearly $1,000,000; St. Louis, $350,000; Chicago about the same

With one rush the mighty flood burst its bonds. foundations of solid masonry were undermined and many buildings fell with crash. Their inmates in many cases were crushed beneath the falling masonry.

Many Drowned on Plaza. From the center of the city the flood rolled to both sides of the town and the mountains, many being caught and swept away. At the time when the storm seemed likely to abate and before its great intensity was felt there was a crowd of merrymakers in the riaza. Gaming operators had scarcely time to set up their tables and place their money thereon when the flood rushed down from the hills, sweeping away booths, money and tables. Many people were then and there drowned. Each man fought his way out of the flood, trampling down whoever came in his way, and thus many women and children perished. >
> M. Dailey, arraigned Monday morning before Police Judge Berka on a charge of assault and battery, was sentenced to fifty days in the county jail. Dailey was arrested by Feputy Labor Commissioner Bert Bush, who happened along when three men were pummeling James Cahill, who was haddy bruised on the head and body. The other alleged assailants escaped. It is said Cahill was kicked three times on the head. The police surgicions dressed the injured man's wounds. The trouble is said to have started over the refusal of one of the four men involved to give another money for beer.
