

INDEPENDENTS WILL TALK

Not afraid of incriminating themselves in the Werrall case.

INSIST THEY ARE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST

Say They Do Not Get a Square Deal in Matter of Cars and Find the Competition of the Regulars to Be of Fiercest Kind.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, July 8.—(Special.)—Representatives of farmers' grain shipping associations had the floor today in the taking of depositions at Havelock, in a lawsuit of the Werrall grain company against certain members of the State Association of Grain Dealers.

The first witness of the morning was Henry Hempel, who is the representative of the Farmers' Co-operative Shipping Association at Havelock. He testified that the association has only a wagon dump and a scoophouse on a switch of the Burlington railway; that it was organized a year ago last January and that it has handled about fifty cars of grain a year for its thirty-five or forty members.

He said that when the association first started to ship grain it applied to the Rock Island for cars, but could get no satisfaction and so assurance as to whether or not that company would furnish them. Then it began hauling its grain to the Burlington across the Rock Island and three or four miles away. Thereupon the company after a great deal of negotiation with its division freight officials at Lincoln agreed to furnish cars.

Witness testified that he had encountered difficulty in getting cars and mentioned specific instances. In one case he was promised a car in the morning, and about twenty-five loads of grain were on hand; the farmers waited all day in the cold, swearing and impatient, until about 5 o'clock before they got the car.

SCROFULA FROM PARENT TO CHILD

The laws of heredity are invariable and the diseased blood of parents is handed down to children in the form of Scrofula. Being thus deeply rooted nothing can reach the disease but a constitutional remedy.

Cleveland, O., 122 Brownell St. I inherited Scrofula from my ancestry, and this means, of course, weak, impure blood and a run-down, debilitated condition of the system.

S. S. S., the king of blood purifiers, is the medicine that is required, because it changes the quality of the blood by cleansing it of all poisons and impurities, building it up and strengthening the entire system.

cross in the general market. The other elevator men received cars as they were needed and he got the worst of it.

"Well, when there was an odd car or two they would get the benefit of it. For instance, if I would have two cars ordered, they would order two cars, and there would be five set in, say, and they would get two pieces and I would get one. That happened in several instances."

Difference to Farmer.

Witness said he had been selling corn as a farmer for five years and had sold 7,000 of 1,000 bushels. During the last year the existence of the shipping association at Prairie Home had increased his profits on his grain about $100, and if he had had the same advantage on all he had shipped during the five years it would have increased his profit about $500.

Attorney F. M. Hall cross-examined this witness to disclose that he was not an expert on figuring expenses of the regular dealers, including taxes, insurance, interest, depreciation, etc., and that he did not know the cost of the regular dealers' elevators, machinery, etc. Witness confessed that he only knew from estimates. The Evans elevator there had a capacity of from 1,000 to 2,000 bushels, and was operated by horse power, with one regular employe and an occasional assistant. The expenses, he declared, were nothing compared to the profit the regulars made prior to the organization of the shipping association.

It was from the testimony of I. W. Jacoby of Prairie Home that the plaintiff and spectators derived most satisfaction and concern for defendants, perhaps, the least. Jacoby is connected also with the Farmers' Co-operative Shipping Association at Prairie Home and the national association. He said his association loads direct to cars at that point, while there are two regular elevators there.

He said that when the association first started to ship grain it applied to the Rock Island for cars, but could get no satisfaction and so assurance as to whether or not that company would furnish them. Then it began hauling its grain to the Burlington across the Rock Island and three or four miles away.
