HIS VOTE SAVED JOHNSON Pension Granted to Former Senator Who Saved President Johnson from Trouble.

Edmund G. Ross, the man whose vote, as Inited States senator from Kansas, saved President Andrew Johnson from impeach ment, has been granted a pension of $39 s month by congress.

It was because of his services in union armles during the civil war that his name has been added to the pension rolls. Doubtless it would have been placed there long before but for the bitterness aroused against him by his historic vote.

Ex-Senator Ross is now living quietly and healthy at the age of 78 years, and saws wood nearly every day for exercise. Among his neighbors he is known as Governor Ross, having served a term as governor of the territory of New Mexico by appointment of President Cleveland.

Reports get into circulation now and then hat ex-Senator Ross is passing his declining years in abject poverty, setting type for a meager living upon an Albuquerque newspaper.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat. FIGHT WITH HUGE SEA BAT Fish that Leaps Into the Air, Turns a Somersault and Flops a Pair of Wings.

Imagine a jet black bat of fifteen or more feet across, with a long, slender tail, the street viaduct, while others appear to be fins rising and falling like wings with a motion the perfection of grace; wings jet built it will stand near the site of the black above, pure white below, flashing alternately black and white as the fishes turned and swung along, standing out against the mauve tint of the bottom with worderful distinctiveness. They bore a remarkable resemblance to bats and were the bats of the sea.

As the dinghy moved nearer I saw that rare spectacle-a huge ray turn completely over, throwing a somesault as it swung around, a picture of grace, yet never losing its position, presenting for a few seconds beautiful lines attuned to perfect grace. I was fascinated by this singular performance, characteristic of these giant fishes, the dinghy reached a point when it was apparent they must see us. I permitted one, two, three to go slowly whirling on, then, selecting one that was headed up the lagoon in the direction of the cul-de-sac, I hurled the quivering grain pole into the black shadow just as it was about to turn. I heard the quick thud, saw A daughter was born Saturday to Mr. and the pole leap from the socket, heard the Indian plying his car to heard the India dian plying his oar to head the dinghy up the reef, and then the very bottom of the sea seemed to rise into the air as the great batlike creature rose bodily from a macistrom of spray, offering a vision of beating wings that deluged boat and occupants; then it fell with a resounding crash, the big waves from the impact careening the dinghy.-Metropolitan Magazine

FLOOD DAMAGE IN BAD VALLEY

Seventeen Houses Washed Away and Many Damaged.

THREE PERSONS DEAD AND MANY MISSING

Water Reaches from Bluff to Bluff at Bovine and No Systematic Search Can Be Made.

PIERRE, S. D., July 9 .- (Special.)-The vaters of Bad river have receded far enough at Fort Pierre for the people ! begin to take stock. A trip over the flood district shows owners of homes in that gic spon his little fruit farm on the outskirts tion wearily trying to dig something out of of Albuquerque, N. M. He is still vigorous the wrecks of their homes or standing on the sites where homes stood a few days ago, planning the first move toward starting life another time. One man wading around in the mud was asked where his house was and pointed to two piles of wreckage several yards apart, saying that each was a part of it.

The record at that town shows seventeen houses gone completely and forty-three more or less wrecked, with all the others which withstood the flood practically ruined so far as the lower floors are conin 1871, Mr. Ross fell upon hard times for cerned, everything being covered with a cleaned from furnishings and clothing. started several newspaper ventures, but Some have lost their buildings alone, while others lost both buildings and lots, the erosion of the flood cutting a much wider channel for Bad river than ever before.

So far three deaths are known to a certainty and numbers are yet unaccounted or farther up the stream. A messenger ame down from Bovine today to tell of the death of Brancke and says that on his way down he found that all the buildings sitting on his porch or reading in his nothing of their whereabouts. The travel along the river is in wide detours to avoid "My life's best reward," he says, "Is in the streams which run into it, and the missoon come in after supplies. The three women from Fort Pierre, Mrs. Lowe, Miss Lowe and Miss Hauge, have not yet been reported and nothing is known about them the country from everlasting discredit and from people who come in from up river defeat, something that might have become further than that they did not get to the ranch for which they started.

It will probably be a week before it is definitely known just what has been the recause none of the charges against him was sults up the stream. The water yet reaches proven," said Mr. Ross the other day, in from bluff to bluff at Bovine and there could be no systematic search for the missing.

The boat which went down the river to vituperation that would have turned some pick up wreekage found several houses grounded but going to pieces and they took out what they could secure and brought it to Fort Pierre, but all the furnishings were caked and damaged. They reported looting by the Indians of Lower Brule reservation in the buildings which lodges on the west side of the stream.
