

NEW YORK MAN WANTS WIFE

Offers His Kingdom to Queen Who Will Sit on Throne. WILLING TO DO MOST ANYTHING TO WIN Will Even Put on and Take Off Shoes and Adopt Religion Views of Woman Who Marries Him.

So long as a certain young man in New York remains unfettered by the binding ties of matrimony no young woman—that is, counting all women young who have not reached 40—has reason for complaint at the stringency of marriageable men. The Bee has just received a very confidential letter from a man in Saugerties, Ulster county, N. Y., who submits one of the fairest marriage propositions imaginable. It seems to lack but one element so often desired by women, an age when selfish commercialism dominates so many of the matrimonial contracts. But while having neither gold nor silver nor proud title to lay at the feet of the queen who would ascend the throne of his affection, his enterprising New York appears to offer everything else. Indeed, he seems so willing to please that some men might be cynical enough to say he was taking a long chance by one proposal he makes, namely, that he will agree to untear at night and in the morning the shoes of the woman who will be his goddess. Now, there is a rarity which probably could never be picked up outside of the state of New York. But that is not all. The ambitious man will abandon all his own personal ideas and beliefs and adopt those of the woman who will accept his proffered hand, if that be her wish—anything to make a match.

Proposition That Tempts. Here is what he has to say: "I am a subject of SAUGERTIES, Ulster County, N. Y., 44-46 (evidently in dating his letter the eighth month of his age). He is only July out here in the west. To the City Editor, The Omaha Bee: Dear Sir—Could you kindly insert the below in your paper, I will send you a photograph of myself, I will come to your approval. Repeat, yours, etc.

The writer did not wait for his letter to meet anyone's approval, but kindly sent the photo with his communication. This is his appeal to Cupid.

Here is a chance for some maid, widow or spinster to get married if the lady who answers same is under 40 years old and is in fair financial circumstances. I will sign agreement with her that I will carry the below into effect to the point that I will never touch any intoxicating liquors, will turn to whatever religion she may be and attend church each Sunday with her, will install in and around our home and its surroundings all the improvements that genius can devise, will take off and put on her shoes each morning and night, will be attentive to her will keep good hours, will be a man for home comforts. I am a man 25 years old, five feet seven, weight 140, blue eyes, dark brown hair, considered to be very nice looking by many, economical and thrifty and seek to lead an enterprising life. At present I am in New York circumstances, and can refer as to standing of character. In the best of my health, fairly educated and well-mannered, very agreeable and try to look on the sunny side of things. Anything you care to put me will be cheerfully given. I seek to marry for love, wealth a second consideration. I seek a lady who can love and aid financially a well-deserving young man. State particulars when you answer. Everything will be held strictly confidential. From a handsome young genius. Respectfully yours,

P. J. C. Saugerties, Ulster County, N. Y. P. S.—I here thought I would enclose a photograph of myself, and if you would return same to me after you are through with same I will send the photo on same.

Looks Like Me, News

Mr. Blank sends a photo with his letter to The Bee and from it he appears to look a good deal like any ordinary man, albeit if he has correctly recalled his age—25—he ought to have a reckoning with his photographer. He has a frank, open countenance—his nose might be supposed—wears mustache and eye glasses, has prominent features, combs his hair neatly and appears very well, though not fastidiously dressed. In behalf of Mr. Blank his name, which he signs to his letter, is withheld, at least for the present, since it might not be fair to place all women under 40 on an equal footing in this race for the hand of this "handsome young genius."

BIG BREAKFAST TO DAVIDSON

Banquet is Given Omaha's Superintendent by Nebraska Teachers at Asbury Park.

According to the Asbury Park (N. J.) Morning Press the Nebraska delegation to the National Educational association meeting practically took over the Hotel Grand and excluded other guests. One of the features for the delegates from the Antelope state was a breakfast given to Superintendent Davidson, and described as follows by the Press:

One of the very pleasant social events of the week was the breakfast to Superintendent Davidson of Omaha, Neb., at the Hotel Grand, given at the request of the citizens of his state who are making that hotel their home during the National Education meeting.

The affair was in the nature of a jollification over the news that the superintendent, whose term expired July 8, had been re-elected for an equal term as the state law would permit.

Mr. Davidson is one of the leading educators of the nation, and has written a United States history which is rapidly finding its way into the schools of the south and west. He at various times has filled

KNOCKED OUT AT FIELD CLUB John E. Himoe is Accidentally Struck and Suffers Concussion of the Brain.

John E. Himoe, a clerk with Brownings, King & Co., who resides at 214 Farnam, was seriously injured at the Field club golf links Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock. He is now at the South Omaha hospital suffering from a severe concussion of the brain. He has not entirely regained his faculties as yet, but rather a heavy head, and is attending him, says there is no fracture. He expects the patient to be all right again within a week or so.

Mr. Himoe had gone to the Field club links with Sam and W. A. Potter, the latter of St. Paul. They had been old neighbors when W. A. Potter lived in Omaha and were enjoying the day together. Mr. Himoe is not a golf player, but he had attempted a stroke and missed. Then W. A. Potter took the club, a wooden one with a heavy head, and started to show Mr. Himoe how to hit the ball correctly. The latter stepped back a pace to give Potter room to swing, but did not get far enough out of line. As the club came around over Potter's shoulder after the stroke it landed squarely against the side of Himoe's face alongside the left eye just below the temple.

Himoe fell like an ox hit with a sledge and flattened out in a manner that brought his friends and other spectators to his side in a spasm of fear. His heart action and pulse beats were very weak, but some quick-witted person had him carried to the club house, where hot compressions at once were applied and changed every few minutes until a physician could be secured.

When Dr. Foote arrived he said the hot applications were the best thing that could have been done under the circumstances. He gave Himoe all the temporary relief possible and then had him removed to the hospital. The side of his face is badly cut by the blow and his eye fearfully swelled and injured, but beyond the concussion he escaped luckily.

Mr. Potter was greatly distressed by the injury to his friend and was deeply concerned until assured Himoe would recover shortly.
