Clancy Unable to Explain. "How do you explain this discrepancy?" asked Mr. Smith, and Clancy was forced to admit he was unable to explain. Mr. Smith did not attempt to discuss the ethics of assessing railroads, but contented himself merely with showing what was considered to be the actual and fair assessable value of the property. He showed by figures that the earnings of the road had been steadtly increasing and that its property had not deteriorated, but had been kept up to its original condition. The facts and figures which we presented we considered indisputable, but how the state ouncil considers them remains to be seen."

WORKING FOR STATEHOOD

Delegate Convention is Held at Oklahoma City to Discuss Matter.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS THE MEETING

Every County in Oklahoma and Every Recording District in Indian Territory is Represented by Delegates.

ONLAHOMA CITY, Okl., July 12-One

Delegates and visitors began arriving yesterday and when the gathering was called both territories and, indeed, was considered with banners flying, and cheering for immediate statehood. Many regular and spevisitors from every direction.

Seemingly the utmost harmony prevailed among the delegates, their only object to advance the movement for early admission to the union. While there were contesting delegations, especially from the Indian Territory, where it was alleged the Indians had not been given fair representation, the disagreements had been settled largely before the convention was called to order. An effort to agree upon temporary officers in caucus early today failed and that work was left to the convention.

When C. G. Jones of Oklahoma City called the convention to order in a brief speech he was accorded a tremendous ova tion, the delegates cheering until almost exhausted. Every county in Oklahoma and every recording district of the Indian Terout and deprived of all his interest in a ritory was represented by a full delega-scheme of which he was the chief promoter and originator. Wherefore he sues asts crowded all the remaining space in the building. I. N. Holcombe, former territorial superintendent of instruction, welcomed the delegates and responses were made by H. P. Robinson of South McAlester, I. T., and Senator T. P. Gore of Lawton, Okl.

Regrets from Roosevelt. When the convention met in the after noon none of the committees was ready to report. Ex-Senator Blair of New Hampshire made a speech and was given a great ovation. He was followed by ex-Secretary of the Interior Noble, Delegate B. S. McGuire and others. An executive committee consisting of fifty-four members was selected, from which will be chosen a subcommittee to present resolutions to the president and

Meanwhile the committee on resolutions was tied up in a deadlock over the scope of the memorial, and the convention again took a recess to meet at 7:30.

NEW STREET CAR EXTENSIONS Ft. Crook Line Awaits South Sixth and Forest Lawn Agreement Florence People, Work probably will be begun on the street railway extension to Bellevue and Fort Crook as soon as the South Sixth street line work is completed. The rightof-way men are still in the field for the south extension, but the route is not ready to be announced. The hills, however, in Sarpy county probably will be avoided and a private right-of-way secured off the regular traveled roads. The extension to Forest Lawn cemetery is still in statu quo. This line would have been built before this time except for the residents of Fiorence, who have been putting obstacles in the way of the railway officials. First they wanted the road to run through Florence and to come into the cemetery from the north, which was considered impracticable by the officers of the road because of the steep grades which would have been encountered. After it was practically decided to use the short line to the cemetery objection was raised as to which side of the road the tracks would be laid on and so the matter rests,

The officials of the road say they stand ready to build the line as soon as the property owners quit quarreling among themselves and can decide where they will permit the company to lay its tracks.
