CAPTAIN CAPTURES THE COIN

Elit Hodgins of Omaha Gatling Guards Disappears with Company's Money.

CHARLES L. BENAWA RETURNS TO HOME

Tells of Success of Organization in Europe—Other Members Now in New York Will Come West.

Charles L. Benawa, son of G. S. Benawa of 329 Burt street, returned to Omaha Thursday evening from New York City, where he left the Omaha Guards Gatling Gun squad. Mr. Benawa returned in good health and with a world of experience gathered on his trip of twenty-six months, during which the squad covered a large portion of this country and Europe.

A. H. Clark, another member of the squad, is expected here Sunday. George W. Doane, L. E. Bauer, C. F. Challeng, E. B. Clark and E. S. Jamieson, the other members of the company, are now in New York City rehearsing for the opening of their season in Massachusetts next week.

Benawa and A. H. Clark have left the company. The squad met with great favor in the European countries, closing with a seven week's engagement in the spectacle, "Port Arthur," given in the Coliseum in London. According to the account of Mr. Benawa, Captain Elit Hodgins, formerly captain of the Omaha Guards and of the Union Gatling Guards, left the squad at London, took $1,000 of the company's money and has not been heard from since.

OPENING OF PLAY GROUNDS

Ceremony Next Tuesday Evening, When Public Resort Will Be Given to Children.

The opening of the public play grounds, Twentieth and Harney streets, next Tuesday evening, will partake of a public character. Every one in Omaha is invited to attend and witness the formal opening of this latest feature in the city's advancement.

The exercises will begin at 7:30, with a musical selection by the High school band. Frank Heller, chairman of the Omaha Improvement league's committee on public play grounds, will make a short talk on the subject of public play grounds. A flag, raising to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner," will be next in order, to be followed with short addresses by Dr. George L. Miller, Mrs. Mary Guard Andrews and E. A. Benson. Judge Stibbigh, president of the Omaha Improvement league, will preside and say a few words. All the talks will be limited to five minutes each.

The play grounds committee hopes to have chairs and a canopy covering for those who attend the opening. The grounds are now practically completed and are already open for the little folks.

DR. CISELL ON DENVER PRESS

Omaha Minister Thinks They Are the Yellowest He Has Ever Seen.

"I never saw such yellow newspapers as they have in Denver," remarked Rev. Clyde Clay Cissell, D. D., pastor of the Hancock Park Methodist church, who has just returned from Denver, where he attended the national convention of the Epworth league.

"Why, I had occasion to take with me and distribute some of our little hand books," he added, "and that furnished the basis for flaming headline stories that Omaha was trying to capture the next convention and I was buttonholing all the delegates with that end in view. As a matter of fact, Omaha never offered any invitation for the convention or put forth the first effort, nor did I as much as think of buttonholing any delegate."

"It seemed, though, as if those papers were all vying with each other to see which could get up the biggest fake."

"As to the convention, it was a genuine success. Most of the Omaha delegates are still there."

Mortality Statistics.

The following births and deaths have been reported to the Board of Health during the twenty-four hours ending at noon Friday:

Births—Thomas Olsen, 227 Ohio, boy; Alice Embury, France, baby girl; Cameron, 163 South Thirty-first, girl; George Spangler, 233 North Nineteenth, girl; John Johnson, 233 North Twelfth, boy.

Deaths—Conley Holmes, Fortieth and Poppleton avenues, 6; Fay D. Houston, Denver, Colo.; Glenn Pearl, Fifth and Locust, 1.

Twenty-Fourth Street Paving Contract is Center of Warm Warfare.

REMONSTRATORS WILL NOT BE QUIETED

Defeated in Council, Those Who Oppose Proposed Action Now Intend to Go Into Court with the Fight.

Even after the city council has passed an ordinance providing for the paving of Twenty-fourth street, it looks as if the work would not be done this year. Some of those who have remonstrated declared yesterday that an attempt on the part of the city council to let contracts for this paving or to issue bonds will be opposed. Injunction proceedings are talked of and some of the remonstrators have secured the services of an attorney to put a stop to the work.

Mayor Koutsky said last evening that the council will not take any steps to go ahead with the paving until Monday night. City Engineer Beal is expected home on Monday, and it will be necessary for him to supply some data regarding the assessment per lot before a special tax for the paving of the street can be introduced.

Even after the city attorney reported that the petition of the remonstrators does not contain a sufficient number of names to make it binding, and the council passed the pending ordinance, the members of the council are still dubious about the outcome.

Sewers Reported Blocked.

It was reported at the city hall yesterday that the storm of Thursday night filled a great many of the catch basins with mud and that sewers backed up into cellars. Only the foremen of the street gang was in evidence yesterday and with a few men some of the catch basins were cleaned. The sewers are reported to be in bad shape in a number of localities and numerous calls were received yesterday at the city hall for the engineer in charge. Mayor Koutsky intends getting a few men out today to clean catch basins and possibly some of the sewers may be flushed. In connection with the sewer system it is stated that since the river channel has changed the sewer outlets must be opened to the river. Nothing will be done in this respect until the city engineer returns. In the meantime the hauling of garbage to the river will be stopped, as there is no road. The keeper of the pest house said last evening that the hospital is all right but that there is about two feet of mud on the floor, which will have to be shoveled out. It will be necessary for the city to spend considerable money to make a road to the river for the hauling of garbage, but the money for this work will be available after August 1.

City Council Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held at 5:30 o'clock Friday and the levy and appropriation ordinances were read for the second time, after having been favorably reported on by the judiciary committee. As the levy must be made by July 15 it is more than likely that an adjourned meeting will be held some time today in order that both of these important ordinances may be passed.

Stock Trains Delayed.

Owing to a washout on the Union Pacific west of Pappillon forty cars of stock billed to the South Omaha market were delayed until after the noon hour. Upon being unloaded the cattle were yarded, fed and watered, and appeared none the worse for the delay. The prospects for receipts today look as if there would be a decrease all along the line, not only on account of the storm, but being the end of the week.

Mrs. Gaine's Funeral.

The body of Mrs. J. M. Gaine arrived from Colorado Friday noon and was conveyed to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Geary. Funeral services will be held this morning at St. Bridget's church and burial is to be at Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Mrs. Gaine is a number of relatives of Dr. Gaine and Mrs. Gaine are in the city to attend the services.
