Omaha & Nebraska Central Puts Its Bonds on the Market.

SENDS TREASURER EAST ON DEAL

If Securities Are Sold Within Month Grading on Roadbed Will Begin Early in the Prospects are fair for the sale of the bonds of the Omaha and Nebraska Central railroad within the next two or three weeks. Joseph Baker of Hastings, treasurer of the road, is in New York to negotiate the flotation.

The road will run from Omaha, through Wahoo, Aurora and intervening cities, to Hastings. Right-of-way to the extent of 120 miles has been secured. If the sale of the bonds is made within a month, it is said grading will begin at several points along the line early in the fall.

Third to Go to Wabash. When D. O. Ives goes to the Wabash August 1, he will be the third high official taken recently from the Burlington by the Wabash. The Burlington always has been considered a good training school and Burlington officials have been able to take high positions on other roads. F. A. Delano, first vice-president of the Wabash, was formerly general manager in Chicago of the Burlington. Henry Miller, general manager of the Wabash, was general superintendent of the Burlington at St. Louis.

Darius Miller is the man who will have the naming of a successor to Mr. Ives, and if he has decided upon a man for the place he has not announced it. There was a rumor that Fred Montmorency was slated for the position, and the Commercial club has endorsed A. B. Smith for the place. Both are and have been in the general freight office of the Burlington for some If Miller sent in an outsider it would cause no surprise locally.

Nebraska's Corn Crop. The Union Pacific has completed an estimate of the acreage on the corn erop for Nebraska. The revised figures show that ar present there are 6,500,000 acres of corn cracking along under the present hot spell, which is about 509,000 more than the acreage for last season. The acreage for winter and spring wheat will run over 2,000,000 acres. Both wheat crops are to be banner crops in both Kansas and Nebraska. The quality of the wheat in Nebraska is the best that this state ever produced.

Rallway Notes and Personals. The superintendents of the railroads con-orging in Omaha held their monthly meet-ng at the Union station Wednesday morning at the Union station Wednesday morning.

T. H. Thorpe, local representative of the Pennsylvania lines, has received word that this Pennsylvania system has reduced the rate from Chicago to New York, via the Panhandle route, to $16 for first-class tickets and $15 for second class tickets.

John Teahon, an attache of the railway mail service in Chicago, is visiting his brother. Joe Teahon, traveling passenger agent for the Wabash. Mr. Teahon is accompanied by a niece who escaped from the Iroquois theater fire, her three companions perishing. Mr. Teahon paid his respects to Mayor Moores, of whom he is an old friend, dating away back into the railroad days of the mayor.

W. H. Goode, president of the Lewis and Clark exposition, has telegraphed this voluntary tribute to the Union Pacific. "I congratulate and thank you on behalf of the directorate for the superb Lewis and Clark folder. It is one of the most elaborate and most complete of any issued in connection with the exposition. The arrangement of matter and information cannot fall to draw the attention of the public to the exposition and promote business." Many such fattering compliments on this folder have been received.

In the presence of a large gathering o friends, many of whom are old settlers of this city, the funeral service for John W. I stry, who died Tuesday morning at his home, 2311 Douglas street, was held Wednesday morning at St. Peter's church Twenty-eighth and Leavenworth streets. Father McLaughlin read the requiem mass, being assisted by the full choir and Father Buckley, Father Stritch of Creighton university delivered the sermon, which was a pretty tribute to the man he characterized Stritch referred to John W. It is allesed Brown same home Tuesday evening, took exceptions to some of the interior arrangements at his home and followed his exceptions by smashing his wife's wash tub and board, and punching holes in her rainbarrel. It is reported that Mrs. Brown has been supporting herself and children by washing, and now that her means of a livelihood have been destroyed by Brown she finds herself in hard circumstances. In a sense they would be enabled to compete on a common basis with the public high schools. Of course there is something to be said on the wisdom of taxing the great body of people for high schools and higher education in which only a comparative few enjoy and reap the benefit. Further discussion of the subject must wait on the return of President Dowling."
