HILL CANNOT RUIN OMAHA

Such is Stickney's View of Cut-Off Evading Gate City.

PARTY RETURNS FROM PACIFIC COAST

G. W. Wattles Will Be Active Officer in New Consolidated Bank and Work for Its Success.

President A. B. Stickney of the Chicago Great Western railway spent the day in Omaha, lunching at the Omaha club and taking an automobile ride about the city with Gerrit Fort, assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific, in the afternoon.

Mr. Stickney was accompanied by his wife, his daughter, Mrs. E. Stove of St. Paul, and her husband, Dr. Stove, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wattles. They returned from a trip, lasting a month, along the Pacific coast and at the Lewis and Clark exposition.

"I have nothing of special interest to give out that would interest Omahans," said President Stickney. "The grain market seems to be thoroughly established and a success; the Great Western has no complaint to offer on the business it is doing in this territory, and I think the independent elevator will be ready to do business in a short time. There are no new plans for industries or establishments connected with the railway ready for announcement at this time."

Questioned regarding the probable effects of the proposed Ashland cutoff to be built by the Great Northern, which threatens to go around Omaha, he said:

"Cannot hurt Omaha much. This seems to be an assured fact, but I do not think it is within the power of any one railroad to do great damage to Omaha. Omaha is too important, too big and too rich. Millions of dollars have been spent on belt lines around Chicago, planned so as to leave Chicago out in the cold, and yet I do not think that there has been an appreciable effect on Chicago. I apply the same conditions to Omaha and I see no cause for apprehension."

Mr. Wattles said: "I came back a little early so I would be in time for the bank consolidation and to take my place Saturday morning as an active officer in the capacity of vice president with the new United States National bank. I shall devote my best efforts to building up this institution."

President Stickney and Mr. Wattles say the Portland exposition is a success. The visitors will leave for St. Paul tonight.

Mrs. Dailley laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Dailley was held Tuesday afternoon from the family residence, 35 North Eighteenth street, Rev. Charles W. Swadlow officiating. Burial was at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Attend the Big Sale

On account of the hot weather it seems to be dull in most stores around town; it is not that way at the GUARANTEE CLOTHING CO.'s sale. Here you find a crowd of people picking up the great bargains quick and fast. Right now in between seasons people do not care to pay great, big, fancy prices; here you get first-class, up-to-date merchandise at less than half of their actual value. We just quote at random a few prices: Boys' overalls, 15c; men's outing suits, $1.98; good handkerchiefs, 5c; black satin shirts, 25c; seasonable thin underwear, 15c; men's fancy cheviot suits, $3.95; men's overalls, 25c; men's half hose, 2 pair for 10c; boys' strong hose, 5c; silk bow ties, 5c; men's string ties, 5c; boys' knee pants, 15c; strong suspenders, 5c; better ones, 12c, etc. All on sale on the second floor.

On our main floor we are slaughtering the fine furnishings stock of the Lincoln Shirt Co. of Chicago. Here swell dressers can find just exactly what they require for dressing up at just about half of the prices asked for the identical goods in other stores.

DIAMONDS

In the natural or rough state resemble smooth pebbles. To obtain the finished product it is necessary first to cleave it, then grind the facets and finally polish them. To obtain an American cut one carat stone requires one that will weigh in the rough fully 24 carats. Only 15 per cent of the rough diamonds found will make a finished stone weighing one carat or over. We have them in all sizes to 3-carat at prices so reasonable that we will give you one-tenth of amount paid at any time within one year from date of purchase.
