A high pressure overlies the central val-leys, with fis creat over the Dakoffs. The weather continues cool in the central val-leys on account of this high pressure, but the temperature will probably rise slowly throughout the Missouri valley tonight and Tuesday. Char weather prevails in the upper val-leys and northwest. Hain has been quite general in the east and south, being very heavy at points in the west guif states; 7.16 inches fell at Bhreveport, La., within the last twenty-four hours.  just about steady, while some sales even looked a little stronger. Commoner grades were harder to move and were bikrely steady and in some cases lower. There was only a small supply of cows and heifers on sale, but there was enough to supply the demand. The best dry lot cows looked steady and some sales were stronger, but, on the other hand, the com-moner and grassy kinds were weak and hard to move at the prices. Trading in this division was also slow and dull and little was done early. Bulls, veal caives and stags were in about the same notches as at the close of last week, there being little change in the mar-ket. There was a fair supply of stockers and feeders here today and there was a good, strong demand for anything showing qual-ity. ASPHALT PLANT DOES WELL Repair Machine is Working Se

Smoothly that City Officials Are Really Smiling.

The asphalt repair plant is now behaving in a way that brings smiles to the features of city officers. Saturday fourteen loads of the mixture were turned out and Sixteenth street from Harney to Farnam, one aids of Howard from Fifteenth to Sixteenth and one side of Fifteenth from Farnam to Howard were put in good repair. The gangs on the street were doubled. Monday morning the patching was going forward even more rapidly.

In connection with the restoration of the asphalt and the prospects that it will be kept in good condition hereafter, city ufficers are discussing new ways for improved street cleaning. Street Commissioner Hum-mell is in favor of installing a "barrel brigade" of about ten men in the business district, this force to work constantly fluring the day in the name of cleanliness. Councilman Nicholson proposes the parchase of a number of compressed air and water cleaning wagons, which have been used in St, Louis and other cities for light cleaning. At the present time the street cleaning department is seriously hampered by lack of funds and proper equipment. Once the paving 14 in first class shape, how-45,757 ever, it is thought a natural demand for keeping it clean will work wonders and supply the deficiencies. It is much more expensive to clean poorly paved streets than well-payed streets.
