VOTERS READY TO ISSUE $20,000

Legal Opinion Backs Up the Willage's Determination to Provide Adequate Fire Protection and House Service.

Citizens of Benson, the suburb lying to northwest of Omaha, will vote Tuesday at a special election on the proposition issuing $20,000 in bonds to secure that mount of money for the installation of an adopendent village water works system. the bonds will bear interest at 5 per cent. may be in whole or in part redeemed after the years and will run twenty years to majurity. It will require a two-thirds mamilty of the votes cast to approve the The question was submitted to the people by proclamation of the village board early in July.

Benson at present has no water works sistem or supply other than that furnished to family wells. Fire protection is lacking. The place is constantly growing, having imped from a population of about 600 five ars ago to an estimated population of no at present. Neither the village nor the school district is bonded for a penny or has outstanding obligations of any kind. advocates of the water works bonds feel sure they will carry, saying that the only apposition comes from outlying residents who feel that they may be taxed without having the mains extended to their homes and reaping any benefits.

A Legal View of the Case. Frank A. Brogan, who is a member of the Benson School board, explains the situation like this:

When the subject of water supply was first broached several years ago the people of Benson were given to understand by the Omaha Water company that it did not care to make an extension, in view of the fact that its ownership of the entire plant was uncertain because of the anproaching expiration of its contract and the municipal ownership sentiment in Omaha; further, that it was doubtful if sufficient pressure could be given Benson to proparly supply it, leaving fire protection out of the question, unless a new pumping station or reservoir were built in the vicinity. Meanwhile the village has been growing at a rapid rate. Various plans for setting a water supply have been discussed, including one of paying a bonus to the Omaha Water company as the Country club and Krug park people did.

"The Benson Improvement club, which took a leading hand in the matter, decided that the best scheme would be an inde pendent water system. Experts were employed to go over the ground and make inestigations and they assured us that a plant, consisting of a steel tank for gravity pressure, gasoline engine and pumps and mains to supply the business part and thickly settled residence sections, could be put in at a cost running from $15,000 to $20 .-100. We found water from wells on the hillside northwest of the center of the village to be perfectly pure, and the idea is to get the supply from a series, of wells sunk to a depth of perhaps sixty feet. Benson's area. is almost one-third that of Omaha and the plant proposed will not be large to take are of all of it, but it will suffice for present needs. The plain bond proposition is submitted and details as to location, capacity, etc., are to be worked out later. If the bonds carry it is proposed to have the system in use by this winter.

Aim to Make Selfsustaining. The intention is to make the waterworks self-sustaining, either by charging rates pay interest on the bonds and create a sinking fund or by taxes levied direct upon the people benefited. We realize that it would not be equitable to tax a man off in an isolated part of the village whom the

"In case of the taking over of the waterworks system of the Omaha company by Omaha, or a water district taking in Omaha, South Omaha and the surrounding villages, or that the municipalization profect fails, it will be possible for Benson to connect with the larger system and sell its pumps and engines, having the most costly part of the plant, namely, the mains, still available and no loss. Many prospective home builders have been kept away by the lack of water. As the town is on a hill lack of water. As the town is on a hill sewer systems are not vital and will not be for some time. We have electric lighting from Omaha and for this reason do not miss gas. Water is the one convenience we have only the property of the company of the company has not sufficient shed room for it. There will be a third cutting in a couple of weeks haven't got and want to have.'

O'Brien Gives a Cup. D. J. O'Brien has donated a handsome silver cup to the Field club to be played for by the bowlers of the club. The only conditions that Mr. O'Brien attached to his sift is that the cup shall be played for for two years. There is a movement on foot to build a trophy room at the Field club in which to place the numerous cups which are at present lining the mantels and plate

Right of City to Wreck Buildings Raised by Transit House Case.

FATE OF OLD SHACK HANGS ON DECISION Oklahoma Sheriff in Magie City Looking Up Record of Shercliffe, the Desperado Who is Now Discredited.

City officials are taking a great deal of interest in the proceedings brought by an eastern trust company to prevent the wrecking of the old Transit house. Notice had been served on the trust company, through its Omaha agents, to commence razing the building on August 1. Friday an pplication was made to the court for a restraining order which was issued and nade returnable August 7.

In this connection City Attorney Lambert sald yesterday: "When this case comes up for hearing l will contend that the city has the right to wreck buildings that are in a dangerous endition. This right is given the city authorities by ordinances. Of course the city must now prove that the building is in dangerous condition.

Continuing, the city attorney called atention to the fact that this question of the safety of the building in question had peen agitated for years. About a year ago the Highland Park Improvement club took the matter up and wanted the mayor and ouncil to take steps then to remove what was termed an eyesore. Other city officials assert that an architect and a brick mason and a carpenter will be employed to inendition. Interest does not center alone lozen other buildings that have been conlemned by the same process and under the same ordinance.

In case the decision of the court is favorable to the city a lot of old shacks will be condemned and ordered torn down.

Lund Looking for Shereliffe. Sheriff Lund of Blackwell, Okl., was in the city yesterday looking up the record of Frank Shercliffe. It appears that Sherdiffe has provided an alibi alleging that he was in Des Moines during the first week in July, 1901. Chief Briggs has made the posttive statement that Shercliffe was in South Omaha during the famous bull fight street fair. He further declares that Shercliffe roomed at the home of Charles Maynard and made his headquarters at Sherman's saloon. Chief Briggs has provided Sheriff Lund with the names of a number of reputable citizens who remember Shercliffe being in South Omaha during the street tained a Bible and church and local papers

The sheriff was more than pleased with the assistance rendered, him by Chief Briggs and will see that depositions are taken or a number of principal witnesses copal church, Mayor C. W. Reed, Prof. H. taken to Des Moines to combat the alibi A. Kinney and Mrs. L. D. Willett. that has been presented.

P. C. Petersen Dies. P. C. Petersen, one of the old time phoographers of South Omaha, died at Lincoln yesterday. George H. Brewer, one of the local undertakers, left on a morning train to prepare the body and bring the remains here for interment. The deceased was one of the prominent business men of the city and died at a Lincoln sanitarium, where he was being treated for brain trouble

Funeral services will be held at the lat residence of the deceased at Twenty-third and G streets this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Wheeler will officiate. Interment at Laurel Hill cemetery.

Laying Telephone Conduits. Manager James Carter of the local Ne braska Telephone exchange said Saturday afternoon that the company had nearly 100 men at work on the conduit system. Poles are being set in alleys where the conduits are to be laid and material is arriving every day. Drain pipes have to be laid in the conduits on account of the storm water sewer system being to small. The present week will set double the present orce at work as the company appears anxious to get this work done as soon as possible. No start has been made on the new building at Twenty-fourth and K streets. The first object of the company is to get its wires underground. Mr. Carter said that the new exchange building would he filled with the latest improved machinery and that when a large proportion of the wires were underground the service would be much better. The new switchboard will accommodate 5,000 subscribers and there will be little if any delay in making connections at central as more help can be employed when the new switchboard is in operation. Ready for Roofers. James Parks who is superintending the rection of the addition to Corrigan school said last night that slate roofers would start to work on Monday. The roofing will be completed by Wednesday. On Monday plasterers will start to work. Mr. Parks declares that he will have the new part of the building ready by the middle of August or a few days afterwards. This addition to Corrigan school can be opened in September. Additions to Madison and Lincoln schools are so slow that it will be a month or more after the opening of the schools before these buildings can be occupied.

Labor Body Elects Officers. At a regular meeting of the Trades and abor Council of South Omaha Friday night these officers were elected: Fred C. Moore, president; J. L. Kubat, vice president; W. Copenharve, corresponding secretary and treasurer; J. A. Jacobson, recording secretary; John Lindstrom, sergeant-at-arms; George Dunn, Charles Strangler, William Smith and Fred Boukan, trustees.

Carnival Opens Monday. On Monday evening the carnival to be given by the Carnival club of the Ancient

Nothing out of the ordinary, except a crowd bigger than usual, characterized the Omaha Driving club matines at the Sprague Street park yesterday afternoon. Coney succeeded in pacing a mile in 2:11% lowering his own track record by half a second. Some of the finishes were close between first and second, but for the most between first and second, but for the most part the racing was lusterless. Heats were dragged out in a way so aggravating as to spoil the afternoon's sport for everyone. Old favorites did most of the winning and cided on Basis of Friday's Heats.

DETROIT, Mich., July 22.—Rain this afternoon prevented the horsemen at the Grosse Pointe track from finishing the three races that were unfinished yesterday afternoon when rain began failing. It was therefore decided to settle the 2:06 pace and 2:10 trot according to the sanding of the horses after the second heat yesterday and to trot the third and final heat of the Merchauts' and Manufacturers' consolation stake Monday afternoon. In the 2:06 pace Baron Grattan was accorded the race with Winfield Stratton second, Riley B. third and Hazel Patch fourth. Androsis finished fourth and third yesterday and was also a money winner. In the 1:10 trot Zephyr was given the race. Becond money was awarded to Norman B. Brownie Wilton was given third money. It is possible that the owners of the three horses left in the Merchants' and Manufacturers' consolation may get together and agree to a division of the money and obviste the necessity for trotting a third heat Monday. PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—Play was resumed today in the cricket match between the Marylebone Cricket club of London and the Gentlemen of Philadelphia. The Englismen scored seventy-seven runs yesterday for the loss of three wickets, while the home players were all out for a total of 217.

NO COING BEHIND RETURNS eighteen games played. Atkins, the Juniors star pitcher, who has won them their fame by his strong pitching, will be on the firing line against the Traylor boys.

CHANDLER EGAN WINS AGAIN

Western Golf Champion Successfully Defends His Title.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Chandler Egan won the western golf championship for the third time, defeating his cousin. Walter Egan, in the finals, 3 up 2 to play. The champion successfully defended his title after being one down at the end of 27 holes. By great work in the afternoun he squared matters at the twenty-eighth hole and won the twenty-ninth, thirtieth and thirty-first holes in succession. The next three were halved and the match ended on the thirty-fourth green. Defends His Title.

Larsen Explains His Mishap In speaking about the road race to Fre-cont last Thursday by local automobilists ohn M. Larsen makes the following state-them at least twenty miles the best of us so you see it was far from an even start. "We did not anticipate any race, but expected that we would easily overtake every one before reaching Fremont in spite of a handicap of twenty miles in a forty-five-mile run. But when we got beyond Water-loo without seeing any machine, in spite of the rather fine behavior of the White Dragon we heavy trackles it was a race. loo without seeing any machine, in spite of the rather fine behavior of the White Dragon, we began to realize it was a race, and I decided we would be first in Fremont (barring an accident) or know the reason why. I accordingly began to open up a little on my car. The result was a pace that had never been seen on country roads in these parts and it did not take long before we caught up and passed one machine after another; but when we were within three or four miles of Fremont, and going like the wind on a comparatively good road, I suddenly discovered a dug-out in the road too late to avoid it, and struck it with enough force to spring our rear axle. After bringing the machine to a standstill a couple of hundred yards beyond the hole a hasty examination showed that we had better finish the race into town with two horsepower, providing we could find a fartner handy, which we did.

"Our time from Omaha to within three or four miles of Fremont was I hour and 5 minutes. It will be some time before any car owned in Omaha will beat this time with five people in the machine. The mishap to the White Dragon was only trivial and within a day or so it will be fit to meet any car in the west on either road or track.

Tekamah 0.2.3.0.0.3.0.9.5.7.5

The Tekamah team leaves tonight for a eries of three games with Fremont. The adden departure of Bucklin, who left to oin Rourke's pitching staff, leaves Tekanah somewhat handicapped, but they hope o win their share of games nevertheless.

With Manager Rourke and his pennant chasers in Missouri, the fans need not stay away from Vinton Street park today, for a game between the Lee-Glass-Andreesen and Nonparell teams will no doubt afford them plenty of chance to get their lungs in shape for Pa and his team when they return for their fourteen games at home.
