I. R. ANDREWS IS MISSING

Omaha Attorney Mysteriously Disappears Near His Property at Ashland.

BLOODHOUNDS USED IN SEARCH OF HIM

Wife and Friends Are Mystified as Well as Shocked Over the Episode—Last Seen Friday Evening.

I. R. Andrews, a prominent attorney, with an office in the New York Life building, has been missing from his home at 3631 Hawthorne avenue since Friday and his relatives and friends fear he has met with a fatal accident.

Mrs. Andrews, president of the Omaha Woman's club, is greatly distressed over the absence of her husband and said Monday morning friends had made a thorough search for the missing man in the neighborhood of Cedar creek, but no trace of him could be found. Mrs. Andrews fears her husband has been accidentally shot or drowned.

For two years Mr. Andrews has been interested in the gravel pit at Ashland and it has been his habit to make frequent visits there to look after his property.

Harry Brome, who has returned from searching for Andrews, said:

"Friday afternoon Mr. Andrews went to Cedar Creek, where he and Z. P. Hedges of South Omaha have a gravel pit. They went to the house at the pit occupied by Mr. Bush and his wife, expecting to stay all night. Mrs. Bush received a telegram to come to Omaha and asked Mr. Andrews for some money. He paid her with a check and said he had about $8 with him in cash, if she needed any of that she could have it. After supper Mr. Andrews put on some old clothes, which he kept at the Bush house and which he wore on hunting expeditions, and, taking his 22-caliber rifle, walked down the track. Nothing was thought of his not returning until it was late, and then Hedges and Bush were not worried, for Mr. Andrews often went to the home of Mr. Davis, about half a mile down the track, and stayed late, and once this spring stayed all night."

Harry Brome was called from Omaha Saturday and bloodhounds were secured and all of the neighbors have joined in the search, but not a trace of the missing man has been found.

Mr. Brome says Mr. Andrews was in the best of spirits when he left the Bush house and that he cannot conceive of him becoming demented so suddenly. He must have wandered away, and this seems improbable, because every avenue leading from Cedar Creek has been searched and the large posse of neighbors has thoroughly searched the neighborhood and all of the bushes along the road.

LOCKJAW DEFIES THE COLD

Effort to Save Boy's Life by Putting Him in Refrigerator Proves Fatal.

Alfred Nelsen, an 11-year-old boy living with his parents at 1854 Gust street, North Omaha, died at 6 o'clock Monday evening from lockjaw which was caused from a rusty nail being run into the lad's foot about three weeks ago.

An attempt was made to cure the boy by putting him in a cooler at the Storz brewery at a temperature one degree above freezing, a cure that has been worked in a number of instances, but all efforts to bring young Nelsen out of the grip of the lockjaw attack were fruitless. He was placed in the cooler Sunday afternoon in the brewery and remained there with no covering but an oil cloth. His father, Chris Nelsen, watched over him from Sunday afternoon until he died Monday evening, it being impossible to get a nurse to undertake the work.

The boy was playing near his home about three weeks ago when he stepped on a rusty nail. He was given attention immediately and the wound healed up, but symptoms of lockjaw set in Saturday afternoon and Dr. J. C. Bishop was called, and, having cured another patient by the system of putting them into a cold atmosphere, the trial was made on the Nelsen boy.

The funeral will be held from the residence of the family at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

WARM WORDS THROUGH MAILS

One Woman Expresses Opinion and Uncle Sam Takes Exceptions.

Mrs. Eugenia Marrow, wife of Sergeant Marrow, colored, a soldier located at Fort Niobrara, is out under a $200 bond to appear at the November term of the federal court to explain why she wrote three letters to Sergeant Hopkins, in which letters Mrs. Marrow expressed her opinion of Mrs. Hopkins in such language that not only Sergeant Hopkins feels outraged, but the government thinks its Postoffice department has been made to suffer much indignity.

Mrs. Marrow admitted to Inspector Moore, who arrested her, that she had written the letters and she offered a good excuse, so she thinks. According to her story, Sergeant Marrow, to whom she is legally married, has been paying too much attention to Mrs. Hopkins. Instead of using her razor Mrs. Marrow took the more dignified course of sending her opinion of the woman to her husband, using Uncle Sam for a pack horse. What the husband said to his wife is not a matter of record, but he was so indignant when he got the letter that he reported the matter to the postoffice authorities. Mrs. Marrow was taken before Commissioner Parker at Woodlake and bound over to the federal court in the sum of $200, which she furnished.

H. J. BELLIS IS DISCHARGED

Acquitted Second Time of Charge of Illegally Voting and Sues for Damages.

Judge Vinsonhaler dismissed the complaint against Harvey J. Bellis in the county court. Bellis was charged with illegal voting and perjury at a school election in District No. 9 of Benson. This is the second trial of the complaint against him, the first time being in justice court, where he also was discharged. He has a suit for civil damages pending in the district court, growing out of his arrest on the charges made.

RAILROADS COME TO TERMS

Burlington Pacified and Union Pacific Will Lay the Tracks.

LITTLE EXCITEMENT IN EARLY MORNING

Hill People, Thinking Harriman Forces Intend to Start Work, Block Streets with Burlington Cars.

The war is over and peace declared.

The Union Pacific and Burlington have reached amicable terms regarding the track laying on Ninth street and Judge Kelly, general solicitor of the Union Pacific, says that road will proceed without any necessary delay to lay the tracks.

General Superintendent Byrum, Superintendent Bignell of the Nebraska division and J. E. Kelby of the legal department of the Burlington waved a flag of truce into Judge Kelley's office at the Union Pacific headquarters Monday morning and a conference was held at which the pipe of peace was smoked and several difficulties of long standing were settled, as well as the recent Ninth street fracas.

The Burlington officials agreed to sign crossing contracts with the Union Pacific for every track on Ninth street. The understanding is that the Union Pacific will lay the track unmolested and pay all costs for the same. The Burlington has moved away the cars which it had placed across Ninth street.

"The Burlington and Union Pacific have agreed that wherever the new tracks shall intersect the Burlington tracks at street intersections the Union Pacific will build the crossing, but this the Union Pacific stood ready and anxious to do all the time. We never proposed or intended anything else. We shall build this track just as soon as possible, perhaps beginning Tuesday. It is our desire first to submit all our plans to the city, so as to have every step we take in thorough harmony with the regulation of the city ordinances and approved by the city."

Burlington Side of Case.

George W. Loomis, assistant to General Manager Holdrege of the Burlington, said the Burlington had been put in a false light in this matter.

"We did not bring any men from Lincoln as stated in some of the Sunday papers, but simply brought some material to construct a short spur, according to our rights in the matter. For some time we have had the right to run tracks up the alleyways to Tenth street and when the Union Pacific was granted the right to build on Ninth street we did not wish to relinquish any of our rights at the intersections, so we planned to construct a switch track between the two tracks already in place up the alley between Farnam and Harney streets and up to Tenth. Part of this switch would come on Ninth street, and the Union Pacific officials evidently thought that we were intending to interfere with their newly acquired rights to run on Ninth street.

"Such was not our intention and never has been. We did not wish to interfere with the Union Pacific or the expressed wish of the city council in any way. We simply wished to construct our switch tracks so as to preserve our rights until such time as a crossing agreement could be reached."

Trolley Strikes Wagon.

While driving across the street car tracks near Twenty-ninth and Cuming streets at about 6 p. m. Monday Antonio Parsenger, a teamster living at 4726 North Fortieth streets, was struck by a passing Walnut Hill car and thrown violently from the wagon to the pavement. The driver sustained a bruised chest and an injury on his left arm. He was taken to his home in the city ambulance. Police Surgeon Willis attended him.

BRANDEIS BUYS EVANS STOCK.

Boston Store Firm Purchases the Nebraska Shirt Co. Store.

The entire stock of J. H. Evans & Co.'s Nebraska Shirt company was bought yesterday by J. L. Brandeis & Sons. For a number of years this store, at 1517 Farnam street, has been a fashionable headquarters for men's high-grade furnishing goods. J. H. Evans, who was the founder of the concern, died recently and the store was sold by the stockholders.

Martin Meyer, the manager of the Nebraska Shirt company, will go into business for himself. The stock is now being moved to the Brandeis store.

Over 1,000,000 acres of land in the Uintah Indian reservation in eastern Utah will be opened for settlement August 28. Registration for homestead entries will commence August 1 at Grand Junction, Colo., and at Vernal, Price and Provo, Utah, and continue until 6:00 p. m., August 12. The drawing for these lands will be held at Provo, Utah, August 17; making the entries will begin at Vernal August 28. Lieutenants Lodsing of Russia will give a short talk on his native land. Adjutant McKenzie will give moving and other pictures of army work, conditional. The brass band will be out in full strength.

Timothy G. Turner has instituted a suit in equity in the federal court against Herman Milliler, Check H. Toncrey, Frank J. Porter, trustees of the estate of Ira Hadsell, Lyman M. Law and Guy A. Hamilton. Turner desires to quiet title to a ranch valued at $30,000 located in Holt county. Law resides in Connecticut, the home of the late Hadsell, and Hamilton lives in Washington, D. C.

Helene Dyok has notified the city that on the evening of July 20, while "leisurely walking along Kavan street near Thirteenth, exercising due care to avoid injury of all kinds," she fell into a ditch, washout or hole adjoining the sidewalk, or "sidewalk space." She was hurt internally and externally and was ruptured. The tone of her note infers that she will look to the city for damages.

FREMONT'S VISIT TO THE DEN

Dodge County's Capital Sends Big Crowd to See Samson.

CARNIVAL PLANS TAKE UP MUCH TIME

Committee Directed to Place Display Advertisements in Newspapers and Another Chosen to Select Names.

Fremont was like a deserted village last evening, for everyone except the night operator at the railroad station, the jailer and prisoners at the county jail and one woman who had to go out to find her lost cow were at the Ak-Sar-Ben den; that is, the men folks were at the den, as King Ak-Sar-Ben XI does not allow the skirted side of the household to enter the most holy of holies. Ample entertainment was provided for the fair sex who came down from the Dodge county metropolis, the mothers, sisters and daughters being cared for at Lake Manawa and Krug park.

Fremonters certainly did themselves proud last evening and the crew at the den did the Fremonters. The Northwestern brought in six coaches of people from the town on the west. The Fremont band, every liddie with a clean shave and a pretty badge, came along to lend eclat and music to the occasion. The visitors were met at the Union station by a committee from the knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, escorted to the den in a line of street cars and then put through the initiation with neatness and enthusiasm. Even the ice water tank at the den seemed filled with enthusiasm last evening; there was enthusiasm enough and to spare. The crowd was a large one and every one was as happy as a boy with a pair of new stilts and a ticket to the show.

Chaplain Silver Presides.

Rev. H. Percy Silver of Fort Crook, chaplain of the Thirtieth regiment, was grand mufti last evening and filled the position in his own inimitable manner. He was the hit of the evening. Following Rev. Mr. Silver on the speakers' stand were Ross Hammond of the Fremont Tribune, Mr. Risley of the Fremont Herald, J. C. Cleland and E. R. Gurney, citizens of Fremont, and Superintendent Davidson of the Omaha schools and Rev. Russell Wilber of Chicago, formerly of Omaha. The talks were unusually pithy and witty. The Fremont band rendered selections during the evening.

As the dates for the fall festivities draw near the board of governors and Samson become as busy as setting hens. The board of governors met last evening with representatives of most of the fraternal societies to be represented in the floats this fall. The particular business in hand was to arrange for the manning of the floats with delegations from the various orders, after which the floats are being designed and whose names they will bear. The result of the conference was that the fraternal representatives present last evening agreed to furnish the men and regalia for the floats.

Orders Advertisements.

The governors authorized the advertising committee to place a six-inch double-column advertisement in 200 newspapers published within 150 miles of Omaha, the advertisements to cover the fall festivities of Ak-Sar-Ben and to take the place of the hangers that have been issued and distributed in previous years.

More gray hairs are appearing on Samson's head, and the cause of this coloring of the royal scribe's capillary adornment is the selection of a name for the fall carnival. Recently a reward of $10 was offered for the person who suggested a suitable name for the carnival. Over 300 letters, containing in all about 1,000 names, have been received and Samson finds it too great a task to make the selection. He has therefore appointed a committee of three, consisting of Burke Sinclair of the World-Herald, Oreville Strain of the Daily News and Ed Black of The Bee, to get him out of the dilemma. This committee will meet during the week, select the ten most striking names suggested by the contestants and publish the ten names in the local newspapers for a popular vote, the name receiving the most votes to be selected. Votes will be sent by postal card to Samson and the full particulars of the contest will be announced with the ten names next Sunday.

On next Monday evening the Rock Island will bring in an excursion from Fairbury and vicinity.

Total paid membership of Ak-Sar-Ben to date is 661.

SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATES

Five File Their Names with City Clerk Elbourn in Compliance with Primary Law.

Five candidates for the republican nomination for members of the Board of Education have filed notice of their intention with City Clerk Elbourn, as provided by the Dodge primary law. Three are members of the present board—Dr. W. H. Christie of the Twelfth ward, George D. Rice of the Ninth ward and David Cole of the Fifth ward. The two new candidates are Charles Harding, a business man with large interests in the creamery business, and A. C. Kennedy, who is in the real estate business and now a member of the Library board. Mr. Harding files for the unexpired term of H. L. Kreider, which has a year to run. This term has been filled since early last winter by David Cole, who now proposes to go into a berth of his own. Kennedy and Harding both live in the Seventh ward.

William H. Butts, at present a member of the board, has announced his intention of trying for a second term, and so has Ed K. Lower. It is not thought that J. O. Detwiler cares to serve again. He is said to have other political prospects in view.

All of the school board candidates who have filed so far comply strictly with the Dodge law and pledge themselves to abide by the result of the primaries.

COMBATANTS DRAW PRIZES

Man Gets Fifteen Days and His Woman Adversary is Fined Five Dollars.

J. A. Bright and Mary Mooney of the Martin flats, Eighteenth and Webster streets, who caused neighbors to suspend business for a few minutes last Saturday afternoon by engaging in a battle of words and glasses, were arraigned Monday morning before Police Judge Berka on the charge of disturbing the peace by fighting. Bright was sentenced fifteen days, while the woman was fined $5 and costs. Bright is the man who had dark traces of blood on his face when brought into the police surgeon's room after being struck by a glass, said to have been thrown by Miss Mooney.

Some More Park Plans.

Park Commissioner Gonden Monday afternoon explained to the general council committee the aims and objects of the commission regarding plans for new boulevards and parks. He asked that the request for condemnation of a strip of ground through the Megeath property south of Hanscom park be acted upon favorably by the council. It is desired to connect the park with the southeast boulevard direct, so as to avoid the street cars on South Thirty-second avenue. Count Creighton is willing to donate the greater part of the connection, but Mr. Megeath declines. Councilmen promised the park commissioner to order the condemnation.

GREENE ASKS ADVANCE MONEY

Superintendent of Insane Asylum Says Fee Must Be Paid Before Treatment is Given.

In a recent issue of The Bee the fact was mentioned that the Douglas county insanity board had committed to the Lincoln asylum a young man addicted to the drug habit. This was done under a law passed by the last legislature providing for such action in the case of persons complained of for the excessive use of intoxicants, drugs or narcotics.

The law provides that $15 per month shall be paid by the county from which a patient is sent for maintenance. In a communication to the county commissioners Monday morning, Clerk of Courts Broadwell notified the board that Dr. Greene, superintendent of the Lincoln asylum, insists on having payment in advance for three months. The commissioners deferred action on the matter until they could be advised as to the provisions of the law.

Attorney Charles Elgutter, the legal member of the insanity board, said regarding the communication:

"Personally, I had not heard of the demand of Dr. Greene for payment in advance. If he asks that $45 be paid for each patient sent before he shall be received, that means that the counties would have to advance payment for three months' treatment and keep. I seriously question if the superintendent has the right to make any such demand under the law. We shall take the matter up with the county authorities and find out just what the rights of the counties are in the matter of committing these unfortunate people."

HUSBAND LOCATED BY WIRE

M. C. Kibbe, Whose Wife is Killed, is Notified by Remarkable Feat of Telegraph and Telephone.

M. C. Kibbe, husband of Mrs. Clara Gordon Kibbe, fatally injured by falling from a street car Saturday evening, has been located in a camp on the Roaring Fork, on the western slope of the Rockies. The location of Mr. Kibbe, who was miles from civilization, was all accomplished Sunday, when a reply from him was received saying he will be in Omaha Tuesday at 3:20 p. m.

Mr. Kibbe left Omaha last week with the Omaha Monarch association to camp on the Roaring Fork. At 9 a. m. Sunday, at which time Mrs. Kibbe's condition was regarded as extremely critical, E. J. Chissell wired the news of the accident to Denver, from which place the message was repeated by the Western Union to Georgetown, in the Clear Creek canyon. From Georgetown the information was telephoned to Spitzer's ranch, from which place a courier was dispatched fifteen miles to a camp where the husband was located. A reply was received by Mr. Chissell in Omaha at 7:30 Sunday evening from Mr. Kibbe.

MENDICANTS ARE ARRESTED

Three Beggars Taken in for Plying Their Profession on the Streets.

George Davis, Robert Gray and John Fitzgerald, a trio of professional beggars, with no fixed places of abode, have been arrested by Patrolman Shepherd. They were charged at the city jail with drunkenness and begging on the street. When arraigned in police court Davis pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Police Judge Berka to fifteen days, while the others wanted trials, which will be accorded them Tuesday morning.

It is said the men "make up" as cripples and offer cards with poetic appeals. It is further reported by the arresting officer that the men met J. H. Brady and Fred Ransford, strangers in the city, asked for alms, and, being refused, began to assault the strangers, who could not afford to remain in the city and prosecute.

DENIES CRUELTY TO CHILD

Colored Woman Pleads Not Guilty to Charge Concerning Her Dead Baby.

Mrs. Edna Craig, colored, 723 Pierce street, pleaded not guilty Monday morning when arraigned before Police Judge Berka on the charge of cruelty to a child. The complaint is sworn to by Detective Dan Davis, who made the investigation of the case last week and found evidence that would tend to show the woman's child died from neglect. Mrs. Craig will have a hearing Tuesday morning.

RED TAPE RETARDS PAVING

Excess of Formality in City Charter Delays Employment of Men.

MAYOR LOOKS FOR WAY OUT OF DILEMMA

Says Abortion Called Charter is Not Going to Prevent the City from Repairing Streets.

Difficulty in employing and retaining men for work on asphalt street repairs has been met by city officers, and from the mayor down through the legal and engineering departments an effort is being made to find some way to hire men without the red tape of appointment, confirmation by the council and approval by the mayor.

With private paving contractors working on various jobs the demand for experienced asphalt hands in the city is large and under the conditions the engineering department has found it almost impossible to keep the street gangs up to full quota. Under the confirmation scheme it is necessary for an idle raker, tamper or laborer to wait from two to seven days from the time he is employed by the city engineer until he can go to work. With the present demand for workmen of this class he does not wait, but gets a job elsewhere. When the formalities have been observed by the city officers no workman is to be had.

Mayor Not to Be Daunted.

Mayor Moores called a conference of department heads Monday morning and instructed Assistant City Attorney Herdman to read the laws carefully and see if, under the emergency clause, men badly needed could not be hired as fast as they presented themselves and put to work immediately, letting the confirmation come afterwards. As this point is the principal one in the Cathers suit against city officials to recover $15,000 paid to street laborers, the city officers want to go slow. The mayor said:

"Notwithstanding the absurdities in this abortion called a charter, we propose to keep right on repairing our streets. If it is necessary to get men to work I shall call a special meeting of the council every morning and evening to do the confirmation act. With all the paving going on in the city it is a hard matter to hold the men, and when new ones apply for jobs they must be put to work at once. If they are not, they will not stand for the loss of money and will be working some place else, when we have complied with the law and can hire them. It is ridiculous that a city government should be held up, jampered and embarrassed in this way."

Assistant City Attorney Herdman says he thinks, if tested, the city will be found to have the right to hire such men as it needs and put them to work immediately in the name of necessity, despite the apparent barriers in the charter. He has not yet formulated a definite opinion, however.

POPS TO MEET AUGUST THIRD

Weber Calls Committee, but Democrats Will Fix Convention by Letter.

Chairman Weber of the populist state committee has issued a call for a meeting of the committee, to be held at Lincoln August 3, to fix a time and place for holding the populist state convention.

Chairman Allen of the democratic state committee said to a reporter for The Bee that he would not call a meeting of the democratic state committee, as he had already written to members of the committee to have them express their views as to the time and place of holding the democratic state convention, thus corroborating the statement given out by Committeeman Platti. Chairman Allen expects to call the state convention in accordance with the views expressed by a majority of the members of the democratic state committee.

Evades Committing Himself on Politics, but Speaks of Candidacies of Other Republicans.

J. A. Douglas, member of the lower branch of the late legislature from Rock county, is at the Merchants enroute to Portland and the coast for a three weks' trip. Mr. Douglas will be accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Douglas, who will join him in the morning. When asked whether he would be a candidate for governor the Rock county statesman merely looked over his glasses and smiled without replying. Mr. Douglas said very little politics was being discussed in his part of the country, but from what he had heard he believed his people were favorable to the candidacy of Supreme Court Commissioner Letton for supreme judge, though a good many people favored Commissioner Ames.

ONE MAN FOR EACH ESTATE

Appraisers to Fix Values on Legacies for Inheritance Tax Will Be Named Separately.

Judge Vinsonhaler said Monday morning he probably will be ready to name the estate appraisers asked for by the county attorney's office Tuesday or Wednesday. He said that while the law does not necessarily demand it he is inclined to name a man for the appraisal of each separate estate.

"By doing this," said Judge Vinsonhaler, "the appraisals can be made quickly, the reports filed in court and the matter be brought to an early conclusion. This I believe will give more general satisfaction than to have half a dozen men make the eighteen appraisals demanded by the county attorney.

HEARINGS OUT IN THE STATE

Cattlemen Will Not Be Brought to Omaha for Arraignment in Land Fence Cases.

Earl Mathews, deputy United States marshal, is up in the neighborhood of Ogalalla this week, serving warrants on a number of cattlemen, who, it is alleged, have some government land under fence contrary to the wishes and laws of the government. It has been arranged that instead of bringing the men here to be arraigned and give bond a commissioner will go out from Grand Island at the expense of the cattlemen and preliminary matters will be settled by this commissioner.
