SAMSON HOLDS AN ELECTION
Asks Public to Help Him Decide on Name for His Fall Street Fair.
Streets of Cibola. Kraal, King's highway, Rathbone's Lane, Explains, Gridiron, Omaha.
From a total of 1,156 names the above list of ten have been selected by a committee as being the best suggested names for the movement street of the Ak-Sar-Ben fall festivities.
After Samson offered a prize of $10 to the person sending in an acceptable name for the carnival grounds he found the task of deciding on a name more onerous than he at first thought. He then had a capias issued for three newspaper reporters and gave them carte blanche to devise a scheme for the selection of a name.
Every person is entitled to one vote and will be allowed but one vote, which must be sent on a postal card to receive consideration. Voters may vote for any one name of the above list and may vote for but one name. The vote will close August 31, and from time to time the list of names will be published, with the standing of the vote. Postal cards should be addressed to Samson, P. O. box 77, Omaha. Voters may reside anywhere to be eligible to vote.
In the selection of the list of ten names the committee has no knowledge as to the identity of the contestants, as Samson numbered the 351 letters he received, copied the 1,156 names suggested and turned the names over to a committee consisting of Burke Sinclair of the World-Herald, Orville Strain of the Daily News and Ed Black of the Bee.
As soon as the vote shall have been closed the $10 prize will be awarded to the sender of the name receiving the highest popular postal card vote.
Baxter Goes Fishing.

told him that a large number of trout and other fish have been corralled and are waiting for him. He takes Mr. Hall along to prove his theories.
BUSY DAY WITH THE BOYS
Probation Officer Bernstein has Lively Saturday with Youthful Offenders.
Yesterday was a busy day for Chief Probation Officer Bernstein at the detention school. Several days ago Arnold Solomon, a 14-year-old boy who has been an inmate of the institution and sought another place of abode. Last night Mr. Bernstein found the boy out at Courtland Beach, and immediately took possession of him and returned him to the school. Later he was fessed to have broken into the grounds of H. Klansner, 1224 Vinton street, in company with a number of other boys, and stealing a quantity of canned goods, together with some pennies and candy. He has told of several other boys who were with him at the time and they will be taken into custody.
About 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon Mr. Bernstein was called to the Burlington station to take charge of a 9-year-old boy who had arrived on an afternoon train from Plattsmouth. The lad stated that some one put him on the train at Plattsmouth and left him, telling him to get off at Omaha. His name is Charley Leelan and at one time lived at Sidney, Mo. His mother died last winter, and immediately after, he says, his father gave him a room in Plattsmouth, but was unable to tell the name of the family with whom he had been living. The boy was given a hope at the detention school, indefinitely and the case will be pronounced.
These two cases, together with a number of other petty thievery which has been going on among the boys who are under "Maggie's" protecting wing, have kept the probation officer busy for a number of days.
LOCAL BREVIETIES.
The McKinley club will meet at an informal dinner at the Clubmen on Monday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are requested to be present.
