KITCHENER WINS IN FIGHT

Carries His Point in Spite of Opposition of Civil Administration.

REACHES UNDERSTANDING WITH CURZON

For First Time a Single Member Carries Through Plans Opposed by All of His Colleagues.

BIMLA, Aug. 5.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Thought there is considerable satisfaction here in India over the fact that Lord Curzon and Lord Kitchener have agreed in certain recommendations for the modification of the new scheme of army administration, and though the home government has given general approval to the arrangements which they have suggested, the newspapers of India generally condemn the orders at first passed by the secretary of state on the great question of the administration of the Indian army and there appears to be the feeling that the present movement is only the entering wedge which will make the government of India more military than civil. All the leading journals see in the orders of the secretary of state what the viceroy foresaw, the riveting on the government of India of the yoke of a military autocracy, against which, in the absence of a more or less independent military adviser, the civilian element must be powerless. Though the crisis in Indian affairs may be said to have passed with the settling together of Lord Curzon and Lord Kitchener, it is by no means certain that the trouble may not be renewed any day, since it arises from fundamental differences of points of view. Amongst the Anglo-Indian newspapers the Times of India, the Pioneer, the Englishman, the Madras Mail and the Statesman must be counted in the ranks of the opposition, and the Indian Daily Telegraph alone is quoted as taking a less decided view. Of purely Indian papers the Jam-i-Jam-shed and the Hindu condemn the original arrangements in the strongest terms. The Jaganat Panch is almost equally decided, whilst the Indian Spectator thinks that though Lord Kitchener will have a freer hand than before he need not be allowed to be a despot.

Wins Over All Opposition.

Probably for the first time in the history of India the extraordinary spectacle is witnessed of a single member of the supreme government carrying through schemes unanimously opposed by every one of his colleagues, including the viceroy and the military member of the council. Even when Lord Lytton in the exercise of his statutory prerogative the majority of his council in the matter of import duties on English cotton goods, he could claim the support of the most powerful, and perhaps the ablest, of his colleagues, Sir John Strachey. In the present case Lord Kitchener stood absolutely alone. Even where there is a tendency on the part of the Indian press to admit that he may possibly be right, it is urged openly that the decision has been arrived at not so much on the merits of the question as on considerations of the government and the commander-in-chief has resulted in the victory of the military party. As an example of the manner in which the issue of the day and its possible consequences are summed up and passed on by the Pioneer may be quoted in conclusion:

It is not for us today to attempt to estimate in detail the consequences that will follow from the issue of this notable encounter, but it may be said at once that the ground that Lord Curzon has gained by his reconstruction and extension of the council is of much less consequence than that which he has lost in this collision. It is idle to minimize this situation. The government has brought up its last reserve against the commander-in-chief's proposals, in language of the strongest conviction. It has called them subversive, unconstitutional and dangerous. Nevertheless it has been overborne, and from a defeat so decisive it is obvious that grave results must follow. Probably the army will find them very different in the long run from what in the moment of triumph it jubilantly expects.

GIVES ORDERS IN HUNGARIAN

Noncommissioned Officer Causes Trouble for Himself and Others at Vienna.

VIENNA, Aug. 5.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—A noncommissioned officer when passing his lieutenant in the Hungarian army gave the order in the Hungarian tongue to render the usual salute. The introduction of the word of command in Hungarian forms one of the chief demands of the coalition which has been in a majority since the last general election. This has always been refused on the ground that similar words of command throughout the entire Austro-Hungarian army are indispensable.

AFRICAN NATIVES ARE RISING

German Governor Reports Trouble with Aborigines.

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—The governor of East Africa telegraphed today to the Colonial Bureau of the Foreign office that the natives in the Maturbi mountains, north of Kiwa, have arisen; also that there has been an outbreak on the coast at Smanga, during which several warehouses were burned. The causes of the discontent appear to be unexplained.

While rebellions are in progress in other German African colonies, East Africa hitherto has been quiet. The outbreak, therefore, causes some concern. The government is thoroughly tired of these colonial wars, in which considerable sums of money have been sunk without bringing either profit or glory.

OUR LETTER BOX.

Death of Mrs. Charlotte K. Turner.

OMAHA, Aug. 5.—To the Editor of The Bee: The death of Mrs. Turner at her residence in this city last Tuesday night at the ripe age of nearly 81 years was as sudden as it was peaceful and painless. For her it was only a short step across the dark river. She sleeps the long sleep in a beautiful spot at Forest Lawn, by the side of her beloved son, Curtis K. Turner, whose tragic death from a snowslide at White Pass in the Klondike region in 1897 brought upon her heart and home a heavy weight of sorrow.

Not a Scottish Order.

OMAHA, Aug. 5.—To the Editor of The Bee: I very much deplore the fact that in last night's Bee the fraternal order Royal Highlanders was spoken of as a Scottish order. The "Royal Highlanders" was raised upon a rotten foundation, started by people who knew nothing of Scotland and had no connection with it, but took for their title a noble Scottish name, made up the ritual of all the best parts of Scottish history, and made it seem as much Scottish as possible. They called their lodges by names of Scottish castles (sometimes badly spelled), adopted a non-descript kind of dress in imitation of the kilts, the ancient dress of the Caledonians, and in every way tried to induce people to join by misrepresentation, if not stated, at least implied.

Is Zionism Frenzied?

OMAHA, Aug. 5.—To the Editor of The Bee: Your article, "Frenzied Zionism," in last Sunday's issue attracted my attention. The reading of it aroused and intensified old-time feelings of pity, sympathy and hope-ple for those who are so stubbornly set against the idea of divine intervention in human affairs, sympathy with those Israelites who, despite the centuries of oppression and wrong, still keep alive their faith in an ultimate destiny toward which they exhibit their steady moving. The exhibition of faith in the divine is to me sublime, and, together with the promise on which they rely, adds new strength to my own hope; that it may be in my own time I shall see their faith honored, their hope realized and the national entity of the Israel of God and of prophecy fully established, and that, too, in the dear old land of scattered Israel's desire.

Hayes Center Cereal Acreage.

HAYES CENTER, Neb., Aug. 5.—To the Editor of The Bee: I notice that in yesterday's paper, under the heading of "Acreage of Cereals for 1905," in giving the acreage of corn in Hayes county you give it as 4,227, when as a matter of fact it should be 4,123. Germanville precinct alone has 5,665 acres, nearly as much as the whole county is given credit for. Will you strong woman.

In the later days of death and sickness and sorrow in that home, her courage in supporting her own grief and that of others, and her tireless devotion to her stricken husband, would have long since shattered the strength, and terminated the life of any ordinary woman. From which it may be said with perfect truth, that in all the severe tests and trials of her long life, she was never found wanting. Wholly domestic in her tastes and life, her royal kindred was her home, however humble, and she reigned over it like a very queen. In Charlotte Kennedy Turner the simple life of the home of other days found a beautiful and inspiring example, and loss to kindred and friends and society can not be measured in words.

Refuses Collection of Antiques Said to Have Been Collected by Occult Method.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The Examiner says that Thomas Welton Stanford of Melbourne, brother of the late Senator Stanford, has offered to donate to Stanford university an almost priceless collection of antiques, which he says were collected for him from Egyptian tombs by the astral body of a blacksmith mystic, who took but twenty seconds for the round trip from Egypt to Australia. The name of the blacksmith medium or mahatma is C. Bailey, and it is said that some of the leading scientists of the world believe in his work as a commiseration with the inhabitants of the astral world, and his ability to perform seeming miracles.
