Behannon and Quick were the opposing pRobers in the first contest, and while Denyer did not get many more hits than the Champions, they bunched them so that they cashed in better, and tallies is what counts. Bohannon pitched both games for Donver, and while he did not weaken visibly in the second the Charmes lost some of the fear that they seemed to have for him and stepped into

The latte had plenty of time, but could not get a the plate for the reason that Brown, th big collegian who received during bot games for the Everetts, got his big fram in the road and would not move. Freeze who was umpiring the bases at the tim called Carter safe and the whole Denve team was up in arms, but they could no show the Butcher where he was wrong at the decision went. Hartzell hit sa and Randall scored McHale with a sing Belden was hit by Hall, which filled t bases, and Hartzell scored on the throw of Perrine's out to Welch. The decision at the plate was close and the crow thought that the Eutcher should have calle him out, but the Butcher said that he w too honest and it would have to go, even Omaha lost.

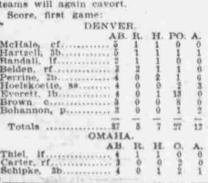

Martin hit for a double in the seven and was followed by a double to right t Eddie Lawler, who made three hits in t second game and one in the first, besid making some wonderful pickups and stop In fact, Lawler has made a sensation play in every game in which he ha staken part for the Rourke family this season.

AMERICA MODEL FOR RUSSIA

Bignificant Republication of an Article Written Years Ago by Exile.

ADVISES AN ALLIANCE WITH UNCLE SAM

It Also Says that the Western Institutions Are More Adapted to Needs of Slavs Than European.

BT. PETERSBURG, Aug. 6.-The republication here today by the Novoe Vremya of an article written in 1859 by Alexander Hertzen, the Russian author and political agitator, in which a strong plea is made for a Russo-American alliance and in which the American and European systems of government are compared, most favorably to that of America, is not without interest and is of considerable significance, particularly in view of the general political situation and the fact that Russia is today upon the point of establishing a general assembly and granting the country some sort of a constitution. The presence of the Russian peace plenipotentiaries in the United States also adds significance to the republication of the article, as likewise does the Novoe Vremya's relations with the government. The Navoe Vremya is fully aware that the relaunching today of Hertzen's ideas is acceptable to the government, and, in fact, the printing of it may be called semi-official.

Constitution for Russin.

Hertzen died in Paris January 21, 1870, fter many years of exile because of his advanced ideas, which were not acceptable the Russian government. During his exile he published in London a newspaper of liberal tendencies called Kolokol (The Bell), and in which he carried on a relentless propaganda for the constitutional-KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 6.-C. Nations Natural Allies.

"Russia having reached the Pacific," says. the article, "there stands between the two nations only the broad ocean, but naught of antiquated prejudices or envy. If Russia can free itself from St. Petersburg traditions, its best and most natural ally is the United States of America." Hertzen notes a lack of sympathy on the part of the other European nations for Russia and refers to America's kindliness to that country. He declares that American instutions fulfill all the demands of the democratic republics. He eulogizes the American constitution and electoral systern, saying that Russia should study these carefully and follow many of the features thereof. He says that the European systems of government mean war, misery and poverty and asks why Russia follows Europe. The Novoe Vremya, referring editorially to the article, says that it is worthy of the closest scrutiny.
