H., Aug. 9.-With the probability that Baron Komura will tomorrow reveal to the Russian plenipotengregated here to watch the proceedings suchor and entered Portsmouth harbor. has become decidedly pessimistic. This is due to the growing conviction that Japan's conditions will not prove as moderate as were at one time apticipated, and especially in the matter of indemnity, may preclude the possibility of their acceptance by the Russian envoys as a basis of negotiation. The firm attitude of M. Witte in private conversation against the payment of an indemnity and the insistent reports emanating from Japanese quarters that a stiff war contribution approximating the cost of the war, variously estimated at from $600,000,000 to $800,000,000. constitutes one of Japan's demands, indicates a wide if not an irreconcilable dif ference between Japan's irreducible miniimum and what Russia is prepared to ac

Upon the question of the payment of a large indemnity the instructions of the Russian pisnipotentiaries are belived to admit of ne concessions, although it is possible a certain compensation in kind might be arranged. For instance, it is suggested that for the relinquishment of the island of Sakhalin, now potentially in Japan's hands, the possession of which by Japan would give it command of the whole Siberian littoral, Russia could with propriety pay a large sum.

Forebodings May Be Premature. Gloomy forebodings, however, may be premature at this juncture, as everything indicates the plenipotentiaries upon both sides are sincerely desirous of concluding a treaty of peace. The first meeting of the plenipotentiaries today was of an entirely informal character, so informal in fact that for soldiers to act as stevedores in order Baron Komura did not bring his letter of to save this property. credentials to the Portsmouth navy yard, whereas M. Later in the afternoon copies of the credentials were formally exchanged in order that they might be examined before the meeting tomorrow.

It is known that the credentials differ alightly. In exactly what respect could not be ascertained tonight, but the Associated Press correspondent is assured by the Japanese and Russian emissaries that the difference is not essential and constitutes no obstacle to the official opening of the negotiations. Indeed the president was officially informed tonight that the credentials were full, ample and satisfactory to both

Two Sestons Each Day. It was decided today to hold two daily sessions, one in the morning beginning at 3.30 and one in the afternoon beginning at 2. To avoid delay and give the plenipotentiaries and delegates time for consultation between sessions, it has been arranged that luncheon will be served at the navy yard and that the envoys upon leaving their quarters in the morning will not return until the afternoon session adjourns. Three secretaries for each side will be in attendance to draw up the protocols of the meetings, which will be written in both English and French.

The French text, however, in case of dispute will be accepted in evidence (faire foi). The official versions of today's meeting given out by each side described it as 'satisfactory," and other accounts indicate that while everything passed off amicably, considerable reserve was displayed upon both sides. Baron Komura, whom M. Witte had met in St. Petersburg during the former's service as Japanese minister there, was pieusantly greeted by the chief Russian envoy in French, but the baron was obliged to shake his head and turn to his secretary. Mr. Honda, who explained that Baros Komura had forgotten the little French he knew while in St. Petersburg. While the Russian plenipotentiaries expect the Japaness to present the Japanese terms imme upon the official exchange of credentials tomorrow, they admit they are in the dark. Baron Komura and his col leagues decline to give any intimation of their course of procedure. Pursuing the tactics which they have constantly followed in all their diplomatic and utilitary operations, they are carefully guarding all their plans regarding the present meeting. There was some disposition today to attribute Baron Komura's forget fulness in not bringing his credentials to the meeting to a desire to spar for time, and for that reason some doubt was expressed whether the Japanese will show their bands tomorrow, but the Russians do not question Baron Komura's good faith.

Official Calls Exchanged.

This evening the amenities were observed by a general exchange of cards, M. Witte, until quite close to the land, flaron Rosen and his suite sending theirs through the hotel office, while the cards of LIGHTNING STRIKES OIL TANK the Japanese mission were left at the door members of the Russian mission by little Japanese messenger boy.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 9 .- General Linevitch, in a telegram to the emperor dated August 8, reports that the Russian forces operating to the eastward of the Mandarin road advanced August 5 towards a defile near the village of Chagon, twentyfour miles south of Taulu. The Japanese assumed the offensive and turned both flanks, compelling the Russians to retreat to the northward. The Japanese followed pursuit and again encountered part of the Russian force, which halted in the Nadoulin gorge, but after a hot fusillade they returned to the southward. The Russians in the Hailung Cheng district, the general says, occupied the village of Yulangtse, after a skirmish.

The city council having certified its levy o the County Board of Equalization, that board yesterday fixed the levy under its jurisdiction and adjourned sine die. The Board of County Commissioners then met and approved the rate.

Incidentally, as County Clerk Drexel inted out in The Bee yesterday, the Board of Equalization had adjourned before Attorney General Brown had time to pronuigate his avowed scheme of compelling by mandamus the county authorities to extend the assessment ordered by the state board against the Woodmen of the World's reserve fund of $2,000,000, so that matter was not contemplated in the figures dealt with by the county board. Just what action the attorney general can take is not known, but Mr. Drexel says the board has adjourned sine die and intimates that the whole thing is, in diplomatic language, a closed incident, at least for this year.

The one-fifth total assessed valuation of ounty rate is based, is $29,819,300 Last year this amount was $28,862,629. The city's onefifth would be $21,391,640. In the total for the county there is no change of last year's rate, but in the detail two slight changes are made: the road fund is brought up half a mill and the bridge fund lowered that much. The state rate is increased one mill, to carry out the provisions of the Sheldon act, calling for a one mill levy throughout the state, the proceeds of which are to apply toward the obliteration of the state debt. The county had no option in this matter
