Fownes Defeats Travis in the Morning and in the Afternoon He in Turn is Beaten by Sawyer. CHICAGO, Aug. 11 .- After a day of the most sensational golf ever seen in a national tournament, Champion H. Chandler Egan and D. E. Sawyer, also a Chicago man, survive to play the finals over thirty-Championship Today.

six holes at the Wheaton links tomorrow. The east for the first time since the national golf championship was instituted ten years ago, was without representation in the semi-finals this afternoon.

Champion Egan gained the right to defend his medal by going through the third semi-final rounds like a marvel, putting out Fred Herreshoff of Ekwanok, in the morning, 2 up and 1 to play, which was not quite as easy a game as he had with this young New Yorker in the national finals last year at Baltusrol. After defeating Herreshoff, Egan in the afternoon removed Harold Weber of Toledo by the crushing defeat of 7 up, 5 to play. It was left for the other side of the draw to furnish the greatest blow to the east, when W. C. Fownes, jr., of Pittsburg, eliminated former National and British Cham-pion Walter J. Travis in a hard battle that was lost only at the nineteenth hele. In the afternoon, Mr. Fownes was unable to meet successfully the great golf put up by Ned Sawyer and was defeated by 2 up. Weber, early in the day, made himself a factor by defeating E. M. Byers of Pittsburg, once notional runner-up of national tourneys while Sawyer's victory over A. L. White removed the only Boston man left and the holder of the inter-collegiste champlouship by the score of 3 up, 1 to play.

Double Victory for Hartington.
