Bureau of Statistics Makes Deeldedly Flattering Showing for This Section.

Corn receipts at the big primary markets for the first six months of 1996: Chicago, 57,425,623 bushels. Omaha, 9.957.000 hushels. St. Louis, 8,089,535 bushels Kansas City, 7,015,700 hushels.

the primary corn markets of the world. In the last year it has forged ahead of Kan-ans City, Peoria and St. Louis, the latter being its most formidable rival, next to Chicago. The Windy city now is the only one ahead of Omaha in point of corn recelpts.

For the first six months of 1904 Omaha received 4,335,000 bushels of corn, Peoria 9,988,700 bushels, St. Louis 11,727,321 bushels and Chicago 42,868,140 hushels. For the first six months of 1905 Omaha received 9,957,900 bushels of corn, going ahead of St. Louis by nearly 2,000,000 bushels and of Chicago's receipts were increased to 57, 426,623 bushels.

grain market for the first six months of the year the monthly report of the government bureau of statistics has the following to may:

Movement Steadily Increasing. "The receipts of grain at Omaha and Council Bluffs during the month of June reached a total of 1,582,000 hushels, and were, over 1,000,000 bushels larger than a corresponding movement in 1904, due principally to greatly increased inbound movement of corn, which amounted during the month to 1,065,000 hushels. Shipments of grain during June totaled 1,719,000 bushels, as against 1,450,000 bushels for a like month in 1904

ing the first half of the current year aggregated 13,997,500 bushels, and consisted of 1.120,900 bushels of wheat, 9,967,060 bushels of corn, 2,824,500 bushels of outs, 53,000 bushels of rye and 43,000 bushels of barley. A similar corresponding movement in 1904 amounted to 6,450,700 bushels, the great improvement shown in the present year's recelpts being largely due to the increase of corn arrivals, although wheat, oats and barley were received in much heavier quantities. Shipments of grain from Omaha during the first six months of the present year totaled 15,303,500 bushels, and were more than double a corresponding movement in 1904. The current year's corn output was abnormally heavy, amounting to 10,445,000 bushels."

4659-CHILD'S COAT. The little coat shown here is an attrac-tive variation of the conventional model. In design it has distinctiveness and char-acter to commend it and good taste has been exercised in the fashioning. for while it has the new sleeve and a waistcoat, it is a very simple little model after all. Almost every woman has a pique skirt of uncertain date that could be used in the making of this coat, although mohair, serge or any light weight cloth could be utilized. Sizes, 3 to 9 years.

For the accommodation of readers of The Bes these patterns, which usually retail at from 25 to 50 cents each, will be furnished at the nominal price of 10 cents. A supply is now kept at our office, so those who wish any pattern may get it either by callenclosing 10 cents, addressed "Pattern Department, Bee, Omaha."

I and the bridesmaid skipped out. The other girl is now in Denver. "I have not been home for a year and have worked around town at many placesso many I cannot remember them all." Miss Arndt says ahe remembers taking things from three places, but will not con fess to more than three, although detectives say they know there are many more than three places where the girl has pilfered articles of various values. Valuable Diamond Ring.

The most valuable article taken by Miss Arndt was a diamond ring valued at $200 and stolen from the home of M. J. Carmen, 1601 South Thirty-first street, where the girl worked as a domestic. As the ring was found on the girl at the time of her arrest at Twentieth and Leavenworth streets, Mr. Carmen is not inclined to prosecute. As for the other articles said to have been stolen by the girl, her father has ex-For Mc we offer better Men's Shirts than pressed a willingness to reimburse those

Hagen, 65 South Nineteenth Street, and Miss Tina Stecher, 1119 William street. An opal ring stolen from the Hagen residence was found on one of the girl's fingers when nisted of dresses, skirts, umbrellas and other articles. At the time of the report of these thefts the descriptions of the party suspected corresponded in each instance with that of Miss Arndt. She man aged to evade the authorities for three
